There was a rush of votes Saturday by Journal contestants eager to earn the handsome No. 1 prize. The Eastman Kodak which was offered as a special prize to the contestant securing the greatest number of votes during the past week, ending Saturday night. As the votes from many of the out of town contestants will not reach The Journal office before Monday morning, the results cannot be announced definitely before publication of Tuesday's Journal.

Good Work Done. The "higher-ups" were not invited to compete for the Kodak, competition being confined to those earnest workers whose score was less than 70,000 last Monday. Among those who have secured themselves a credit and made praiseworthy efforts to really earn the handsome and valuable prize offered was Harry A. Zehurung, of Arleta. At the time of going to press Mr. Zehurung had the Kodak won by about 10,000 votes, which is equal to two new yearly subscriptions. He was closely followed, however, by Miss Bertha L. Allen, of Salem, who has secured 87,500 votes. The Journal prizes, Miss Allen telephoned Saturday night that she was mailing her votes and the accounts of her success. She remains to be seen whether she is as good a politician and campaign manager as her father, the country clerk of Marion county.

Others have cast envious eyes and a large number of votes toward this much sought for prize, among the most earnest being Albert M. Wright, of Vancouver, Wash. Miss Wright's employers, Messrs. Blair & Dart, the well known real estate brokers of Vancouver, telephoned the Contest Department Saturday morning that they had given Miss Wright a day's release and she has already mounted on a horse and scouring the R. F. D. routes in the vicinity of her home town in behalf of the Journal. It was noted at the time that she is finally awarded to this capable and energetic little lady. Without a doubt, she has worked more intelligently or conscientiously since entering the race than Miss Wright.

Heavy Scoring Higher Up. The "big five," or more properly speaking, the "big six," for Harry A. Zehurung, has passed the century mark, having been extremely active this week, and scores have been made by the likes of Miss Elene Gilbouse, of The Dalles, has over 300,000 votes to her credit and The Journal has received a subscription to a topic of conversation in The Dalles as the Harriman-Hill fight about a way along the young lady river. Probably no other young lady entered in the contest has had more substantial backing and generous assistance than Miss Zehurung. The energy displayed by the little lady herself, render her chance of winning first prize most excellent. Washington county is maintaining its reputation for prize winners in the support of Miss Grace Reverman of Hillsboro. The residents of this county have furnished prize winners for many agricultural contests. In the past three years have furnished prize winners in The Journal's annual circulation contest, who nominated Miss Reverman, has been among the most active in assisting her representative in Hillsboro, Forest Grove, Buxton and other Washington county towns are taking keen interest in the success of their attractive school-marm. She has long wanted a piano and was prepared to purchase one. Induced to enter the contest for The Journal's prizes, if she can maintain the position she has won in the score list, she will win a fine piano. The 350 Elers piano at the close of the contest. Everything indicates, however, that she will win it. She has now, and therefore, been entitled to either the Chickering Baby Grand or the 600 Auto Piano. All of these instruments were purchased from the Elers Piano house and have been on exhibition in their showrooms since June 14.

Scorograms. Two weeks more. Make every day count. Promises are good, but you can't cash them at the bank. Many a Journal contestant will revise her calling list at the close of the contest. Those whose names do not appear in the list today may be regretted upon reaching the 15,000 mark, they have not been dropped from the race or competition, but merely sidetracked until they evidence some opposition to advance their scores. Miss Videlle Jenne, daughter of C. S. Jenne, well known as a successful business office in the Commercial building, has developed wonderful activity during the last day or two. She very much desires one of the scholarships in the Holmes Business college, and is sufficiently ambitious to want to earn it herself. If she can maintain her present standing in the score list, the scholarship will be awarded to her. Tommie Shott, of Beas Brumell of Oregon City, is playing possum. Let no one deceive himself in thinking Tommie has given up doing the 2500. He is a fine speed launch, purchased from J. M. Arthur & Co. of East Water and Front street. There will be something doing when Tommie commences to score, and Raymond Fox will have to be as cunning as his namesake, to outwit the arful Tommie. Mrs. J. F. Chilcote of Arleta has secured more than 15,000 votes. She has more than any other candidate in the race. Had these been yearly, instead of six months, Mrs. Chilcote would now have number 5 instead of 21.

Miss Grace Crerar of 1003 East Tenth street, announces that she has appointed two or three able campaign managers and intends to show other contestants how to make a winning score. If all reports are true, she could walk off with the Buck automobile if she felt disposed to devote her time and energy to it for the past two weeks. She hints mysteriously at a number of two year subscriptions that are hers for the asking. It don't take many of these to turn up, and Miss Crerar will probably be much in the limelight this coming week.

ALIBI IS PROVED FOR TSETSE FLY

Rockefeller Institute Confirms German Discovery—Insect Long Malignant.

New York, July 31.—In denying a report that an absolute cure for the sleeping sickness has been discovered by physicians in the Rockefeller institute, Dr. S. J. Meltzer, one of the experts connected with the institute, has made the announcement that the insect is not caused by the bite of the tsetse fly as has been popularly supposed.

After more than a year of experimenting during which exhaustive tests were made with mice as subjects, the specialists at the big institution at the foot of East 61st street have established that the ailment is caused by the bite of a tiny insect known as the trypanosome, and not the tsetse fly.

The "brownish powder" which it was reported had been compounded for the first time in the Rockefeller institution, is actually the discovery of Dr. Ehrlich, the famous German specialist, who announced his discovery of the serum nine months ago in Berlin.

The experiments on mice, which have been continuing at the local institution, have included the use of this cure only during the past six months. Prior to that time inoculations were made with a variety of anti-toxins, none of which had any effect.

The discovery that the widely dreaded tsetse fly is no longer to be feared as the bearer of the sleeping sickness germ was also made by Ehrlich, who could charge up against the insect the same kind of disease bearing characteristics as our own mosquito.

"The trypanosome," Dr. Meltzer explained, "is a microscopic organism in contradistinction to the plainly visible tsetse fly. But the power of size of its power of locomotion is sufficient to enable it to travel from victim to victim in the same fashion that larger winged insects do."

"In the experiments at the institute the inoculation of the mice has been done with the trypanosome and not with the tsetse fly ever since the facts in the case became known. Only tsetse fly that has picked up the sleeping sickness germ from some already infected patient can carry the disease. The trypanosome, though, has the germ intimately bound up in its own organism."

It may be said that this insect in itself is the sleeping sickness germ, and it is interesting to note that it is probably the only disease germ in existence having the power of locomotion.

"The use of the Ehrlich discovery in the test at the institute has produced highly gratifying results, although positive announcement of the value of the serum in all cases will be deferred until next winter. The cure has been continued long enough to warrant scientific deductions."

Since the sleeping sickness first made its presence felt in Uganda, in 1901, more than 200,000 natives have died of the scourge. Over virtually all the Congo Free State the malady has swept in an almost inconceivable death toll.

As many as 15 yellow jackets nests were run into in some hayfields around Liberal.

The American Federation of Labor at the British Trade Union congress.

The bakers in Brussels, Belgium, have started a movement to have night work and Sunday work prohibited by act of parliament. The Socialists, as well as the Christian Democrats, support the movement.

In the last three years covered by statistics the British coal mining union membership increased just a trifle over 40 per cent, and the textile unions did even better, by increasing their membership 44 per cent.

The organization of a new labor union, embracing the 250,000 union employees on 70,000 miles of railway, has just been completed in Chicago by the merger of 15 unions of American, Canadian and Mexican railroad men. It will be known as "The Railroad Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor" and, though affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, will be conducted as a separate governing body.
