

USED PILLOW TO STOP HER CRIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones Says Husband Was Very Cruel to Her.

Blushing prettily and with eyes flashing, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones today recited to Circuit Judge Cleland the tale of her marital difficulties with Charles Jones, to whom she was married in Salt Lake, Utah, in 1906. She charged him with cruelty.

"Once he hit me with a stick of wood, and then at the breakfast table one morning he slapped me in the face until my nose bled," she declared vehemently.

Evelyn Virginia Hunter, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jones, corrected her mother's testimony.

"He hit her with a curtain pole," averred Evelyn.

The little girl also testified that Jones had beaten her with a horsewhip. She admitted she cried, "It hurt," said Evelyn.

Mrs. Jones, who is proprietor of a rooming house at 232 Second street, was allowed $500 alimony. Jones runs a saloon at the corner of Clay and Second streets. He was restrained from in any way interfering with his former wife.

Prospective brides and bridegrooms might have been frightened by the abundance of heartrending tales told by the divorcee to Judge Cleland. Including Mrs. Jones, four were separated from unlovable mates.

Margaret Sadrianna testified that her husband, Albert Sadrianna, cursed at her terribly every day.

"How often did your husband swear at you?" she was asked.

"Oh, it was an everyday occurrence," admitted Mrs. Sadrianna, positively.

"He beat me nearly every week," she further declared.

"And one morning," she said, "when he was beating me while I was in bed he stuffed pillows in my mouth so I couldn't scream for help."

She was given a decree and granted the custody of their one child, Nellie, nine months of age.

Simple desertion was the plea on which William E. Wilson and Joseph Woollette secured divorce decrees from their respective spouses. Wilson was married to Grace L. Wilson in Kearney, Neb. in 1886. He was given the custody of their older child, Forest, 12 years of age. The Woollettes were married in 1882. She deserted her about a year ago. They have no children.

MANY PEOPLE WANT TO SEE PORTLAND

"If tourist travel in Portland can be fairly measured by the number who go sightseeing, more than three times as many people visited here in July of this year as in July of last." President B. S. Josselyn of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. said this morning.

"Returns for the month of July, 1909," he continued, "show that we carried 217 per cent more people in observation cars than in July of 1908. Until this year one observation car was enough to carry all the sightseers. This year we have found it necessary to run the cars and add one trip, the cars starting at 10 a. m., 2 and 5 p. m.

As a money making proposition, Mr. Josselyn says that observation cars are steady losers, but no other agency, he thinks is calculated to show the beauties of the city to prospective residents and tourists.

The city street car traffic for July, 1909, shows a gain of 15 per cent over July of 1908.

NOTED CARDINAL PORTLAND BOUND

Baltimore Prelate Will Visit Salt Lake and Coast Cities Soon.

Cardinal Gibbons left Baltimore yesterday to officiate at the consecration services of the new cathedral in Salt Lake City, and to visit the A.-X.-P. exposition, and it is very probable that he will include Portland in his itinerary.

After leaving Salt Lake City the cardinal will go to Los Angeles, and from there will proceed along the coast, stopping at the various cities.

Special plans are being made for the entertainment of Cardinal Gibbons at the exposition in Seattle.

While no definite announcement of Cardinal Gibbons has been received at the cathedral residence on Sixteenth street, and the exact date of his arrival is not known, it is understood that Portland Catholics are looking forward with much interest to his coming.

HOOD RIVER VOTERS LAUNCH CIVIC LEAGUE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Hood River, Or., Aug. 6.—At a mass meeting in the Commercial club rooms last night a civic improvement league was organized. The league's first efforts will be directed toward a solution of Hood River's water system problem.

The question has been up to the voters five times, and each time they have voted not to bring a competitive system into the city.

LAD OF THIRTEEN TAKES FARMER'S NAG

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Colfax, Wash., Aug. 6.—It now develops that instead of being the homeless orphan that he represented himself to be when picked up by William McNelly, a farmer living south of Colfax, last Sunday evening, Willie Peterson, as he calls himself, is Willie Busbey, the 13-year-old son of Mrs. Frank Busbey, who lives five miles south of Albion. The boy will probably be sent to the reform school on a charge of having stolen a horse from A. J. Dressler, a neighbor of the Busbeys.

Monday morning McNelly brought the boy to the sheriff's office, and stated that he had come to his place the night before and asked to stay all night, telling him that he was an orphan whose parents had both died in a ton, Idaho, two years ago, and that until recently he had been living with a family there that had treated him so cruelly he had run away.

Saturday Dressler filed complaint with the sheriff against Willie Busbey, charging him with having stolen a horse. Deputy Sheriff Rotan went to the Busbey farm to see if he could get a description of the missing boy and notice the striking resemblance between one of the little girls and "Willie Peterson." The lad finally admitted to the sheriff that he was the Busbey boy, and said that his 12-year-old brother had beaten him so brutally and had otherwise so abused him that he had decided to run away. He said he would go to the reform school rather than return home.

WANT POSSESSION OF MEMORIAL HOME

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Pacific Grove, Cal., Aug. 5.—Heirs of Miss Margaret Tennant have brought suit in the superior court of Salinas county to obtain possession of the John Tennant memorial home, which was built 13 years ago by Miss Tennant in memory of her deceased brother. The deed to the home is held by the trustee appointed by Miss Tennant. They are: Right Rev. William Ford Nicholas, bishop in this Episcopal diocese and president of the corporation controlling the home; F. W. Tennant, the administrator of the estate, James and E. W. Tennant, Fannie McEneaney and Divado McDaniel. Carrie Tennant and a number of other heirs are named as complainants in the suit for the $15,000 mansion.

MRS. VANORS DALL STILL EDITOR

Women of Woodcraft Hold Grand Circle Session to Hear Reports.

At the resumed session of the Women of Woodcraft this morning, reports of various committees were heard and certain resolutions of delegates were read. The report of the San Francisco relief fund committee showed that $2219 were invested in bonds, leaving a balance of $1616, which was recommended to be used to form a nucleus for a permanent relief fund.

The committee on the official paper heartily endorsed the work of the editor, Mrs. Van Orsdall, and recommended that she be renamed for the following term. Other committees which rendered reports were the resolutions, good of order, distribution, and receipts and disbursements committees.

Tomorrow morning and continuing throughout the day, the competition drill for cash prizes will be held. Seventeen teams from nine different states will participate in the drill.

WEALTHY FARMER DEAD ON STREET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Andrew Anderson, a wealthy farmer of Post Hills, Wash., 15 miles northeast of Spokane, was found dead on the street in the Italian colony here this morning. A gash across the head shows the method of death, while all Anderson's money was gone. The police suspect murder. Emil Johnson and wife who lived with Anderson on his farm last month are under arrest.

SHERIDAN DRUG STORE ROBBED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Sheridan, Or., Aug. 6.—Hans Brothers' drug store was entered by amateur burglars yesterday and $100 worth of jewelry, pipes, toilet articles and phonographs taken therefrom. Entrance was gained by means of a skeleton key to the back door. Bloodhounds were brought here from Portland to trace the thieves last evening. After several ineffectual attempts to secure the trail the search with the hounds was abandoned.

This is the third burglary that has occurred here in the past three weeks, with no arrests forthcoming. The work in the cases was very crude and indicated unprofessional training.

ALBANY STATE BANK WILL OPEN TUESDAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Aug. 5.—The Albany State bank will open for business Tuesday, August 9. The officers are William Bain, president; F. D. Gilbert, vice president; H. N. Bouley, cashier. The bank will carry on a savings department as well as transact a general banking business.

The new home of the bank is receiving the finishing touches and will be completed the latter part of this week. The lower floor will be occupied also by the Albany Commercial club and the Curtis real estate firm.

ANNOYING DELAYS ON SCHOOL BUILDING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Aug. 6.—School Director F. M. Brown of Brownville was in town yesterday conferring with County School Superintendent Jackson over the unusual situation of the school district. The situation is incorporated for $50,000 on account of the red tape which has to be gone through, the district will not be able to erect the new eight-room building for the fall term. A number of rooms throughout town will have to serve for school purposes until the building is completed, which will be about the first of January. The old school building was destroyed by fire about a month ago.

No More Bodies Found.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Visalia, Cal., Aug. 5.—Workmen clearing the debris caused by the collapse of the Visalia Milling company's warehouse Tuesday, when a Mexican was crushed to death, and M. H. Rowley was injured, have not found any additional bodies under the thousands of sacks which the fast term is believed to have piled high on the ground. However, it is believed there are more bodies under the sacks. It is estimated that it will take two more weeks to move all the wheat.

CITIZENS WANT MANY NEW PARKS

Delegations Make Early Morning Call on Mayor and Present Claims.

Delegations of citizens from half a dozen east side improvement clubs stormed the city hall this morning and implored Mayor Simon and the park board to buy parks in many sections. The largest representation present was from the East Side Improvement association which they think this is held varies in the opinion of different business men at from $25,000 to $35,000. At the latter figure the four blocks available would cost the city within $10,000 of what the original 13 acres was formerly offered for.

But cost what it may, it seems to be the unanimous sentiment of the central east side that the property should be secured. Among the speakers who earnestly urged immediate action on the part of the park board were the purchase of the tract were Rev. J. H. Black, Rev. E. Nelson Allen, former park commissioner, Rufus Malloy and E. Bishop. Present with the delegation were Councilmen Beiding and Ruslight, C. H. Bigelow, president of the East Side Business Men's association and many other influential representatives citizens from across the river.

Attention was called to the absolute necessity of a breathing spot in the heart of what with its no distant date be a great center of population and the speakers declared that the property will have to be secured eventually if not at once. If the purchase is delayed, they said, the taxpayers will find it costly, for realty prices are constantly increasing.

Mayor Simon heard all who wished to say anything on the subject and then promised an early consideration of the requests made.

A completely equipped first aid hospital will be added to every passenger train operated in Prussia and Hesse by the government.
