Mount Scott District Wants Water.—Now that the Mount Scott district has been officially declared a part of the city by action of the city council at the meeting of July 28, the residents of that suburb are quite active in the matter of securing relief from the existing water famine. Petitions have been filed asking that at least a main be laid, so as to connect with the private systems, as a matter of temporary relief. The Mount Scott Improvement club will hold a special meeting at Laurelwood hall Monday evening, August 9, to discuss the situation and all residents of the Mount Scott district are requested to attend.

Forgets to Take Gold.—A holdup man who entered the saloon conducted by John Meister at 720 Powell street early this morning overlooked a bag full of gold in his hurry to get away with a small sack full of silver coin containing $35. He also got $5 from the till. The holdup was committed by a young man, masked, and wearing dark clothes. It happened so quickly that the saloon man hardly realized what was going on until the robber disappeared through the front door. Officer White was called and the police are now working on a clue.

Stolte Funeral Held.—The funeral of the late Edward H. Stolte was held at the family residence, 275 Williams avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon and was followed by the cremation of the remains at the Portland crematorium. The service was read by the Rev. T. L. Eliot, of the Unitarian church. The following old time friends of the deceased acted as pallbearers: Joseph Buchtel, who was a partner of Mr. Stolte in the photograph business in the pioneer days of Portland; Jacob Haas, W. A. Gordon, W. R. Barnard, L. W. Moody, and Alfred Anderson.

Rev. Mr. Porter to Preach.—At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning Rev. Charles H. Porter will preach the initial sermon of a series on "The Dangers Threatening Our Present Day Christianity." Mr. Porter is a member of the Columbia River conference, who has recently gone into special evangelistic work.

The Montavilla Rose association will meet Monday evening, August 9, at the gymnasium. Rev. H. Fitzpatrick of the Church of the Ascension will give an address, followed by H. Freeborough. The topic of the evening will be "Roses." There will be an open discussion after the addresses, in which all will be invited to take part. Light refreshments will be served. Every resident of Montavilla is requested to attend this meeting.

Oppose City Barn.—At a large gathering of the members of the Seventh ward Thursday evening a unanimous resolution was passed to oppose the erection of a city barn at Brooklyn, near Milwaukie and Powell streets. The people will have recourse to injunction rather than allow such a nuisance in the center of a business and residence district.

Axle Breaks on Car.—The breaking of an axle on car No. 64 last night delayed traffic to the Oaks considerably. The occupants on the car escaped injury, as the car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed. Cars on the Oregon City and Cazadero lines were diverted by way of Sellwood for the balance of the evening.

Funeral Sunday.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Bondurant, wife of the late Rev. G. W. Bondurant, will be conducted from the First Free Methodist church, 333 East Ninth street, Sunday, August 8, at 11 a. m., by the pastor, D. M. Cathey.

WISDOM ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Well Known Man Will Retire to Farm Life to Regain Health.

One of the most peculiar cases that has even come before local physicians is that of M. D. Wisdom, editor of the Rural Spirit and secretary of the Salem, Portland and Oregon A.-Y.-P. fair commission, who has been ill for some time past. He is now well on the road to recovery after an illness which several times threatened to end his life.

Mr. Wisdom was afflicted with enlargement of the heart and kidneys some time ago and several doctors who examined him in Seattle despaired of ever saving his life. Under careful nursing, however, it is now thought that he will recover his health. The enlargement of the heart has entirely disappeared and that organ is its normal size again. Specialists who examined him are amazed at his recovery, as it is but seldom that a sufferer from enlargement of the heart ever recovers.

While Mr. Wisdom will recover his health in all probability he will never be able to take up the work in which he had for so many years engaged. He is already laying plans to sell his home and buy a small ranch in the country and retire permanently from all business. The doctors expect him to live many years should he not be troubled with any of the worries which formerly attached to his work.

The task of managing the state fair at Salem, the racing meet and stock show here, being secretary of the Oregon A.-Y.-P. commission and of editing the Rural Spirit magazine proved too much for the man and he was forced finally to quit only when illness overtook him. He has become reconciled now to the fact that he must quit working so hard and has decided to go out in the country and raise chickens.

It is said that he has been boasting about having obtained options on certain properties in the south end, where would be established houses for immoral purposes. Hansen is out on $100 bail.

Forfeits Bail.—Arthur Hyronius, arrested for fast driving over a street crossing, forfeited his bail this morning in the police court. In view of the numerous accidents that have occurred as a result of careless driving in the city of late, the police will strictly enforce the law in this respect in the future, and the violators will be shown no leniency from Judge Bennett.

Lottery Is Found.—Police Sergeant Parker and Patrolman Barzee this morning found a Chinese store at the corner of Third and Flanders streets doing a big business in lottery tickets, five companies being represented. The Chinese store owner and three visitors were arrested, and a big bunch of tickets was taken for evidence.

Sentence Suspended.—Mrs. Edna Butler, arrested yesterday afternoon for shoplifting in the Meier & Frank store, was sentenced to 90 days by Municipal Judge Bennett this morning, but sentence was suspended, since it was the woman's first offense and under extenuating circumstances.

Concert by Peninsula Band.—The Peninsula band will give a concert tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Columbia park. The following Sunday one will be given at Peninsula park, formerly known as Smith park at the same time. All residents of the section are invited to attend.

BRAKE HANDLE WAS CAUSE OF INJURY

Mrs. S. A. Johnson has brought a damage suit against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for $5042 for personal injuries.

The plaintiff alleges in her complaint that while attempting to board a streetcar at the corner of Morrison and Second streets, she was struck and thrown down by the brake handle, which the motorman suddenly released. She asserts she was permanently injured and has been unable to follow her trade, shirt making, for some time. The accident occurred May 2, 1909. Gammans & Malarkey are attorneys for the woman.

MRS. LUTKE HAS BAD ACCIDENT

Well Known Woman Is Thrown From Automobile and Seriously Injured.

Mrs. Robert Lutke.

Mrs. Robert Lutke, prominent as a society leader and ex-president of the Portland Woman's club, was thrown from a swiftly moving touring car on the Base Line road, Thursday night, sustaining numerous bruises, a broken wrist and ribs and possible internal injuries. Other occupants of the machine were unhurt.

It was on the road east of the city and at a point near the top of the long hill which leads up to Mount Tabor, proper, where a sharp curve leads into the Base Line road, the two left wheels of the machine collapsed like paper, bringing the machine to an abrupt stop and throwing Mrs. Lutke and the other occupants of the machine out.

Mrs. Lutke did not rise after striking the ground and when the others got to her it was found she was seriously hurt. She was placed in an automobile and hurried to her home, at 301 Twenty-fourth street, where medical aid was obtained.

The machine was driven by Julius Bailey, buyer for the Lutke Manufacturing company, of which Robert Lutke is manager. Other occupants of the car were Miss Josephine Boeddener, a guest of Mrs. Lutke, and who was seated in the tonneau with Mrs. Lutke, and Mrs. Bailey, who was seated in front with her husband. None of the others were injured, except for a few bruises, and were able to render assistance to Mrs. Lutke at once. A passing automobile was hailed and Mrs. Lutke carried to her home, where Dr. E. H. Parker was called.

Investigation revealed that she was a sufferer from a broken wrist, possibly two broken ribs and severe bruises. Internal injuries are a bare possibility, which may hinder her immediate recovery, but it is thought she will be up and about in a few weeks.

THE STRANGER WITHIN OUR GATES

"San Francisco's festival in October will outrival any old celebration that has ever been pulled off in California," said Carl G. Maynard at the Belvedere today. San Francisco never does anything by halves. We claim to have furnished the greatest earthquake and fire that has ever taken place on the American continent, and so it will be with our rehabilitation celebration. It will be the best ever."

"Fire losses in the state of Oregon have been extremely light during the past seven months," said B. L. Barry, secretary of the O. M. F. A. A. of Dayton, Or., at the Belvedere today. "The national association of mutual insurance solicitors will convene in Portland on August 17, when mutual insurance men from all over the United States will visit Oregon for the first time."

D. O. Childhood, Byrne, Ala.—"I have discovered a cure for stomach trouble. It's this: Eat onions. Onions cured me after a dozen doctors failed. And this is not a patent medicine testimonial, nor have I any onions to sell. But if you want to be healthy, eat plenty of onions."

C. A. Triplett, Glenwood Springs, Colo.—"On strawberry day at Glenwood Springs we endeavor to secure the finest berries obtainable, so long as they are grown in Colorado, but I have yet to see any as fine as those raised in the Hood River valley, Oregon. I was here in the spring and I took a box back with me. I was afraid to tell them I got them in Oregon, though."

"It will probably surprise no one to hear that the laundry business, next to the coal and iron, is the greatest in Pittsburg," said G. O. Braithwaite, Pittsburg, Pa., at the Oregon this morning. "There is coal dust everywhere and our clothing becomes saturated with grime very quickly, so that it is necessary to change oftener there than anywhere on earth, I will venture to say. A white shirt has no place there at all."

E. A. Eckley, Moraine, Colo.—"The country is becoming more prosperous. This can be verified by observing the tourist traffic, which is really immense this season. And now that the tariff question is settled everything will show a prosperous and thriving condition."

HE EATS SNAILS, BUT IS NOT SLOW

John Kilgow Tells Wonderful Yarn and Then Departs on Travels.

John Kilgow, a youth of 19, hailing from Auburn, Wash., was arrested at an early hour this morning on a vagrancy chage, after having been caught sleeping in a grocery wagon on the east side. He was ordered out of town and promised not to return for a year.

Yesterday Kilgow was brought into the police station on suspicion of plying the holdup game here, but was released after having spun a long yarn of being a farmer's son with not a penny in his pockets, but $1500 stowed away in his trunk in the home of a friend named "Bob." He also said he was owner of a 15 acre tract of land near here, which was worth at least $100 an acre.

"I have the money in my trunk and you can come over and take a look at it," the young fellow boldly told Detective Tichenor, "but I never carry money on my person. I am looking for experience, for they say experience is the best teacher."

He made no mention of his riches in court this morning and was glad to have the chance to travel.

According to the complaining witness, a grocer named Olsner, Kilgow had lived on snails from the store and cream from his back porch upon several occasions, when using the wagon for his lodgings. In cross examining the complainant, Kilgow displayed perfect familiarity with the surroundings, even to the extent of knowing how many snails were left each morning for the delivery man and where the cream was kept. This proved the straw that broke the camel's back.

Louis Burke also arrested on the vagrancy charge, also promised to leave town before sundown.

TICKLED HIS HORSE SO HE PAID FINE TO CITY

"I would be perfectly willing to have the horse testify, could he talk," said H. Meissner, an express wagon driver, this morning, when cross-examined in the municipal court by Deputy City Attorney F. S. Grant. The driver had insisted that he only tickled the horse, whereas the complaining witness, W. P. Adams, emphatically declared that he had unmercifully belabored him with a heavy whip.

"There were no marks on the horse," the defendant went on, in trying to offer extenuating circumstances, "and I wish he could come up here and tell just how it happened. I wouldn't be afraid to hear what he would have to say."

The court evidently believed that if the horse had not been beaten he had at all events been nearly tickled to death, and so imposed a fine of $10. The fine was continued, however, upon request of the complaining witness, who said he was mercifully inclined, and did not wish to work a hardship on the boy, but thought he might profit from the lesson in the future.

The beating took place yesterday afternoon on Salmon street between First and Second, and would probably have continued for some time had not Mr. Adams called a halt.

For doing so he himself was threatened with a beating, but this was denied by the defendant on the stand this morning.

In his own behalf Meissner testified that he had talked very kindly to the horse when he refused to budge the wagon, but that the horse simply shook his head in defiance. Then he tickled him with the whip.

WESTMORELAND

John W. Gates says: "I left tooth marks in every one of the first thousand dollars I earned."

And isn't this so with the most of us? The first thousand comes the hardest. It's the start that is needed. Make up your mind to get a million, and you'll get a share of it at least—the work and worry usually goes with the first thousand.

An investment at WESTMORELAND will help you dodge most of the worry and all of the work in getting your start.

Do it now—today—don't put it off. Let the future prosperity and progress of Portland help you—it will, it's bound to.

FRANCIS HENEY PASSES THROUGH

Goes to Central Oregon for a Hunting Trip—Seattle Next.

Francis J. Heney arrived in Portland from Seattle last night. He left early this morning for Huntington, from which place he proposes to penetrate central Oregon on a long planned hunting trip.

Mr. Heney did not arrive in Portland until 11 o'clock. His coming was unexpected. While here he did not communicate with any of the federal authorities, and the only indication of his plans was contained in a telegram addressed to his wife at St. Michaels, Alaska, in which he said that he would meet her in Seattle in a few days. He was a guest last night at the Hotel Portland.

FARMER'S RESIDENCE BURNS; LOSS $3500

Chehalis, Wash., Aug. 7.—The residence of Frank Von der Heyden, a farmer living east of town, was burned to the ground with almost all the contents yesterday. The loss will reach about $3500. Mr. Von der Heyden had $1300 insurance on the house and $500 on the contents. The fire started in the upstairs, and before it was discovered had made such headway that the family was unable to check the flames. The hook and ladder boys went out from Chehalis to the farm, a mile and a half in the country, but arrived too late to do very much good excepting to save some of the furniture. Mr. Von der Heyden is rural carrier on route 3 out of Chehalis.

are very rarely feared by those who keep their system in perfect condition. This is easily done by using as a medicine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Heart Trouble

Mr. Fred Bennett of West Carthage, N. Y., writes: "I thought I would write and give you my opinion of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I have used liquor for the past 50 years, but not to excess. When in the English army, during the Crimean War, we were allowed three gills per day, and I know it was the means of saving thousands of men's lives during the winter of 1854-5. I came to this country in 1857 and went to work on a farm until 1863. Up till this time I had never seen a sick day, but after serving through the War of the Rebellion I had not been free from heart trouble.

"I have had a great many different doctors, but all to no purpose. Then I commenced using the different brands of whiskey, from which I received little or no benefit. When I read of your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I commenced using it about ten years ago. I don't have any more heart trouble, and for a man 70 years old I feel quite active."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal as a tonic stimulant and builder of new blood and tissue. It tones up the heart's action, soothes the nerves and keeps the body healthy and strong. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, producing a liquid food requiring no digestion in the form of a pharmaceutical whiskey, which is one of the most effective tonic stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

If weak and run down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold everywhere by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped on order for $1.00 a bottle.

Our consulting Physician will send to every reader of The Journal, advice and an interesting illustrated medical booklet free of charge. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y.
