They are off for the last stretch of the race. A week from today it will be all over except the shouting. Interest is keyed to a high pitch and contestants and friends alike are discussing the one subject—the probable results of the race. To the victor the spoils. The Journal hopes the best one wins, but with so valuable an array of prizes, to be awarded, assurance is given that every one will win whose services have really been of value to the Journal. The first three prizes in the list total in value $3000, the first five prizes reach the total of $4000 and the first eight prizes have a combined value of $6500. It takes but very little figuring to see that it will well pay anyone to finish above eighth place.

Lively Scramble for Special Prizes.

The generous offer made by The Journal in providing a $25 cash prize to be used for a trip to the A.-Y.-F. exposition at Seattle has aroused keen competition among the contestants who are anxious to compete for it. Miss Grace Crerar leads the procession of those who would like to see the Seattle fair at The Journal. The "Breakers" appeals to Miss Maude Paul as equally desirable a prize as the $25 cash prize. She stands in line for the week at the beach and the trip would undoubtedly be most acceptable after her strenuous work in behalf of The Journal. Miss Nellie Shannon, 568 Tenth street, the roller chair invalid, has a firm grasp upon the third prize at the time of going to press.

A queen for a day. Miss Maude Paul's queenly reign was a short one. Miss Pearl Barde by a gain of 64,100 votes regained the throne and is again leader of the race for the big Buick automobile with a score of 423,400 votes, which will be difficult to pass. Miss Paul, however, has able campaign managers and is out for first place which she might regain if the score would remain open until 6 p. m. as usual.

Rivalry between the leaders may be kept today, but next week promises new sensations when Miss Eileen Gilhouseen will have returned from 10 days' rest camping on the Little White Salmon, and prepared to wage a hot campaign during the remainder of the week for the coveted honors as well as the prize that accompanies first place at the close of the contest.

Scorograms.

A week from today contestants can afford to go picknicking. Next Sunday will be too late to think of those subscriptions you might have secured.

Announcement of the winners will be made as soon as possible after the count is verified by the jury of awards. Place no credence in idle rumors or so-called "tips" on the race; no one has any and there is no way to get them. The last score will be published showing the standing of the candidates up to close of business at 5 o'clock Friday night. After that no information relative to the position of rival contestants will be furnished by anyone connected with The Journal.

Thomas Sinnot, Oregon City's representative in the race registered a score of 61,000 but failed to advance in the score list.

Alfred Mangold of 634 Gantenbein avenue, secured a new subscription for one year and the 500 votes raised him four numbers in the score list. His new stands number 32. Forty thousand votes, which is equivalent to eight new yearly subscriptions, would put him in the lead for the $300.00 Buick Speed Launch purchased from J. M. Arthur & Co. of East Water and Taylor streets. It should be an easy matter for Alfred Mangold to raise eight new subscriptions with his family's extensive acquaintance in Portland.

At the time of writing this article, 2:00 p. m. Saturday, telephone calls were numerous from various contestants who wished to have their votes included in Sunday's score but were too busy to reach The Journal office before 4:00 p. m. Their votes will be included in Monday's score instead of appearing today.

FOSSIL FIND IS A WONDER

Asphalt Beds Produce Fossilized Peacock, First Found on Continent.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berkley, Cal., Aug. 7.—The asphalt beds on the Rancho La Brea have just produced another wonder to the scientific world, in the shape of a fossilized peacock. The fossil is the first of its kind discovered on the American continent.

Much interest in the discovery is being taken at the university, where Professor Merriam has announced the finding of a specimen of the peacock. The fossil is a complete skeleton of a peacock, and is the first of its kind discovered on the American continent. The peacock was found in the asphalt beds, which are known for their fossiliferous contents. WHOLESALE LOOK TOWARD KLAMATH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Aug. 7.—This city's position as a distributing center is attracting the attention of wholesalers of Portland, as well as those of Sacramento and San Francisco. It is said that plans are under way for the establishment of a large wholesale grocery concern in this city. From reliable sources it is learned that within the next six months at least four wholesale houses of the three commercial centers—Portland, Sacramento and San Francisco—will have branch houses in Klamath Falls.

ARTILLERY BATTERY AT FIELD PRACTICE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The camp consists of 16 men and their officers. It is located on the Necanicum river near the old Holladay house. When the artillery practice begins the field guns will be taken onto the beach in front of the Boardwalk and fired at Tillamook Head. Officers in command are Captain H. L. Welch, First Lieutenant Leo M. Clark, Frank I. Randall, Second Lieutenants John P. Krupke, George B. Otterstedt, First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Robert E. L. Holt.

Land Values Increase Rapidly.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Colfax, Wash., Aug. 7.—According to letters received by Dr. Baileys from friends in White Salmon, Wash. land values have more than doubled in that section of the state since the completion of the Portland, Spokane & Seattle railway. A quarter section of land purchased a few months ago for $50 per acre now has a standing offer of $150 per acre for.

IRRIGATION DITCH HAS MURDER TALE

Body of Collector Found by Dog; Shows Evidence of Bold Robbery.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Reno, Nev., Aug. 7.—Shot in the back, his head beaten into unrecognizable pulp with a stone after which his body was thrown into an irrigation ditch and weighted down with a heavy stone, was the fate of R. J. Little, a collector for a San Francisco collection agency here some time last night. His body was discovered today by a woman who was attracted to the spot by the barking of her pet terrier. She notified the authorities and the submerged body was taken from the water and placed in the morgue. No trace of the murderer can be found.

It is believed that robbery was not the sole motive for the atrocious crime. The pockets of the dead man had been thoroughly searched and it is the theory of the police that the murderer was seeking some papers as well as money when he killed Little.

PIONEER OF '49 IS 95 YEARS OLD

Roseburg, Or., Aug. 7.—O. W. Akers, probably the oldest resident of Douglas county, celebrated his 95th birthday in Roseburg Sunday, August 1. That he has a remarkably steady nerve for one so old is attested by the fact that Mr. Akers still shaves himself without trouble. He walks about town almost daily, giving personal attention to his affairs, and reads the newspapers regularly. Mr. Akers is a native of Kentucky. He was a steamboat pilot on the Mississippi river during antebellum days, and in 1849 crossed the plains with an ox team, settling in Oregon.

Incorporated Under State Laws, With a Reputation That Is a Protection to Its Many Patients

Practice Limited to the Cure of Men's Diseases, Such as Hydrocele, Blood and Diseases of the Nervous and Delicate Centers

Health, Snap and Vitality

If you want a real, prompt, perfect and reliable cure without pain or confinement to your room, it is not about time to commence looking for it. The longest and most plain fact side of it is: If I could be paid one half the money that is spent on these fake electrical appliances, that positively never cure, a single well developed case in a hundred years, I would be willing to treat and cure every case of Varicose Veins in the state free.

Prejudice from one cause or another prevents many men from doing their duty toward themselves in this respect. Prejudice is an unreasonable and a stout enemy to overcome, but it must be overcome. It will overcome them and blind them to great benefits in many ways. Pushing them from neglect of duty sometimes comes slowly, but it comes as a result of a selfish neglect brings woe and regret.

lution is promptly reestablished and the patient restored to a condition of

Sensible Practical Way

To cure this ailment, and it is the best, safest and most successful, does not involve a single objectionable feature. No going to bed, no pain, no chloroform and positively no bad results. The patient can resume any kind of hard work after seven to eight days, and is not required to even stay in his room during this time. The organs are completely relieved of tax, normal circulation is restored.

Men's Disorders and None Other

My specialty, besides being limited to men only, is confined to less than a dozen ailments. But of each ailment I have handled many thousands of cases. My reputation has been built upon my ability to cure those that others could not cure. Inasmuch as I do not accept for treatment any case that I am not absolutely positive can be given a perfect and permanent cure, I am able to offer my services on a basis that no other specialist can.

Man's Manhood Dethroned

In early youth, just when manhood is reached, at the age boyhood is changing to manhood, ignorance and folly have done their fatal work. It is here the nervous system is weakened and the mind loses its power to resist temptation, it is here manhood is dethroned.

Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases

The functions of these organs are the most important of the body, and the derangement or obstruction of them is fraught with the most disastrous consequences. It is of the highest importance that whenever there is reason to suspect that the kidneys, bladder or prostate are out of order, a diagnosis of a searching and scientific character should be made. Too often these examinations are superficial, hasty and made with inadequate testing methods, and the consequence is that the patient is frequently lulled into a feeling of safety, to realize when too late that he is in the clutches of a deadly disease. If you have any of the symptoms of disease of the kidneys, bladder or prostate, such as pain in the back, difficult or frequent urination, burning or stinging, dull aching or throbbing sensation in the bladder, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, tired feeling, cold hands and feet, puffiness of the eyes and face, swollen ankles, difficult breathing, palpitation of the heart, come before it is too late.

My study and extensive practice in the treatment of all forms of kidney, bladder and all urinary troubles have convinced me of the extent that I have attained
