

WOULD RELIEVE CAR SHORTAGE

Harriman Lines Offer Their Agents Prizes for Quick Dispatch.

General Superintendent Buckley of the Harriman lines in Oregon is working on a plan for quick moving and careful loading of freight equipment which will, it is believed, go further toward relieving any shortage of cars during the grain shipping season than anything that has heretofore been tried. It really amounts to a sharing of profits with employees and is a system of prizes ranging from $75 to $15 for quick loading.

The system is being placed in effect on the Union Pacific lines in the middle west and is meeting with great success it is said. Under the rules the station agent who gets the most cars out in a month, fully loaded and ready at their destination in good condition, receives a cash prize, the amount varying with the number of cars a station usually sends out. For instance a man in charge where 150 cars or more are usually loaded will get $75; where from 150 to 250 are loaded, $50; where from 75 to 150 cars, $25; from 25 to 50 cars, $15; and less than 25 cars, $10.

PIONEERS MEET IN ANNUAL REUNION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ashland, Or., Aug. 27.—The Pioneer society of southern Oregon held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in this city, the attendance being very large. Fully 200 pioneers and their families partook of the banquet spread in the new G. A. R. hall.

Honorable E. F. Mulkey delivered the principal address and was followed by Irving T. Vining, formerly of Ashland, but now of New York City, who spoke briefly. Honorable C. B. Watson read a most interesting paper on the passing of Ashland's pioneer flour mill recently razed to the ground to make room for park improvements. Altogether, the meeting was one of the most successful and most enjoyable ever held by the society.

WHEAT SALES MADE AT 79 CENTS

Dayton, Wash., Aug. 27.—Two of the largest grain sales made since harvest closed were reported at Watsburg yesterday. Robert Hayden sold 7000 bushels of wheat and 3000 bushels of barley at 79 cents per bushel and $22.50 per ton to the Preston Parton Milling company. John Blise sold 7000 bushels of turkey red wheat to Corbett Bros. of Huntsville at the same figures.

Although the grain market here is still quiet there is a growing restlessness among farmers and it is likely several large sales will be made within a few days. For the first time farmers are not compelled to sell on account of financial conditions. Most of the ranchers have sufficient cash on hand to tide them over a year or two.

PRESIDENT WILL TALK TO PUBLIC KILLS HIMSELF WHILE CAMPING

Cancels Senator Bourne's
Invitation to Play
Golf.

Senator Bourne will have to forego that game of golf with his excellency, the president of the United States, for the head of the nation has called off his prior engagement in favor of the general public, whom he will address at the armory on the afternoon of Saturday, October 2. A telegram from Fred W. Carpenter, private secretary of the president, was received by Mayor Simon in answer to the mayor's telegram requesting Mr. Taft to talk instead of golf. The message stated that the president would yield to the wishes of the people and address them.

In the evening of the same day he will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given at the Portland hotel. Covers will be laid for 350. After the president's arrival at 7 a. m. Saturday morning he will be met at the union depot by a special committee and military guard, who will escort him to the Portland hotel where he will breakfast. The morning will be devoted to a motor trip about the city, and the president will lunch at the hotel. He will not attend divine service at any church Sunday, but will lay the cornerstone of the new Universalist church in the morning and will deliver an address to the public, who are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies.

As to entertaining the president, it is a task more complicated than appears on a banqueted, handshaking exterior. Many may disagree as to whether the president should be entertained by a club or discourse to the people on whether or not he likes the way the tariff has been handled, but the responsibility carries a greater aspect to the hotel manager who has to assure all the intricate details of entertainment that make for satisfaction.

Hotel Man Puzzled.

"I've just been wondering whether we would be asked to care for President Taft with the same formality that was shown when Roosevelt was here," said H. C. Bowers, manager of the Portland, in a speculative manner this morning. "I remember distinctly," he continued, "the trouble that President Roosevelt's visit made for us. And (laughing) the honor of entertaining the president was a responsibility we were not to have. He had to guard every entrance to the hotel. Our guests and our employees were furnished with cash on the balcony. No one was able to get in. Plain clothes men, three of them, constantly attended the president. He was unable to get without them following at his heels."

"The president was taken first to the banquet hall. His three protectors trailed along. Where he sat the window curtains were pinned together, so that he could not be seen from the street. No less than 1000 people gathered out in the streets, and presently they began clamoring for the president to come out and speak to them. I went to the secret."

"Those folks aren't going to be satisfied without hearing word from Mr. Roosevelt," I said. Well go and tell him so," was the answer I received. So I told the president that the people wanted to hear from him, and he rose from the table immediately, and went with me to the balcony on the east side of the hotel. Going down the corridor he turned to me and exclaimed, "This is all a damned nuisance."

"Of course I was supposed to look very grave in the presence of the chief, but I was unable to repress a smile. Then Roosevelt went out on the balcony, all smiles, and talked to the people—made them a fine talk, rather long, too. When he came back to the banquet hall many had not missed him, others did not know where he had gone, but the people were satisfied."

To Move Depot.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
La Grande, Or., Aug. 27.—Contracts have been let by the O. R. & N. at this place to move the depot back from the main line a distance of 50 feet. It now stands 20 feet from the track. The contract also calls for the construction of a cement platform in front of the building. It is thought by those in touch with railroad affairs here that this is as close as La Grande will get to the new depot promised them next summer.

Tragic End.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ione, Or., Aug. 27.—Louis Kinney of Heppner committed suicide by shooting himself in the head while on an outing in the mountains near by, where he was stopping with his family. The cause was domestic troubles. He leaves a wife and two stepchildren. The body was taken to Heppner yesterday by the coroner and an inquest is being held.

Mr. Kinney was city engineer of the Ione water and light plant last year and has many friends here.

BUD BARNES DOES NOT MIND NOOSE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 27.—Bud Barnes, when told yesterday by a fellow prisoner that he must hang for the murder of Mrs. Anna Aldrich, committed May 1, 1928, showed no signs of emotion and evinced no fear. He was not to have been told of his fate until the formal decision of the supreme court reached the city, but a visitor to the prison this morning told the news, which was soon conveyed to Barnes.

Barnes was convicted of a most revolting murder. He deliberately took Mrs. Anna Aldrich, an aged and feeble woman, to a lonely spot in a wild canyon, and there beat in her head with a pick handle which he had purchased for the purpose. The jury disagreed at the first trial but at the second he was convicted. An appeal was taken and the decision was just made public yesterday.

The date of Barnes' execution has not been set as yet, and will not be until formal word is sent from Olympia regarding the decision.

REV. JOHN OVALL TO REMAIN HERE

Rev. John Ovall was reappointed pastor of the First Swedish M. E. church, corner Beech and Northwick streets, this city, at the conference closed at Seattle yesterday for the third consecutive year.

Rev. Ovall returned from the conference last night and will not be until tomorrow. He was very successful and harmonious. Members of the congregation received word of the action taken by the conference yesterday and today preparations are under way for a reception at the church this evening in honor of the pastor.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

Now Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases.

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as posolam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of posolam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, sandy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when posolam is applied, the complexion being cleared overnight.

Every druggist keeps both the 50 cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained in Portland at the Skidmore Drug Co., and The Woodard, Clarke & Co., as well as other reliable drug stores.

PIONEER VETERAN PASSES AWAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Dayton, Wash., Aug. 27.—Another pioneer of the early '60s, William Tidwell, passed away here yesterday, aged 66 years. Death was due to ocular tumor, with which he had been afflicted for many months. The funeral was held this morning from the home, Rev. J. M. Crenshaw officiating.

Indiana was the birthplace of Mr. Tidwell. During the civil war he served with distinction in the army of the west, taking part in several engagements. When the war closed he started for Oregon with an immigrant train.

For over 40 years he resided in Columbia county. Besides a widow he is survived by two daughters, Dollie Tidwell and Mrs. Dean Weltman, both of Dayton.

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG COUNTY FAIR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., Aug. 27.—A committee has been appointed by President Woods of the Union County Exposition, called the "20,000 Booster club," with the prime object of bringing 20,000 visitors to the fair here in October. The Oregon Railroad & Navigation company today announced special rates for the fair. From Pendleton and points between to La Grande and also from Huntington, the round trip rate will be a fare and a third. This rate is also effective over the Walla Walla branch.

On Walla Walla county day the O. R. & N. will run a special train from Joseph to La Grande with a round trip rate of one fare. The financial committee has raised $500 for a guarantee fund to insure the success of the fair. Bids have been advertised for the construction of the buildings necessary for the stabling of the stock. A large pavilion is to be built.

Bush and Arthur Anderson, were charged with a statutory crime committed upon a 15-year-old girl named Jennie Peterson of Grays Harbor. Deputy District Attorney Howard Bronnell came over from Astoria to prosecute the case for the state. After a short hearing the case was continued to Saturday. The defendants are out on bail.

$10,000 Barn Destroyed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Colfax, Wash., Aug. 27.—The barn of Y. G. Mansfield, who owns a large farm 10 miles west of Colfax, together with hay, grain and farm implements and machinery valued at $10,000, was totally destroyed yesterday morning by fire, presumably of incendiary origin, and a threatening outfit belonging to J. W. McDonald of Watsburg and a setting of 8000 bushels of oats were also destroyed.

The barn was notable as being the largest in the state, having storage room for 400 tons of loose hay, granaries capable of housing thousands of bushels of grain, and accommodations for 80 head of horses, besides room for all the vehicles and farm implements used on the farm.
