

DECEASED CAPTAIN WITH A BABY NOT HIS OWN

ROED TO TAFT REAGLES FORGE HER CHICAGO ON SIDE'S WILL

Charges Brought by Mrs. Josephine Brunswick, Daughter of Captain D. E. Buchanan in Suit for Divorce Against Husband.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chicago, Sept. 16.—The first lap of President Taft's western trip was reached when he arrived at Chicago shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. When the presidential train pulled into La Salle street station thousands of people had gathered to greet the chief executive of the nation, and as he stepped from the train he received an ovation.

A spectacular feature of the reception was an automobile parade. The route of the parade lay through Washington Park, and here 200,000 school children had gathered. As the president and his escort were slowly driven through the park 200 little throats joined in the strain of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Following the parade the president was taken to the Congress hotel, where he had luncheon.

After luncheon the art institute was visited and the members of the Hamilton club escorted President Taft, who in an enthusiastic baseball fan, to the Hamilton club at a dinner at the Congress hotel. Later he will address a capacity audience at Orchestra hall. At 11 o'clock the president returns to the hotel and for an hour will attend the ball of the American Bankers' association.

At midnight President Taft boards his private car and at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow morning his train will pull out for Madison, Wis., which will be the first stop tomorrow.

For two weeks, says Mrs. Brunswick, her husband indulged in a scheme to win back the good will of Buchanan. Captain Buchanan died October 4, 1908, leaving an estate valued at $300,000.

It was in Chicago that the baby was secured, according to the complaint, the date being May 20, 1906. The babe was one day old and its true name Adolph Anthony. Fearing that Buchanan would doubt the birth of the baby, it is alleged that Brunswick entered into a conspiracy with a physician and nurse, who made false affidavits that the child was born to Mrs. Brunswick. Afterward it was presented to Captain Buchanan as his grandchild and he believed it to be so to the day of his death.

For two weeks, says Mrs. Brunswick, her husband indulged in a scheme to win back the good will of Buchanan. Captain Buchanan died October 4, 1908, leaving an estate valued at $300,000.

By her father's will she was given $20,000 in trust, receiving the income for life. Soon after that, she says, Brunswick represented to her that it was necessary to give him a power of attorney to transact business for her. She gave him this, and did not learn until later that he had included in the document a provision that she should have one half of her interest in the bequest.

Dragged by Angry Man.
May 23, Mrs. Brunswick's complaint states, Mrs. Brunswick left her husband because of his ill treatment. On June 3, it is alleged at Twenty-third and Grand streets, she marks hotel and ordered her to go home. Then he seized her, it is charged, and dragged her for three blocks to her great humiliation and distress.

Mrs. Brunswick asks for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name of Buchanan. She makes a request concerning the adopted child but asks the court to cancel the power of attorney and give her full possession of the property willed by her father.

SHERIFF SLEEPS;
CONVICT SKIPS

Officer and Prisoner Celebrate With Disastrous Results—Ends Well.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oakland, Cal., Sept. 16.—Following the capture of his prisoner, whom he had allowed to escape, Deputy Sheriff Woods of San Bernardino has left for San Quentin with Sheriff Maize, a convict from Los Angeles. Last night Woods, instead of locking Maize in jail, allowed him to escape. He tumbled into bed. Woods fell asleep and Maize crawled out of bed, took the deputy's diamond pin, revolver and money and escaped.

The convict was preparing to board a train from the city when Woods woke up and not finding his prisoner in the room, gave the alarm. The Oakland police were notified and succeeded in capturing the fugitive who spent the remainder of the night in jail.

WASHINGTON TOWNS
TO HOLD ELECTIONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kalama, Wash., Sept. 15.—Petitions to the several town councils of Woodland, Kalama, Ketchikan and Chastacoma were filed yesterday asking for a special election on the local option question. There were 15 names on each of the petitions filed in Kalama and Chastacoma and the number in each of the other towns. The "wet" and "dry" are both looking forward to a victory.

Two Hundred Thousand School Children Greet President—Will Be Guest of Leading Club Tonight—Leaves Tonight.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chicago, Sept. 16.—The first lap of President Taft's western trip was reached when he arrived at Chicago shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. When the presidential train pulled into La Salle street station thousands of people had gathered to greet the chief executive of the nation, and as he stepped from the train he received an ovation.

A spectacular feature of the reception was an automobile parade. The route of the parade lay through Washington Park, and here 200,000 school children had gathered. As the president and his escort were slowly driven through the park 200 little throats joined in the strain of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Following the parade the president was taken to the Congress hotel, where he had luncheon.

After luncheon the art institute was visited and the members of the Hamilton club escorted President Taft, who in an enthusiastic baseball fan, to the Hamilton club at a dinner at the Congress hotel. Later he will address a capacity audience at Orchestra hall. At 11 o'clock the president returns to the hotel and for an hour will attend the ball of the American Bankers' association.

At midnight President Taft boards his private car and at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow morning his train will pull out for Madison, Wis., which will be the first stop tomorrow.

For two weeks, says Mrs. Brunswick, her husband indulged in a scheme to win back the good will of Buchanan. Captain Buchanan died October 4, 1908, leaving an estate valued at $300,000.

It was in Chicago that the baby was secured, according to the complaint, the date being May 20, 1906. The babe was one day old and its true name Adolph Anthony. Fearing that Buchanan would doubt the birth of the baby, it is alleged that Brunswick entered into a conspiracy with a physician and nurse, who made false affidavits that the child was born to Mrs. Brunswick. Afterward it was presented to Captain Buchanan as his grandchild and he believed it to be so to the day of his death.

For two weeks, says Mrs. Brunswick, her husband indulged in a scheme to win back the good will of Buchanan. Captain Buchanan died October 4, 1908, leaving an estate valued at $300,000.

By her father's will she was given $20,000 in trust, receiving the income for life. Soon after that, she says, Brunswick represented to her that it was necessary to give him a power of attorney to transact business for her. She gave him this, and did not learn until later that he had included in the document a provision that she should have one half of her interest in the bequest.

Dragged by Angry Man.
May 23, Mrs. Brunswick's complaint states, Mrs. Brunswick left her husband because of his ill treatment. On June 3, it is alleged at Twenty-third and Grand streets, she marks hotel and ordered her to go home. Then he seized her, it is charged, and dragged her for three blocks to her great humiliation and distress.

Mrs. Brunswick asks for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name of Buchanan. She makes a request concerning the adopted child but asks the court to cancel the power of attorney and give her full possession of the property willed by her father.

SHERIFF SLEEPS;
CONVICT SKIPS

Officer and Prisoner Celebrate With Disastrous Results—Ends Well.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oakland, Cal., Sept. 16.—Following the capture of his prisoner, whom he had allowed to escape, Deputy Sheriff Woods of San Bernardino has left for San Quentin with Sheriff Maize, a convict from Los Angeles. Last night Woods, instead of locking Maize in jail, allowed him to escape. He tumbled into bed. Woods fell asleep and Maize crawled out of bed, took the deputy's diamond pin, revolver and money and escaped.

The convict was preparing to board a train from the city when Woods woke up and not finding his prisoner in the room, gave the alarm. The Oakland police were notified and succeeded in capturing the fugitive who spent the remainder of the night in jail.

WASHINGTON TOWNS
TO HOLD ELECTIONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kalama, Wash., Sept. 15.—Petitions to the several town councils of Woodland, Kalama, Ketchikan and Chastacoma were filed yesterday asking for a special election on the local option question. There were 15 names on each of the petitions filed in Kalama and Chastacoma and the number in each of the other towns. The "wet" and "dry" are both looking forward to a victory.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON IS CRITICALLY ILL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Rochester, Minn., Sept. 15.—Governor John A. Johnson who was operated on yesterday for intestinal trouble following the following statement: "I am somewhat improved this afternoon, although his condition is still regarded as critical."

Later this afternoon Dr. McKeen, the house physician at St. Mary's hospital, issued the following statement: "Governor Johnson is resting fairly well this afternoon, although he still is suffering from some gastric pain."

RODANDO SUTTON ROEFES' COWS NO LONGER RELEASE

Upon Orders From State Veterinarian, Tuberculous Animals Are Put Out of Existence and Carcasses Destroyed.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Sept. 16.—The navy department adheres today to its verdict that Cadet Sutton committed suicide and was not murdered. The case will not be discussed any further.

MRS. COLLINS APPEARS IN COURT

Judge Bronaugh Overrules Motions to Dismiss—Names October 8 as Date When Case Will Come Up for Trial.

Mrs. Kate M. Collins, who shot and killed her husband, Dr. R. A. M. Collins, on July 24, pleaded not guilty before Presiding Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning. The plea was entered by her attorney, Russell E. Sewall. Mrs. Collins not being required to rise from her chair to speak before the entire proceeding.

Mrs. Collins' condition appeared to be much improved over the time she spent in the hospital, and she was able to appear in court, although the charge as the information was read and springing convulsively from her seat. Today she leaned heavily on the arm of Mrs. Cameron, the matron of the county jail. While in court she leaned forward, resting her left arm on her chair and concealing her face behind her hand. She wore a simple black gown and a black veil.

Judge Bronaugh set the case for trial on October 8. It was desired to fix a definite time to obviate the necessity of bringing Mrs. Collins into court again before the state attorney. He had moved to dismiss on the ground that it is not legal to hold the grand jury over from June to August, but the court refused to grant the motion and both motion and demurrer were disposed of in a moment by the penny.

Mrs. Collins remains in custody in the care of the Crystal Springs sanitarium.

PENNY BANK YIELDS
$375 IN GOLD; CHILD
GIVEN POSSESSION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 15.—Accidentally dropping a key and opening a small savings bank given her to keep, Mrs. A. F. Benson this morning was surprised to find that instead of pennies, it contained gold to the amount of $375. The bank was given out by the defunct Union Savings bank of this city. It was handed about since, until recently, when a child came to the address home to live, bringing the bank as a plaything. The money will be placed in the bank for the child. The ownership of the money will perhaps never be ascertained further, for the original owner has not been heard from for years and the only clue to him is a laundry mark.

Some surprising results attended visits upon housewives in different parts of the city yesterday afternoon and this morning. Some uniform questions were asked them, among which were:

"Have you ever been brought into communication with the state dairy and food commissioner or his deputies, and if so, what was the result?"

"Answer in every instance, 'No.'"

"Has the state ever asked you to give samples of milk at his office for testing?"

"Answer, 'No.' to each phrase of this complex question."

"Not until the Journal told about his mission?"

The personal visitation undertaken by a representative of The Journal resulted in the discovery of a number of cases of illness, which the people themselves believed to have been caused by the milk. Except in one or two instances, vigorous dissatisfaction with the milk supplied was expressed. Most of the people stated, however, that they had never been asked to give samples of their dairyman. That it is the custom to get into communication with the dairy association and the organization sends a dairyman according to its convenience and without consulting the patron as to his or her preference. Dr. Alan Welch Smith, chairman of the city board of health, speaking for himself, the health board and the dairy association, requested housewives and purchasers of milk to report at once either in person to the city health officer or by letter if they do not seem to be good. Report should be accompanied by the name of the dairyman and any other information which may be available. Each of these complaints will be attended to.

RODANDO SUTTON ROEFES' COWS NO LONGER RELEASE

Upon Orders From State Veterinarian, Tuberculous Animals Are Put Out of Existence and Carcasses Destroyed.

Seven tuberculous cows from the herd of Henry Rolfe were slaughtered yesterday by order of Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, and this is the first positive move in a disease eradicating campaign undertaken by the state veterinarian and his two assistants from the government bureau of animal industry. Dr. Lytle stated to Dr. R. C. Yenney, secretary of the state board of health, this morning:

"Not only have Rolfe's cows been disposed of and the menace of their existence removed, but I will be able from time to time to make to you definite reports of similar action which will take among other dairy herds which supply Portland with milk."

"Examination of local conditions has convinced more than ever before that tuberculous cows must be destroyed, and that milk from such animals should be offered for the use either of humans or animals."

Rapid Progress Made.
"I am surprised at the rapid progress in testing the cattle of dairy herds which can be made by efficient men from the bureau of animal industry. This helps a great boon to Portland in the effort to secure good milk, and will be one of the determining factors in determining the success of the campaign."

Dr. Lytle is having his assistants scour the dairies of the city and county below the standard set by the government. The state board of health will ask the city health officer to have these dairies closed, pending the securing of a new location or the putting of the old into a sanitary condition. On the street this morning it was made a matter of surprised comment that Commissioner Bailey should have found the Tanner lot on the alley road so filthy and unsanitary that there was no hope of permanently bettering conditions, and consequently found it necessary to order him to move.

"Despite our satisfaction at learning that the commissioner has closed the Tanner lot, we are disappointed at the inconsistency of his action," one commenter said. "Commissioner Bailey a short time ago ordered the Tanner lot about Portland were in a condition satisfactory to him, and that the milk supply would not suffer by comparison with the conditions so bad, as his action shows them to be, clearly indicates that the commissioner is not consistent in his action."

"The men who went out on strike yesterday are practically the same that tied up the plant for two months. When the first strike was settled last week by the company granting every demand they asked for, the strikers were discharged. This, according to the disgruntled workmen, the officials promised to do. Instead, however, the employees charge that a number of the strikebreakers were put over them as bosses, and yesterday they again walked out."

Many of the strikers are declaring that they were betrayed by the leaders of the first strike.

NEVER HEARD OF BAILEY TILL THEY READ THE JOURNAL

Some surprising results attended visits upon housewives in different parts of the city yesterday afternoon and this morning. Some uniform questions were asked them, among which were:

"Have you ever been brought into communication with the state dairy and food commissioner or his deputies, and if so, what was the result?"

"Answer in every instance, 'No.'"

"Has the state ever asked you to give samples of milk at his office for testing?"

"Answer, 'No.' to each phrase of this complex question."

"Not until the Journal told about his mission?"

The personal visitation undertaken by a representative of The Journal resulted in the discovery of a number of cases of illness, which the people themselves believed to have been caused by the milk. Except in one or two instances, vigorous dissatisfaction with the milk supplied was expressed. Most of the people stated, however, that they had never been asked to give samples of their dairyman. That it is the custom to get into communication with the dairy association and the organization sends a dairyman according to its convenience and without consulting the patron as to his or her preference. Dr. Alan Welch Smith, chairman of the city board of health, speaking for himself, the health board and the dairy association, requested housewives and purchasers of milk to report at once either in person to the city health officer or by letter if they do not seem to be good. Report should be accompanied by the name of the dairyman and any other information which may be available. Each of these complaints will be attended to.

NEVER HEARD OF BAILEY TILL THEY READ THE JOURNAL

Some surprising results attended visits upon housewives in different parts of the city yesterday afternoon and this morning. Some uniform questions were asked them, among which were:

5000 WORKMEN TAFT AT OUTS SURROUND MILL WITH CANNON?

Men Who Attempt to Go National Interest Attaches to Work Threatened With Violence.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The situation at the Pressed Steel Car company's works is critical. Five thousand men are out at the Schoenerville plant, and bloodshed is feared. The unions have been closed. A thousand strikers have congregated at the O'Donovan bridge, the scene of the fatal riots that took place during the recent disturbances.

Three thousand foreigners have forced out the 100 American employees, threatening to kill them if they remained at their posts.

A call for troops has been sent in.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—With the Pressed Steel Car plant surrounded by 5000 dissatisfied workmen, the scenes of violence which characterized the two months strike that was settled only last week, are being renewed today. When the 7 o'clock whistle blew this morning the strikers completely surrounded the big mill and when the workmen went out on strike yesterday they were forcibly restrained. Several men who refused to listen to the demands of the strikers were roughly handled.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

GLAVIS WILL NOT DROP FIGHT

Special Agent Intends to Battle for Roosevelt Policies on Conservation Even if President Taft Has Deprived Him of Position.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Sept. 16.—President Taft's declaration supporting Ballinger and criticizing Pinchot insures a continuation of the fight for Roosevelt policies to the bitter end. The discharge of Glavis means the latter's charges will be given to the public and the nation's verdict as to their validity will result.

The belief prevails among the followers of Pinchot that Mr. Taft's declaration signals a break between the Rooseveltites and the administration, as it is well known that Ballinger opposes the Roosevelt ideas of conservation. The Roosevelt contingent believes President Taft took a political rather than a moral view of the Ballinger controversy.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Sept. 16.—In accordance with authority given him last night in a letter from President Taft, Secretary of the Interior Ballinger today directed the dismissal of L. R. Glavis, chief of the field division of special agents, interior department, with headquarters at Seattle, Wash.

The reason for the dismissal of Glavis is stated in Taft's letter to Ballinger as follows:

"The filing of a disingenuous statement unjustly impeaching the official integrity of his superior officers."

In this letter President Taft exonerated Ballinger of charges made by Glavis against him in connection with the Cunningham coal land cases in Alaska.

Glavis presented the charges on August 18, and after answers had been made by Ballinger, Assistant Secretary Pierce, Commissioner of the General Land Office Bennett and Chief of Field Service Schwartz, the president prepared his decision at Beverly.

Finding in Against Pinchot.
Taft also sustains the action of Ballinger in regard to the restoration and withdrawal of public lands, in connection with the allotment of power sites and the so-called water power trust made at the National Irrigation congress at Spokane recently.

In Taft's decision he finds in favor of Ballinger in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, concluding as follows:

"In my judgment, it is the best friend of the policy of conservation who insists that every step taken in that direction should be within the law and buttressed by legal authority. In view of this is not inconsistent with a whole-hearted and bona fide interest in the conservation of national resources. From my conferences with you and from everything I know in respect to the conduct of your department, I am able to say that you are fully in sympathy with this administration's attitude in favor of the conservation of national resources."

In view of the fact that the president sustains Ballinger, there is much speculation as to what the result will be regarding Chief Forester Pinchot. The chief forester holds that Ballinger has overthrown the Roosevelt policy of conservation, to which he (Pinchot) was devoted and of which he was an ardent supporter.

What will Pinchot do?
The statement that Taft considers Ballinger in accord and sympathy with the administration leaves the clear impression here that Pinchot has bitterly disagreed with Ballinger's attitude of Pinchot cannot well conform with that of the administration. There is speculation as to whether Pinchot will remain in the service. The forestry department is not under the department of the interior, however, and

(Continued on Page Thirteen.)

11 DROWN WHEN VESSEL GROUNDS

Freight Rates to Be Subject Interstate Commerce Commission Will Hear Complaints on Coast.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Sept. 16.—To investigate complaints of the Seattle chamber of commerce and a half dozen shippers of the Puget sound district the interstate commerce commission will be in Seattle October 1. The complaint of the chamber of commerce is that the Pacific coast cities are not given proper recognition to raise the law deterring country of traffic in the intermountain country. The session will be one of the most important held by the commission since rates affecting the entire country west of the Missouri river will be considered. It is expected that the commission will go to Portland, San Francisco, Reno and Salt Lake.

Freight Rates to Be Subject Interstate Commerce Commission Will Hear Complaints on Coast.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Sept. 16.—To investigate complaints of the Seattle chamber of commerce and a half dozen shippers of the Puget sound district the interstate commerce commission will be in Seattle October 1. The complaint of the chamber of commerce is that the Pacific coast cities are not given proper recognition to raise the law deterring country of traffic in the intermountain country. The session will be one of the most important held by the commission since rates affecting the entire country west of the Missouri river will be considered. It is expected that the commission will go to Portland, San Francisco, Reno and Salt Lake.

Freight Rates to Be Subject Interstate Commerce Commission Will Hear Complaints on Coast.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Sept. 16.—To investigate complaints of the Seattle chamber of commerce and a half dozen shippers of the Puget sound district the interstate commerce commission will be in Seattle October 1. The complaint of the chamber of commerce is that the Pacific coast cities are not given proper recognition to raise the law deterring country of traffic in the intermountain country. The session will be one of the most important held by the commission since rates affecting the entire country west of the Missouri river will be considered. It is expected that the commission will go to Portland, San Francisco, Reno and Salt Lake.

5000 WORKMEN TAFT AT OUTS SURROUND MILL WITH CANNON?

Men Who Attempt to Go National Interest Attaches to Work Threatened With Violence.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The situation at the Pressed Steel Car company's works is critical. Five thousand men are out at the Schoenerville plant, and bloodshed is feared. The unions have been closed. A thousand strikers have congregated at the O'Donovan bridge, the scene of the fatal riots that took place during the recent disturbances.

Three thousand foreigners have forced out the 100 American employees, threatening to kill them if they remained at their posts.

A call for troops has been sent in.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—With the Pressed Steel Car plant surrounded by 5000 dissatisfied workmen, the scenes of violence which characterized the two months strike that was settled only last week, are being renewed today. When the 7 o'clock whistle blew this morning the strikers completely surrounded the big mill and when the workmen went out on strike yesterday they were forcibly restrained. Several men who refused to listen to the demands of the strikers were roughly handled.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

Considerable opposition arose today among the western financiers, who declare that the measure will wipe out a part of the country banks, and drain the banks of the west and concentrate money in the east.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Central National bank idea, as outlined by President Reynolds of the American Bankers' association and endorsed by President Taft, may not be adopted by the bankers who are in session here.

5000 WORKMEN TAFT AT OUTS SURROUND MILL WITH CANNON?