City Health Board Proposes to Inaugurate Canvass of Districts in Waging War Against Impure Dairy Product.

How much more sickness has there been among families supplied with milk from the ordinary dirty dairy near Portland and those who have been successful in obtaining sanitary milk? This is a question that interests Dr. Alan Weich Smith, chairman of the city board of health, and he will at once seek to enumerate the exact number of crimes against the public health for which bad milk in Portland is responsible.

Lintii the present time record of the havec accomplished by the unclean milk has been kept only in the death reports of the city health office. But Dr. Smith believes there are hundreds of cases of filness never reported to the authorities, where death does not ensue, that may be traced directly or indirectly to the use of milk that was impure.

The family of George Blockley, Sey-

The family of George Blockley, Seyenteenth and Yamhill streets, furnishes a case in point. Mrs. Blockley complained that milk from the dairy of John Huber and Fred Reichner had caused severe liness, accompanied by intense pain, of her daughter Hilda, her son Norman, and herself. Effective remedies she is sure saved the lives of herself and children. Other cases are found in numbers.

found in numbers.

Canvassing districts supplied by the dairies under suspicion and from those where the milk is clean, in order to obtain comparative statements, will be a labor not only of time, but one never before attempted in Portland.

Statistics on Bad Milk. Nathan Straus, head of the famous Straus laboratories in New York, where milk freed from germs is furnished at cost, or free to the people of the tenement house districts, before the International Medical congress, August 31, 1909, submitted the following statements:

1909, submitted the following statements:

"Health officers, having become keener in tracing epidemics to their source, have proven that numerous outbreaks of infectious disease among children have been due to the use of infected milk in the raw state.

"Dr. John W. Trask of the United States public health service, has tabulated the convincing records of 500 such epidemics that have been definitely traced to the milk supply. This list includes 317 milk caused epidemics of typhoid fever, 125 of scarlet fever, 51 of diphtheria and 7 of epidemic sore throat.

"Dr. M J. Rosenau, director of the hygenic laboratory at Washington, who has just been designated the first professor of preventive medicine and hygiene at Harvard university, made two thorough investigations, case by case, of the typhoid fever in the American capital. Rejecting all the instances in which the evidence fell short of actual proof, out of 866 cases in 1906, he found that 85, or hearly 10 per cent were due to infected milk, while out of 522 cases in 1907. 48 or more than 9 per cent, were definitely traced to infected milk. "Marking all cases, irrespective of their proved origin, on a map of Washington and tracing thereon the routes of the milk dealers, Dr. Rosenau obtained a remarkably illuminative result. ined a remarkably illuminative result.

1906 there were only 3 cases and in In 1906 there were only 3 cases and in 1907 only 8 cases on the route of one of the biggest dealers in the city. Dr. Rosenau gives this explanation:

"This dealer is the only one in Washington who both sterilizes the bottle and pasteurizes the milk. The low typhoid fever rate among his customers is significant and perhaps a fair index of the result which would be accomplished by the pasteurization of the milk supply."

Pastourize Milk.

When Dr. Straus speaks of pasteurization he means that the fresh, strained milk has been held at a temperature of 156 degrees, Farenheit, for half an hour, then suddenly cooling it to 40 degrees, at which latter temperature it is held until used. This, he argues is the only effective method of killing growing germs of bacilli in milk that has had possible exposure to infection. He quotes Sir James Crichton-Browne, president of the Sanitary Inspector's association in England, as shying:

Modern Methods Necessary.

Modern Methods Necessary.

"The primary and paramount food question is the protection of the milk supply. Sulcide as well as assassination has been prevented by the strictest surveillance. The first and fundamental necessity in the protection of life is the application of efficient modern methods of purification to the disease infested milk supply.

"It stirs the heart to think how much sickness and suffering would be prevented by stripping the milk supplies of their power to cause disease and making this universal food of humanity a means of sustenance instead of an instrument of disease and death.

"If I feel deeply and speak warmly it is because I have seen the infantile death rate in New York cut down from my work. I have seen the infantile death rate in New York cut down from $6.5 to 49.6 per 1000 since 1891, coincidentally with the increased use of pasteurized milk in the tenement distincts. I might multiply the evidence by citing the experience of 20 other tricts. I might multiply the evidence by citing the experience of 20 other Delegation of 500 From Gem State Headed by Governor Brady.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Beattle, Rept. 18.—Special trains arriving last night and this morning brought 500 people into the city from Idaho to celebrate that state's day at the exposition. Governor Brady accompanied by his staff, arrived last evening, and today he was the central figure in the exercises held in the Idaho state building.

After an overture by the Caldwell band Director General Nadeau wolcomed the visitors on behalf of the exposition, and Governor Brady responded with the address of the day. Following this program, a formal reception at the state building was held. Tonight a ball will close the festivities.

Pioneer Burying Place Must Be Enlarged-No Funds Available.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 16.—There is little use to die in this city unless one is a Catholic or belongs to a lodge which owns a private cemetery, for there are but three lots left in the city cemetery. The city cemetery, while its name has a ring of the potter's field, is the burying ground in general use, and lately it was discovered that despite Walla Walla's famous climate, the ravages of time have told, and the lots, all but three, have been purchased. Just what will be done to solve the problem is not known. More land is available, but the city is not in a position to make a purchase just at present. tion to make a purchase just at present. The burying ground is the oldest in the state, having been used since 1860.

REFUSES TO PAY FOR FAULTY PAVEMENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 16.—At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night a petition signed by property owners abutting on West Main street was presented, asking that pay for the paving be held up. They offer to cut holes in the paving to show that it does not comply with specifications.

When the base for the paving was being laid, City Engineer Lew Loehr called the attention of the council to the fact that it did not comply with requirements. The street was accepted by the council on recommendation of the street committee. Property owners declare they will not pay for the pavement and the covering may be taken up in places to prove or disprove the contentions.
