SAYS Y. M. C. A. DOES GOOD WORK

W. H. Day of Railroad Division Pays Portland Brief Visit.

W. H. Day, one of the international secretaries of the railroad division of the Young Men's Christian association, visited Portland yesterday and reported rapid extension of the activities of his department in the northwest. Mr. Day came to Portland especially to attend the wedding of his brother, H. W. Day of White Salmon, who was married yesterday to Miss Bertha Brown, also of White Salmon, at the First Congregational church. On his trip, however, W. H. Day, who makes his headquarters in Chicago, is looking after the work of his department.

"The Y. M. C. A. is almost revolutionizing work in the railroad construction camps of the United States," said Mr. Day. "In thousands of railroad division points we have association buildings, but the marked movement just at present is the extension into the construction camps where good influences are usually sadly lacking."

"In the past it has been the general idea that gangs of laborers working far from their homes, or other restraining influences, could not get along without the saloon. In many camps it has been a regular thing for a large proportion of the workmen to get drunk every payday. The Y. M. C. A., however, is proving that these men do not want liquor, and will not go to the saloons if they have other entertainment and comfortable quarters where they are welcomed when off duty.

"I can give no better illustration than to tell what occurred at the big Taft tunnel on the Milwaukee, which was three years under construction. When the Y. M. C. A. went there a dozen saloons were prospering. On payday the men went to the saloons to get their checks cashed, and usually spent all they had made. The railroad gave us a $2000 building and employed a secretary, and within a short time the men were completely won over. Instead of spending their money for drink they gave it to the Y. M. C. A. to send home to their families, and spent their spare time reading and playing games in the association building.

"Wherever we found a railway association we provided for cashing checks. This is usually done by the saloons, but when the laborers find that the association will give them their money they almost always come to us, and are soon sending home a large proportion of their pay. In single camps we have sent home as much as $18,000 on one payday, whereas before the Y. M. C. A. went there practically nothing was sent out. Even foreigners, who do not speak English, soon learn that the association of floors are their friends and begin coming to us.

Over 80 per cent of the railroads of the United States recognize the work that the association is doing to make their workmen sober and industrious, and these roads meet all the expense of the Y. M. C. A., providing buildings or tents for us.

"This work is newer in the Pacific northwest, but it is getting a strong foothold. Winston Bros., the contractors who are double tracking between Portland and Tacoma, have asked us to institute Y. M. C. A. organizations in their construction camps. More of this extension work is in prospect where construction is going on in Oregon, but definite arrangements have not been made."

Mr. Day left last night for San Francisco, and will not return to his home in Chicago.

KINGS INVITED TO PORTOLA FESTIVAL
(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Invitations to attend the Portola celebration to be held in San Francisco in October are being sent out by the committee to every king, prince and potentate in the world.

Nearly 100,000 invitations are being issued, and every point on the globe will be reached by the missives.

The invitations are engraved and on the cover a shield embossed with the letter "P" in the Portola colors, red and yellow, gives a suggestion of the festival spirit.

Included in the list of invited guests are all of the United States army and navy officers, all foreign diplomats, all foreign consuls in America, the governors of the states, mayors of all cities, celebrated personages, scientists, inventors, authors, painters, actors and financiers of note in this country and in Europe.

SACRAMENTO COUNTY MAKES LAVISH GIFTS
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Sept. 28.—The representatives of the Sacramento county, California, exhibits made a lavish distribution of that county's product today at the exposition. The most notable was the free distribution of 10,000 baskets of Tokay grapes. There were distributed also 1000 packages of matches and 60,000 heart-shaped badge signifying "The heart of California."

L. E. Loveland, chairman of the Sacramento county committee to the fair, and J. A. Fisher, of Sacramento, executive commissioner to the exposition, were present and the distribution was in charge of Superintendent of Exhibits Harry F. Speck.

REPRESENTATIVE FOR PORTLAND
Census Taking Will Entitle State to New District.

Portland's prospects of having a representative in the next congress are growing brighter with the preliminary work of taking the thirteenth federal census. A third congressman for the state is practically assured, as the increase in population has raised the number of state inhabitants to 650,000, says S. C. Beach, census supervisor for Oregon.

With this enumeration, the third representative is assured, and the only question open will be how to redistrict the state to make the third district. Those following the question closely conclude that it is due Portland, since the settlement and growth has been largest in and around this city. The allowing of a new member in the lower house is up to congress, but the manner of forming a new district in the state will be done by the state legislature.

Portland and vicinity has grown by leaps and bounds the past 10 years, and everything indicates that a sufficient number will be tabulated to justify warrenting a district of which this city will be the greater part.

The 1900 census gave the state of Oregon approximately 400,000, and a new representative is allowed for each 194,000. This growth has easily been reached, asserts Supervisor Beach.

"Get every name" will be the slogan with which the 1910 enumeration will be made. Men are now being engaged to do the work, and the plan of laying out districts is being formed by the supervisor. Actual work of taking the names does not begin until next April, and lasts only 15 days, but much preliminary work is necessary to get the field organized. The headquarters for the second district of this state will be in Portland and under charge of Mr. Beach.

DR. BADE EXCAVATES FOR BIBLICAL LORE
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berkeley, Cal. Sept. 28.—Dr. William F. Bade, of the faculty of the Pacific Theological seminary of this city, is pursuing excavation work in Egypt for the purpose of procuring data on matters relating to the Bible, according to information just received here by friends. In addition to being a geologist and archaeologist, Dr. Bade is a well known authority on the Bible. From letters received here it was learned that Dr. Bade is engaged in research work in the vicinity of Cairo. Later he will journey to the Upper Nile, where he expects to add considerably to the world's knowledge of the Bible as a result of his studies there.

Cook Puts Arsenic in Biscuits.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Petaluma, Cal. Sept. 28.—The family of Henry Davis, a wealthy farmer living near here, who were accidentally poisoned by arsenic last night, are reported to be on the road to recovery today. All of them were made violently ill by eating biscuits that the cook had sprinkled with flour that had previously been mixed with arsenic by one of the family for the purpose of ridding the place of rats. The mistake was not discovered until the arrival of a physician who administered an antidote and succeeded in saving their lives.

Salem, Or., Sept. 28.—Mrs. George Grannis, wife of Rev. Mr. Grannis, who was pastor of the Methodist church of this city for 25 years, died at her home here last night. Mrs. Grannis had been ill for some time and had returned to Salem recently from the east where she had gone for her health.
