Budget for While Temple-Af yester-day's morning service at the White budget for the coming year would be expenses and $1500 for the support of four missionaries in India and Chinas Dr. Brougher presented the needs of the church and strongly urged that if this were done the budget would more than double. At the annual busi-ness meeting last Thursday evening, Rev. John Bentzien was elected asso-ciate pastor of White Temple. Mr. Bentsien was formerly superintendent of Missions in Portland. Chinas, will speak at White Temple.

Tore Down Chinney—Upon refusal of M. W. Markham, 408 Carlion avenue, to pay for building a chimney on his new house at that number, C. H. Buckbee, the builder, proceeded to tear it down, but upon pleading no intentional wrong in municipal court this merming was given two days to replace it. Buckbee said that Markham held out $4 after the work was completed, and he only in-tended to tear enough bricks off to se-cure a lien on the property. Markham acknowledged holding out the money, hut said he did so to allow an inspec-tion of the work. Buckbee readily con-sented to rebuild the chimney.

Arlets Case Goes Over.-Ernest New-ton, one of the six youths of Arleta in-dicted on a statutory charge resulting from accusations made by 14-year-old Yada Griffin, will not be tried until December. The case was set for this morning, but Deputy District Attorney Vreeland, who has charge of the evi-dence, is occupied with another case, and the nearest date suitable to both sides is in December. William Parker, another of the young men accused, was acquitted by a fury last week. The other four defendants have pleaded guilty, but have not been finally dealt with. Newton is at liberty on ball.

Bait Against Gas Company—Circuit Judge Cleland this morning took up the work of securing a jury for the trial of the case of L. E. Fierson for $10,181 damages against the Portiand Gas company. Pierson was a laborer em-ployed by the company, and alleges that November 30, 1903, he was sent by his foreman, Joseph Lonergan and Barney Powers, to repair a wash box on the roof of the defendant's plant. The roof gave way and he fell about 25 feet. Several of his ribs were broken, as was also his right arm, and he says one of his kidneys was dislodged and became a floating kidney.

In a Long Bleep-K. Ogura, a Japanese laborer, who was brought to the Good Samarlian hospital six months ago, thought to be suffering from meningitis, has lapsed into a complete cataleptic state and has given the medical fra-ternity a rare case to handle. He has not moved in his bed nor spoken a word since the attack and shows no sign of improvement. The patient's breathing is exceedingly slow, and he shows only a slight indication of consciousness. Dr. Louis Buck has charge of the case, and several clinics have been held. The Jap-anese formerly worked as a laborer for the North Bank road.

Ore From Buena Vista A shipment ore is expected tomorrow from the nena Vista mine in the Seven Devils mp, where a rich strike was reported The ore is said to carry $9 in gold and $183.65 in copper and silver, per ton. Machinery is being installed that will reduce the cost of breaking by hand from $20 per foot to $3. For years ore has been hauled from the camp 45 miles to the railroad, but the Salem, Or., Oct. 11.-George Meyers can give no other reason for shooting down Patrolman Eckart, a week ago Friday while under arrest, other than that he suddenly became angered at the officer whom he thought was arresting him without reason and shot him upon the impulse. Why he turned and shot again at the failen officer is another enigma to himself. No attorney has yet been employed to defend Meyers, though L. H. McMahon was sent to his cell in the county jail yesterday by Meyerg' brothers and McMahon has counse.ed Meyers to say nothing. Whether McMahon will be retained to defend Meyers has not been decided. McMahon gives it as his opinion that Meyers can be convicted only for man-singhter, as the officer entered the room where Meyers was sleeping and behaving himself and placed him under arrest without a warrant. Shuberts Present "The Ringmaster." The dramatic success of the season, "The "Ringmaster," is presented at the Star theatre this week by Sam S. and Lee Shubert. (Inc.). It is a stirring play in which corruption in Wall street rinancial circles is exposed. The Nobles at Pantages.

The famous dramatic stars, Milton and Dolly Nobles, will appear this week at Pantages in their original comedy, "Why Walker Reformed." It is one of the most hilariously funny sketches in vaudeville. A number of other excel-lent acts complete the bill.

room where Meyers was sleeping and behaving himself and placed him under arrest without a warrant. Joseph Meyers, the father of the prisoner, who lives in Portland, is expected to take the necessary measures for Meyers' de-fense. He has been indicted by the grand jury for first degree munder and will be arraigned probably tomorrow. Rev. P. L. Larden, a retired preacher living on the farm of Dr. Mark Skiff of this city, at Pratum, about eight miles east of Salem, who pursuaded Meyers to give himself up to the officers and drove him to the county jail Saturday night, will get the $1600 reward posted by Governor Benson last week. Meyers was met on the road near Pratum by Rev. Larden Saturday even-ing. He asked Larden for money and a bicycle, saying that if he had them he could get into Portland and escape. According to the story Meyers tells, he had many times thought of giving him-self up, but Saturday did not have the necessary strength. He hesitated sev-cral times in front of houses where rural telephone lines were installed for the purpose of calling up the officers, but each time went on his way without doing so.

doing so. Comes Close to Salem on Sixth.

Comes Close to Salem on Sixth. Last Wednesday Meyers started into the city and approached within a few blocks of the capitol on Winter street then hesitated, turned around and went back. He said he had decided long ago not to resist the officers and one day last week dropped his gun into the Pudding river. He carried it loaded only for a short time on ons day. Of his wanderings Meyers gave the officers rather a full account telling how he laid in the brush for the first few days, then walking openly along the road, but hiding when vehicles ap-proached. Several times he rode with farmers. He rode through the little town of Sublimity on a farm wagon after leaving Silwer Creek, where the sheriff was close on his track for a 'few hours. He went from Sublimity to Marion, caught a freight and went to Albany. When he arrived at Albany he changed his mind and came back to Jefferson.

Search for G. Frank Garrey—A na-tional search has been started for G. Frank Garrey, the former business agent of the electrical workers' union, by that organization. Today circulars giving his description and other direc-tions to detain if seen were sent broad-cast over the country. He has not been seen for more than a week and is wanted for alleged embezziement of funds of the union. When brought into Salem Saturday he was tired out and says he was heartily glad to give up. He is contented in the county jail where he can rest with-out the ternal fear of the officers. He says he is glad he came back and seems to be willing to stand the con-sequences of his act. When seen today Larden says that it required quite a bit of persuasion to lead Meyers away from his plan to get a bicycle and go to Portland. He was determined to go at first but Larden, by methods learned in his for-mer years as a pastor, finally prevailed. Awning Was Ablaze—A bucket of water was what Patrolman Flizsim-mons of the second night relief used in quenching an inclient fire early yesterday morning at the Stewart hotel building. The awning of the McCreedy millinery establishment was briskly burning when the officer came along. A cigar stub tossed upon the awning is supposed to have started the blaze. Larden, by methods learned in his for-mer years as a pastor, finally prevailed. There is no doubt but that Larden will get the reward of $1100 if he wants it. The officers say the reward was well earned. Larden says he will not take the $100 offered by the local officers for information leading to Meyers' ar-rest, but will accept the remainder or $1000.

Blanche Bates Tonight. David Belasco presents the famous American actreas, Blanche Bates, at the Bungalows theatre for six nights, beginning tonight at 8:15 o'clock, in her latest dramatic success, "The Fighting Hops." Matiness will given Wednesday and Saturday, Seats are now selling for the entire engagement. Attorney Will Ask for Dis-

Patsy Doyle at Orpheam. As a brilliant wit and clever enter-tainer, it would be necessary to go, a long way to gind the equal of Patsy Doyle, monologist, appearing on the bill at the Orpheum this week. He has a delightful line of new stories and un-loads some recitations and concludes with clever new songs.

Meantime the authorities are at work to connect Vaughn with the sending of packages of poisoned tea to his divorced wife and Mrs Lola G. Baldwin from Beattle and a later package of poisoned candy sent to his wife. Along this line Deputy District Attorney Vreeland said he expected to be able to show that Vaughn has been making threats. The case was set for this morning, but was continued until this afternoon be-cause of the pressure of other busi-ness.

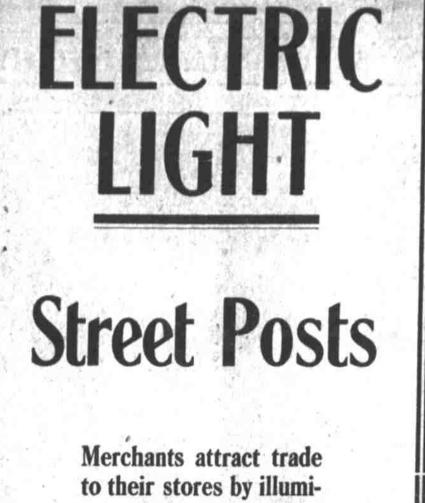

FUNERAL OF WEST CHEHALEM PIONEER

Mrs. Ellen Pitman, one of the early settlers of West Chehalem, Yamhili county, died last Tuesday, in St. Vin-cent hospital, following an operation. She had long been a sufferer and the operation was successful, but her vitality proved not sufficient to carry her through to full recovery of health. Mrs. Pitman was born in Eric, county, Pa., September 29, 1843. She came to Oregon with her husband, H. M. Pit-man, about 35 years ago. They settled on the Chehalem mountain, which has been their home ever since. The inter-ment took place Wednesday noon at the Oak Grove cemetery. Chehalem moun-
