

MAIN UNDER RIVER READY FOR WATER

Woodmere Agreement to Be Carefully Investigated by Board.

The city water board was at its meeting yesterday afternoon notified by Engineer D. D. Clarke that the split sleeve specially made for the repair of the submerged water main under the Willamette had been successfully clamped over the break and cemented, and that the main would be ready to carry water as soon as the cement sets. The split sleeve was broken this spring, and because of a mistake of some of the employees residents of the west side had to drink river water for several days.

At the request of the park board the water board decided to give up its reservoir grounds at the Lincoln street station for use as a children's playground. The station is located in the heart of a thickly settled district, and the new recreation place will be a boon to hundreds of children.

Mayor Simon asked that an agreement made between George W. Brown and the committee appointed to make arrangements for the installation of a service pipe connecting the Bull Run supply with the Woodmere system be carefully investigated. It seems that the contract contains a clause by which the water magnate may change the rates provided in it after the expiration of one year. W. B. Mackay, J. C. Alsworth and E. T. Dodge were designated a committee to examine the contract.

Engineer Clarke in a voluminous report asked the board whether or not making future recommendations it is the wish of that body that he consider future or present needs. The report as referred to Messrs. Alsworth and Mackay.

The city auditor was ordered to advertise for pipe and other material to be used in the new reservoir on Mount Tabor. The report of the water superintendent shows that the contract between Robert Wakefield and the city has been approved by the city attorney, but that some delay will result because there are no local bonding companies who can furnish a bond for $450,000 without sending east for authority.

VETERAN STEAMER IS SINKING IN COLUMBIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kennewick, Wash., Oct. 13.—The W. R. Todd, the Columbia Steamboat company's veteran steamer, lies on her side in four feet of water a few hundred yards from the Kennewick docks. The old boat, which has been moored for several weeks on an island near here, mysteriously sprung a leak last night. It is thought that in landing yesterday the Mountain Gem jostled the Todd sufficiently to cause some of the seams in her stern to open. The crew of the Gem and a force of men are working in an effort to right the old vessel, and it is thought the damage will be slight.

The Todd has not been in regular service this year, but has been used for occasional trips to relieve the Mountain Gem.

COOS-ROSEBURG LINE ASSURED

Promoters of Inland Electric Close Contract for Completion of Road.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Oct. 13.—At a meeting of the Roseburg committee, with Messrs. Haas and Kuetner last night, a contract was signed whereby the promoters of the Coos Bay-Roseburg electric line deposit in a Roseburg bank $50,000 in cash and the same amount in stock, guaranteeing the completion of the Coos Bay Inland Electric railway within two years after the survey is completed and the right-of-way is secured.

The Coos Bay committee have already signed the document, and it now remains for the Roseburg committee to raise about $25,000 for the completion of the survey and to secure their share of the right-of-way. Where any condemnation proceeding is necessary the company guarantees to fight it. It is thought this will be necessary only over Southern Pacific land, as most of the farmers along the route have promised land gratis.

By cooperation between Roseburg and Coos Bay it is thought everything will be ready for actual construction next July.
