

SPILLERS WEAR PRESIDENT OUT

Los Angeles Enthusiasts Do All the Talking and Taft Suffers.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 12.—If some one does not immediately found a society for the promotion of cruelties to presidents and ask Mr. Taft to join, the executive will be worn to a frazzle before he finishes his present transcendental trip.
 When he joins he will subscribe emphatically to that section of the bylaws that forbids any person to utter upon him speeches of more than 15 minutes duration.
 Today the president looks considerably the worse for wear, as the result of 50 dusty miles covered in an automobile between Los Angeles and Riverside.
Taft Looks Sore.
 When he got into the Glenwood hotel last night the dust could have been scooped from his face and clothing.
 The weather was not between 80 and 90 in the shade every inch of the way, and the rivulets of perspiration that poured from his forehead to his wilted collar made his visage look like the map of some country traversed by creeks.
 In spite of his fatigue, the president appeared smiling at the banquet one hour after he returned from the ride, and not only listened to a number of speeches, but made one himself.
Human Photograph Wound Up.
 On the previous evening at Los Angeles, after a strenuous day's work of speechmaking, riding, handshaking, the president was forced to sit for two hours and listen to local spellbinders. One of these orators consumed a solid hour with his remarks, and the president's place on the program was not reached until 15 minutes before midnight.
 After the long-winded speaker had spouted for half an hour, the president's aide and secret service guards made frantic efforts to get some member of the local committee to give the president's aide and secret service guards to be no way to bring his language to a close, except to let him run down like a clock.
 "It's a shame to keep the president up so long," said Captain Butt, Mr. Taft's military aide, "and if the local arrangements are his friends they will limit the time of the other speakers to their 15 minutes."

TAFT ON TOUR THROUGH ARIZONA

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 13.—After riding through the Colorado desert all night, President Taft reached Yuma at 5 a. m. Governor Sloan and his staff met the president here and their private car was hitched to the train for the run through the territory.
 During the day the president will speak at Maricopa, Phoenix, Wickenburg, Coolidge, and Ashfork. Most of the stops will be an hour or less, and the president will take all his own baggage.
 Thursday Taft will visit the Grand canyon of the Colorado.

TESTIFIES SHE APPEARED INSANE

 these delusions is that she believes she saw her husband walking in front of her only a few days ago.
Appeared Insane.
 Judge P. L. Willis, one of the most important witnesses for the defense, took the stand shortly before noon. Mrs. Collins testified that she and Winkle, who was a nephew of his wife, and she was for a long period a member of his household. He expressed the opinion that the defendant was insane to such an extent that she could not reason nor tell whether her acts were right or wrong. He testified that the circumstances in support of this belief were given at the opening of the afternoon session of court.
 Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald, in charge of the case for the state, has demanded from the witnesses who express belief in Collins' insanity some specific instances of delusion or irrational talk. The most of the witnesses, however, have been unable to furnish specific instances of delusion or irrational talk. When cornered to tell of definite delusions or irrational talk the most of the witnesses have said that their opinion is based more on Mrs. Collins' appearance and her staring eyes when talking about her husband than upon what she said.
Miss Hirsch Testifies.
 Miss Ella Hirsch, daughter of the late Solomon Hirsch, was one of the best witnesses produced by the defense this morning. She told of her conversation with Mrs. Collins over the telephone shortly before the shooting, she having been acquainted with the defendant many years. Mrs. Collins did dressmaking work for the witness and telephoned to say she could not finish certain work because she was going away. The witness asked her where, and she said she did not know. Miss Hirsch added that she came to see her, but the defendant would not come, and told Miss Hirsch she did not want to see her when the witness suggested visiting her. Mrs. Collins was hysterical, and the witness was so impressed with the idea that Mrs. Collins might harm herself that she tried to reach Mrs. Collins' daughter by long-distance telephone.
Was Poor in Health.
 Mrs. Gertrude Garber, daughter of the defendant, testified to her mother's excitable condition and poor health for the last four years.
 Ellen Stratton, who has known Mrs. Collins for 25 years, told of peculiar conduct of the defendant, particularly of her talk of "going away." By this she meant, she believed, that she meant suicide. She complained of her husband's treatment, said she did not care for her any longer, and would talk of nothing else. She said she had put Dr. Collins on a pedestal and believed Dr. Collins insane.
 Mrs. Laura B. Sutherland said she has known Mrs. Collins intimately and that the defendant became excited and had a wild look in her eyes when talking of Dr. Collins. The witness was unable to give a specific instance of delusion or irrational talk, but her opinion that the defendant was insane was based principally on the way Mrs. Collins acted. She talked with Mrs. Collins the day before the tragedy, and the defendant then said that Collins wanted her to leave him and told her he loved another woman.
Were Depressed Look.
 George W. Caldwell, an attorney, told of times when he was employed as a clerk in a department store and Mrs. Collins would pass up all the clerks but one and would not let others wait on her, indicating that she thought she was being visited by Mrs. Collins. She was particular clerk. She always wore a depressed look.
 Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald could not recall seeing Little Bill with his brother attorney, and secured an admission from Caldwell that he did not know the brother of insanity in a criminal case.
Was What Makes You Think Mrs. Collins Insane?
 "What makes you think Mrs. Collins was insane?" asked the prosecutor.
 "What makes you think she was insane?" asked Caldwell, and the way she acted," said Caldwell.
 After a session of wrangling between Fitzgerald and the lawyer witness, Caldwell testified that he had no opinion, but Fitzgerald brought in in evidence in the crowd. The players came on the field for the usual time, in heavy sweaters, which they wore during the early part of their limbering up stint.

 The Pirates have been assessed quite a bit of money already in fines, but the Tigers, who have proved more pronounced kickers, have escaped almost scot free. The umpire assignments today were Johnstone of the Nationals behind the bat, O'Loughlin on the base, and Klem and Evans on the foul lines. Adams and Willis warned up for Pittsburgh, and Summers and Donovan limbered up for Detroit. The weather was too cold for Wild Bill and Summers was Jennings' final selection. Clarke chose Adams to oppose him.
 The umpire assignments were: O'Loughlin, American league, on bases; Klem, National, and Evans, American, in the field. Attendance, 25,900.
First Inning.
 Detroit.—D. Jones dropped the ball to center field. Leach fielded it in time to hold him on third, but the umpire called on one fielder for a rule, that it counted for a home run, as it went over the temporary fence, behind which today there was not the crowd of the first two games here. Bush walked. Cobb filed to Leach. Crawford hit to left, Bush going to third. Delehanty fanned. Jones' second, no attempt being made to stop him, but he was sent to Abstein. Mullin bats for Willett. Mullin filed to Wagner. No runs.
Second Inning.
 Detroit.—Morlarity foul filed to Byrne and Wagner muffed T. Jones' fly. Fanny stole second, no attempt being made to stop him, but he was sent to Abstein. Mullin bats for Willett. Mullin filed to Wagner. No runs.
Third Inning.
 Detroit.—Morlarity foul filed to Byrne and Wagner muffed T. Jones' fly. Fanny stole second, no attempt being made to stop him, but he was sent to Abstein. Mullin bats for Willett. Mullin filed to Wagner. No runs.
Fourth Inning.
 Detroit.—Crawford was retired by Wagner to Abstein. Delehanty fell a victim to Adams' curves. Miller made a great stop of Morlarity's hot one, retiring the Detroit at first. No runs.
Fifth Inning.
 Detroit.—T. Jones sent a double to left field. Stannage was out on strikes. Summers met the same fate. Clarke grabbed Davy Jones' fly. No runs.
Sixth Inning.
 Detroit.—Crawford was retired by Wagner to Abstein. Delehanty fell a victim to Adams' curves. Miller made a great stop of Morlarity's hot one, retiring the Detroit at first. No runs.
Seventh Inning.
 Detroit.—McIntyre batting for Stannage. He was out at first, Abstein unassisted. Summers was retired in the same way. D. Jones was a victim of a fine stop and throw to first by Byrne. No runs.
Eighth Inning.
 Detroit.—Schmidt now catching for Detroit. Adams struck out. Byrne singled to left. So did Delehanty. Byrne going to third on Tommy's hit. Clarke dropped a fly behind the temporary fence in center for a home run, scoring Byrne and Leach ahead of him. Wagner was hit on the back by a pitched ball. He was apparently badly hurt. The club physician and players rushed to him as he fell at the plate and Hans soon recovered under their ministrations. Miller filed to D. Jones. Wagner proved he wasn't badly hurt by stealing second. Soon after he stole third also, and came home on Schmidt's wild throw. Abstein struck out. Four runs.
Ninth Inning.
 Detroit.—Bush filed to Leach. Leach being applauded for his pretty catch. Cobb out. Adams to Abstein. Leach fell over the center field barrier trying to capture Crawford's long fly, which counted for a homer. Leach went over the fence head foremost, breaking one of the fence boards and it looked for a time as though he was badly injured, but he wasn't. Delehanty was out. Byrne to Abstein. One run.
 Pittsburgh.—Wilson doubled to left center. Gibson dropped a single in right, scoring Wilson. Summers here was deter-

UNKNOWN TAKES LIFE AT ASHLAND

No Clue to Identity of Man Who Commits Suicide by Shooting Self.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Ashland, Or., Oct. 13.—An unknown man committed suicide here early this morning by shooting himself through the head. He was about 30 years old, dark hair, light blue eyes, and five feet eight tall. No letters or papers were on his person.
 He was well dressed and had a gold watch and $50 in his pockets. He was evidently a rover rather than a laboring man.

CHINESE POST HARD TO FILL

At the Same Time It Is Needed That It Be Filled Right Speedily.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 12.—President Taft is much disappointed over the appointment which required the resignation of Charles R. Crane as minister to China, and is again on a still hunt for a first class man for the place.
 The appointment of Crane was made only after the president and Secretary Knox had combed the field over and offered the place to a number of men who declined the honor. In Crane the president believed he had the ideal man, and so announced at the time.
 It is probable that another appointment will not be made until the President has had a conference with Knox. Meanwhile the situation in Peking is said to be very unsatisfactory to the administration. The president received a long cipher message from Washington last night, but no hint of its purport was made public.
 The president this morning refused to discuss Crane's resignation or the plans of the state department concerning the Chinese post.

ORAL OPERATION SUCCESSFUL

At the Portland Sanitarium Sunday, October 10, in the presence of a number of Portland's leading surgeons and the sanitarium attendants, Dr. J. H. McMahon has started proceedings in the circuit court for this county restraining the Southern Pacific from constructing tracks on Front street and operating trains in front of his property located on that thoroughfare. He alleges that his property has been damaged to the extent of $500, and that lives of his 8-month-old baby, 7-year-old daughter and 14-year-old son will be endangered by the operation of trains on the tracks now being laid in front of his residence. He prays for immediate relief.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BANK THAT FAILED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 12.—Federal Attorney Gordon arrived in this city today to investigate the charges that the officials of the First National bank here accepted deposits within a few minutes before the doors of the institution were closed, following the discovery that a shortage of $250,000 existed. No warrants have been issued.

McMahon Starts Proceedings

Neurasthenia

Also Known as "Nerve Tire" and "Nervous Exhaustion"

has, during the present generation, come to be known as the "National Disease" of America. So prevalent has it become that it is almost an exception to find a person without it. It is usually found associated with nervous dyspepsia, which is often the most prominent symptom. In this age of hurry, worry, hustle and the strenuous life in business many people overwork their nervous systems and put too much strain upon them, which eventually causes a partial or total breakdown. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, through its tonic and rebuilding constituents, will cure these troublesome nervous complaints by supplying the system with those vital elements which it needs to bring about a complete restoration to health.

The processes of tearing down and building up are constantly being carried on in the body, and if nothing interferes with these important processes health results; but when something occurs to check them disease is sure to follow. Duffy's Malt Whiskey overcomes the disease by stimulating the heart and nerves, which quickens the circulation of blood, enabling the system to properly assimilate the food from the alimentary tract; also to adequately eliminate from the system, through the lungs, pores, kidneys and intestines, those waste products, such as uric acid, toxins, etc., which result from the disintegration of the old tissues of the body and the decomposition of alimentum in the alimentary canal.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

If weak and run down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold everywhere by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped on order for $1.00 a bottle.

Our Medical Department will send to every reader of The Journal advice, and an interesting illustrated medical booklet free of charge. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y.
