SPECK REVERSES SCORE OF FIRST

Big Slabster Holds Seals to One Hit and Blanks 'Em.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Speck Harkness turned the tables completely on the Seals yesterday, and Portland won the game by exactly the same score of San Francisco's victory yesterday, 5 to 0. Harkness was in grand form and held the Seals to one lone bingle, Miller's effort in the second inning. The visitors found Durham easy and after he was removed they had no trouble scoring on Easty.

Table with columns: AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows for Cooney, Olsen, Graney, Johnson, McCredie, Fisher, Ort, Speas, Harkness, and Total.

PATTERSON SWIMS AWAY FROM CRACKS

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Phil Patterson, the representative of the Multnomah club of Portland, in the swimming events at the Portland festival won the 400-yard swimming event. He was matched with some of the cracks of the coast, and had no difficulty in outdistancing them.

INDOOR TOSSERS HAVE BUSY FALL

Clouters of Big Sphere Are Hard at Work on Practice.

Encouraged by last season's success, various commercial and club indoor baseball teams are reorganizing and making tentative plans toward a league to decide the city championship.

The Dillworth Derbies are busily engaged in practice games. Pitcher Elmore McKenzie is fanning from 12 to 21 batsmen in a game. C. Barrell holds his offerings in the most approved style.

George Donnerberg is not permitting the weeds to secure a luxuriant growth under his feet and is hustling in the veterans of the Catholic Young Men's club, nine. Jack Tauscher and Ben Briggs, who were with him last season, signed with the Derbies, however.

Jack McConnell of the hospital corps, O. N. G., predicts a hummer of a season and will outfit his club in gray uniforms.

Ray Duncan enters his sixth successive season and is playing second base for company B. He also pitches in an effective manner.

Herschler, Gumm and Hewitt of the Derbies give much promise for being new at the game.

Allie Sweeney of the C. Y. M. C. has managed to gain absolute control and with his famous speed actually burns the atmosphere and incidentally essays the strikeout stunt. He struck out 20 men last Monday night.

George Pembroke of the C. Y. M. C. and Jack Tauscher of the Dillworths are clouting the big ball to all corners of the gymnasium.

Base stealing is a requisite in the game. Hugh McHale, Garroll and Elmore McKenzie are strong in purloining bases.

JOHNSON GIVES ATTORNEY CHASE

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Jack Johnson, black heavyweight champion, was the principal figure in an exciting chase through the streets here yesterday, when, in his large automobile, he tried to evade two deputy sheriffs who were seeking to attach his car.

Johnson owed Attorney Carroll Cook $100 for legal services. He would not pay, so Cook secured an attachment on the negro's automobile. The machine was in a garage for repairs. Cook anticipated that the pugilat would ignore the attachment and so had the two deputies stationed with a second automobile near the garage with authority to take the machine or collect the debt.

Johnson appeared with five husky blacks and a negro attorney. When he heard of the attachment he consigned it to the infernal regions and jumped to the machine, closely followed by his dusky retinue.

The deputies quickly gave chase and at length overtook the fleeing pugilat. The negro then paid the debt and was allowed to motor on his way.

Oakland Forfeits Game. Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—Because Manager Reilly of Oakland refused to leave the field in the customary three minutes after being so ordered by Umpire McGreevy, that official forfeited the game to Oakland, 3 to 0. An exhibition was then played, which Oakland won, 5 to 1.

Batteries—Miller and Chess; Nelson and Lewis.

Boston saw the finish the other night, when, after fighting five rounds, the once great Young Corbett dropped exhausted, and not even his stout heart could keep the pudgy little man at his task.

When the curtain comes down it is always best to remember the good things about the performer. Almost any man can swing a hammer, but the anvil chorus is the most tiresome bit of music in all this world.

Here are a few of the good things about Bill Rothwell, who borrowed another great fighter's name and added lustre to the appellation.

In the first place Young Corbett was game to the last inch. Whatever he attempted, he did with all his might, and the young man was certainly no piker.

If he fought, he slipped over the very best in the ladder.

If he opened wine, he opened it with both hands, doing his best to make it a beautiful feast for the things which can eat.

If he stepped along the primrose path, he stepped so fast that he burned a trail among the daisies and buttercups.

If he went after the wheel or the furo layout, he would bet 'em as high as the houseman would allow.

He was no piker.

SILVER TIPS BOWL RICH WITH MONEY

New York, Oct. 21.—Secretary Rehberger, of the Queens County Jockey club, announced the following entries and stakes to be run during the fall meeting of ten days at Aqueduct: Aqueduct handicap, worth $2500, over a mile and one-sixteenth course—Field Mouse, Mary Davis, Blue Book, King James, Restigouche, Firestone, Mockette, Woodcraft, Fitz Herbert, Fayette, Dorante, High Private, Nimbus, Olambala, Aronack, King's Daughter, Huck, Maskette, Affliction, Jack Atkin and Half Sovereign.

The Silver Tip Cubs bowling three games with a total of 2765 pins took three straight from the Kilekittats last night. The sensation of the evening was the great bowling of C. W. Ball, captain of the Cubs, who bowled high game of 223 and secured the fine average of 308 for the three games.

Table with columns: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, Total. Rows for Silver Tips, West, Palmer, Shaver, Cornish, Gersoni, Kilekittats, Miller, Bass, Kees, Rowe.

Alcos Meet Eugene High. Albany, Or., Oct. 21.—The Alco club football team will play a game with the Eugene High school team Saturday afternoon on the local college field.

Major Taylor, the Worcester bicyclist, rider, is back home from Berlin. He has been abroad since April racing on the European tracks and has made the present season the longest he ever rode in Europe.

FALL MEETING IS RICH WITH MONEY

The dates for the stakes are as follows: October 28, Bell Rose, for two-year-olds and Aqueduct handicap; October 26, Stonybrook; October 23, Roalyn handicap; October 20, Oakdale handicap and Bayview handicap; November 1, Glen Cove; November 2, Beldams handicap for two-year-olds and the Election Day handicap; November 3, Greedmore; November 4, Woodmere; November 6, Babyions for two-year-olds and the Nassau for three-year-olds; November 8, Belle Harbor for two-year-olds. More than $45,000 will be hung up for horsemen during the meeting.

The following events will be run off at Jamaica before the meeting there ends: October 18, Sayville stakes; October 20, Richmond handicap; October 20, Meadowbrook stakes; October 21, Gowanus stakes; October 23, Remsen handicap and Ravenswood handicap; October 25, Laurel stakes.

FORGE LAST LINK IN NEW RELATION SAGACIOUS DUFF LETS OFF WISDOM

Jack Latourette, First University of Oregon Player, Elected Captain. Jack Graney Takes Chances in Baserunning Zeider Would Stop At.

By Hiland Baggerly. San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Speck Harkness was the candy kid yesterday. He performed the feat of pitching a one hit game against the Seals and beating them by the same score that Harkness rubbed into the ducks Tuesday. The only bingle carved from Harkness' assortment of mysteries was Miller's long drive against right field boards. There were some other drives, but fast work on the part of the Portland fielders cut off his hit.

The Seals used two pitchers. Durham was hurt by a batted ball and retired in the eighth in favor of Easty.

Jack Graney is a wild man on the base. He will take more chances than Zeider would dare. Graney is very reckless at times. In the sixth, when he tallied a run the Seals had chances to tag him out twice, but each time the ball was dropped. Easty caught him taking a long lead off first, but Tennant had to drop the ball. Finney had called Jack out, but had to reverse the decision after the ball hit the ground. Claude Berry had Graney at the plate just as fairly as Tennant did at first, but the former muffed the throw likewise.

Duffy Has a Word. "There is a big bunch of luck in hitting," observed "Duff" Lewis, who watched the Seals' feeble efforts from a cozy seat in the grandstand.

"A player will hit the ball on the nose every time that he goes to bat in some games and some times a player will be lucky or unlucky, as the case may be, for a month or more. The first year I played professional baseball, which was in 1907, I didn't hit .200 and I thought I hit as well that season as I have since. The ball that year seemed to fall into somebody's hands, no matter where I drove it.

"Since then things have broken better. Of course, it isn't all luck. Batteries have chances to sneak in hits by watching where the infielders are playing. Frequently one can see a hole and if he is quick about it, can drive the ball through the opening. I don't try to hit to the different outfields as much as I used to.

"If I see the outfielders playing way back I don't swing as hard as I would with them playing close in. But when they come in, that is when I swing hard. In this way I try to outguess the outfielders. Every batter has his favorite ball. I guess they all have to hit the spit ball thrower. It is the hardest thing to connect with a spit ball thrower. I break it down so sharply and is so hard to get hold of. If you can catch before he breaks you are all right. The great trouble with many batters is they pull away when the pitcher bends them around their heads. Batters to hit must learn to stand up to the plate and swing squarely at whatever is pitched. Just as soon as the pitcher can make batters pull away they are helpless on the ball. A crack in the ribs rather than beat a retreat.

Sonderklasse yacht racing promises to draw the greatest attention in American waters next season, that is provided Sir Thomas Lipton does not send a challenge for the America's cup, which will be accepted by the New York Yacht club.

MOVING PICTURES OF WORLD'S SERIES GAME

Moving pictures of the first game of the world's series at Pittsburgh, October 3, reached Portland today, and are being shown at the Hippodrome on Sixth street, near Washington street.

For life-likeness and action it is doubtful if a better set of films was ever filmed off. All the details of play of that great first game are shown, including Detroit's score in the first inning. Fred Clarke's home run that tied the score in the fourth, and Byrne hit in the head by Mullin. A special scene is devoted to the meeting of the two teams at the end of the war club. Babe Adams is shown with his "fish" and in one picture "Fish" Hyatt, the former Vancouver player, is prominently in front.

Casey's All-Stars Against Mack Team. Weather permitting, next Sunday afternoon Pearl Casey's All-Stars, composed principally of Northwestern leaguers wintering in Portland, will compete with the J. G. Mack & Co. independent club. This game promises to be a hummer as the old time favorite, Colly Drahot, of National league fame, will be on the firing line for the Mack "carpet bagger" and as his southside soupçons is not troubling him, he expects to look sweet.

Optimism prevails in the Mack camp, as Manager Gus Behrman is reckoning with past performances as far as ability is concerned. Paul Nadeau, Joe Fay, Ray Henkle, Johnny Shea and Harvey Newell will be included in the lineup and a fast game is assured. The game will be called at 1:30 o'clock at Vaughn street grounds.

YOUNG CORBETT--HE WAS NEVER A PIKER

By C. E. Van Loan. Bill Rothwell's turn on the Queensberry stage is done; ring down the curtain. Bill did what few of them have ever done; he favored the public with an epilogue and he took a rousing encore.

Boston saw the finish the other night, when, after fighting five rounds, the once great Young Corbett dropped exhausted, and not even his stout heart could keep the pudgy little man at his task.

Whatever his record as a ham-and-sawyer, Bill was pure grit after fame found him.

It's a good old yarn they tell about Bill Rothwell's match with McGovern, and the way he raised the money on which to go east and fight the Terrible One.
