

WOULD DISMISS DIVORCE SUIT AND AVOID PAYING MONEY TO WIFE.

President Campbell of University of Oregon Says Howe's Views Will Be Ignored Officially—Pastors Ire Aroused.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 25.—Commenting on Professor Herbert Crombie Howe's expressed doubts as to the divinity of Christ, and of the professor's other unorthodox views that have created intense feeling among churches of Eugene, President Campbell of the University of Oregon, this morning said: "Unless the matter is taken up officially before the board of regents and faculty, there will be no attention paid to it as Professor Howe gave his lectures after university hours and not to the regular classes. It is considered among members of the faculty that it is merely an expression of Professor Howe's private opinion. Professor Campbell's official action is at present contemplated."

When asked this morning relative to the controversy with the Rev. Mr. Mount Professor Howe said: "It was merely a private discussion into which Mr. Mount intruded. It was not a classroom affair, but was held in a classroom for the sake of convenience."

Howe Criticizes Mount. When asked about Rev. Mount's address last night from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Professor Howe said: "I did not attend, as I did not think I would learn much. I understand he did not discuss the issues, but confined himself merely to personalities. The matter in question was not a class recitation. I met with several students out of class hours to discuss these questions. Uninvited the Rev. Mount appeared, his presence spoiled the discussion. We met at a later date and again the Rev. Mount intruded. Several of the students had asked me not to admit him, but I did not care to be discourteous to a clergyman and declined. Thinking he would be present and take exceptions to the discussion, I had prepared a complete set of notes from which I spoke. If the thing continues to be agitated, it may be necessary to publish these notes, as from what I hear Rev. Mr. Mount has misquoted me."

"There was a misconception about the whole matter in that I was regarded as expressing my individual opinion on these questions. It was not so much an expression of my own opinions as an examination of the Bible to see what was actually taught in it. I put forth no theories without texts to support them. I understand that in his address last night Rev. Mr. Mount misquoted me in several particulars. Believes in Christ's Divinity. "Mr. Mount asserted that I denied the distinctive divinity of Christ. I believe in Christ's divinity. I affirmed Christ to be the savior of the world. Mr. Mount accused me of denying the doctrine of atonement. Mr. Mount said I thought that Christ was not sinless. I merely quoted Luke xviii:18—'None is good save one—God.'"

Rev. H. N. Mount, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, devoted his whole sermon last night to Professor

Edward C. Mendenhall, who was ordered to pay $150 per month alimony to Eliza M. Mendenhall pending his suit for divorce, and to pay $500 more as attorney fees to his wife's attorney, executed a coup this morning by asking that his complaint be dismissed. In this way, while he abandons his suit for divorce, he will avoid the payment of the money.

Presiding Judge Bronough said he thought notice should be given the other side before the case is dismissed, and took the dismissal under advisement. As Mrs. Mendenhall, in her answer, although charging serious misconduct of her husband with an affidavit, did not ask for a divorce, Mendenhall probably has a right to dismiss the suit, whether his wife objects or not.

Because of the prominence of the Mendenhalls, the case has attracted much attention, and the dismissal puts an end to a long series of affidavits and motions in which sensational allegations were made. Mendenhall alleged that his wife and her attorney have been trying to extort money from him by threatening to give prominence to charges against him that had no foundation in fact.

The nature of these charges was revealed when his wife filed an answer to his suit alleging that he bought an automobile for the enjoyment of one Maude Cobb, now Mrs. Fred Frederickson, and that he traveled with her in the east. Mrs. Mendenhall also alleged that he had misused money from her father's estate, deceiving her as to transactions connected with it. All of these things Mendenhall denied. He said his wife deserted him and that she has ample property to support herself without requiring him to pay alimony or attorney fees for her lawyer to defend against his suit for divorce.

Howe's beliefs; Rev. D. H. Trimble, pastor of the Methodist church, prefaced his sermon with a few remarks, as follows:

"There is written law that professors in state educational institutions are to keep silent on tenets of religion whether it be Christianity, Buddhism, the Hebrew religion or any other. In the classes are many and mingled beliefs and it is only courtesy that the beliefs of all should be respected and that the professor who attacks the tenets of any religion in his professional capacity is either no gentleman or has for the time being forgotten himself. This is true whether it be done either by open attack, insinuation or innuendo, in his place as individual each man has individual rights, the right of free speech. The matter of expression of opinions is then left to individual judgment and common sense. If a man in the conviction of a positive truth that is essential to the construction of character, duty runs strong upon him to express himself."

Consecrated Brains Needed. "If he doubts and is not on firm ground himself on general principles, it will be a matter of wisdom to keep his doubts under his hat. Some people are prouder of their doubts than wise men are of their discoveries. Most of us have doubts enough of our own and thank nobody for general goodness in a category. The time has come in our civilization when we want neither brilliant bad instructors nor stupid good ones. What God needs more than anything else today is consecrated brains. We must have brilliant and good men of the same man. To that man and to him alone will we entrust the responsibility of the education of our coming citizens."

REV. MOUNT REFUTES STORY PUBLISHED IN MORNING OREGONIAN

University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 25.—The Rev. Mr. Mount said this morning:

"Today's Oregonian misrepresented when it said that Professor Howe called the almost universal sympathy of the student body. I know he has a large following otherwise there would have been no occasion for my saying anything. On the other hand I know that in both faculty and student body I have the unqualified support of at least a great many, and I have reason to believe that among the Christian people of Eugene my position is endorsed without qualification. After the services last night many came forward and thanked me for my talk."

"No; until the discussion I had not had a speaking acquaintance with Professor Howe, though I knew him by sight and reputation. From what I hear he is an able teacher. I do not protest against his private views, but against his holding such views in the classroom and again embarrassing Christian students."

Rev. Mount's Position. "My position is simply this: 'I do not deny the right of any man to hold any belief he may choose. 'I do not want to see dogmatic theology or any ecclesiastical creed taught in the university. 'I believe we owe our natural life and civilization to the tenets of Christianity and I believe the majority of the supporters of the university, that is the taxpayers of Oregon, are Christian men, holding these Christian tenets, and seeking to inculcate them into the young."

"I do not ask that this principle be taught in the university. Certainly I do not ask that the instructors must be identified with any church. But I insist that they respect these things which have been the germs of our national life and of our civilization, called upon to do so no more unreasonable than to insist that they be patriots. I have not asked even this, but only that, respecting these things, they should at least keep silent on their own belief and especially avoid putting Christian students to the plight where they shall appear ridiculous in the presence of their fellows."

GASPIE THUGS BUSY AT SAN FRANCISCO

(United Press Special Wire.) San Francisco, Oct. 25.—The police is thoroughly aroused over the discovery of another victim of a gaspie thug. This is the third man within the past two weeks who has been struck down with a short length of lead pipe in the hands of a robber. While patrolling his beat early today Patrolman Neally came upon the unconscious form of a man who has not yet been identified. Blood was oozing from his ears and an examination at the hospital showed he was suffering from a fractured skull. It is believed the victim will die.

Constipation and Appendicitis

The Latter Usually Caused By The Former, Which, In Turn, Has Its Origin In Intestinal Indigestion.

Chronic constipation is a disease which is about as prevalent as dyspepsia and indigestion. Nearly every one suffers from it occasionally, but there are millions of people who endure it habitually, and who resort to the use of laxatives and cathartics daily.

Many people seemed to have developed a perfect mania for taking pills, and instead of trying to ascertain the latent cause of the disease, and removing it by appropriate measures, they are content to continue the reckless use of laxatives, aperients, drastic cathartics and violent purgatives, until finally inflammation of the bowels occurs, which reaches the appendix, and the result is appendicitis.

In investigating and tracing the causative factors of constipation and its frequent sequel, appendicitis, it has been noted by physicians that the majority of cases were preceded and accompanied by a long standing gastrointestinal indigestion.

The idea that appendicitis is brought on by foreign bodies, such as seeds, etc., and indigestion in the appendix, is an exploded theory. It is now definitely known that constipation is the most prolific cause of this dread disease, while the constipation itself is obviously induced by intestinal indigestion or amyloseous dyspepsia—the inability to digest starches—the relation between cause and effect is readily seen and appreciated.

CHURCH SPEEDS MISSIONARIES

Impressive Services Mark Giving of Commissions to Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg.

First Congregational church, Rev. Luther R. Dyott, pastor, made history for itself yesterday when Rev. Dwight Kellogg and Mrs. Alice Ropes Kellogg received their commissions as missionaries to China. In addition to the support which the First church is giving to seven benevolent societies in the church, and the four scholarships which it is maintaining, it has recently undertaken the sole support of two missionaries to China, and Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are the ones chosen for the new work.

Mr. Kellogg is known as the foreign pastor and Mrs. Kellogg as assistant for she is also paid a salary. Their station will be at Saowu, and they are under contract for not less than eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg have only recently been married and both are from the east. Mr. Kellogg is from Orange, Mass., and was graduated a short time ago from the Bangor, Maine, Theological seminary, while Mrs. Kellogg is a native of Bangor and a graduate of Bryn Mawr.

The formal service of commissioning the new missionaries began at 11 o'clock and a large number of missionaries were present. On the platform were Rev. and Mrs. George W. Hinman, home on account of ill health, but who have been at Foochow, China, for the past 10 years; W. D. Drill, home on a furlough from East Africa; Mrs. Alice P. Adams, who has charge of the Christian social settlement work in Okayama, Japan; Mrs. C. E. Lumm, formerly a missionary in India; Rev. H. Melville Tenney of Berkeley, secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions and district secretary of the Pacific slope; Rev. Luther R. Dyott, pastor, and Rev. Guy L. Dick, assistant pastor. Dr. Dyott preached an impressive sermon, which dealt with the responsibilities of the new missionaries, and at the same time carried congratulation and commendation for their choice of service. All of the music was chosen with reference to missionary work and the

TO MAKE PORTOLA FESTIVAL ANNUAL

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—The Portola festival, just closed, was so successful that it has practically been decided to make the carnival an annual event in this city. The suggestion was made by P. T. Clary, chairman of the Portola committee, and it has met with almost unanimous approval.

The carnival proved to be a great success from a financial and advertising standpoint. More than 1,000,000 persons visited the city during the five days of merrymaking and as a result it is estimated that at least $5,000,000 was put in circulation. The estimated cost of the festival was $120,000. This sum includes only the amount spent by the committee. Practically as much again was expended by private persons for decorations, floats, etc.

SELECTING JURY TO TRY TRAIN ROBBERS

(United Press Special Wire.) Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25.—A jury is being selected here today to try William Matthews, Donald Woods, Jack Shelton, Frank Grigware and Fred Torgenson, who stand charged with holding up the Overland Limited near here on May 22 and stealing seven sacks of registered mail. Woods, Grigware and Torgenson were arrested in this city. Shelton and Lillian Stevenson, who are held as witnesses, were arrested at Denver, June 2. Matthews was arrested at Boise, Idaho, June 8.

FOREIGN WARSHIPS LEAVING BAY CITY

(United Press Special Wire.) San Francisco, Oct. 25.—The British sloops of war Shearwater and Algernine weighed anchor today and sailed for San Diego. Shortly before leaving the ships' officers were paid a farewell visit by members of the Portola festival committee, who boarded the vessels an hour before orders were given to "up anchor." The British cruiser Bedford will remain in this port until Friday, when she

SHANNON SEEKS POLLMAN'S SCALP

Evangelist Precipitates Municipal Row at Baker—Recall Is Invoked.

Baker City, Oct. 25.—As a climax to the fight against Mayor William Pollman by Dan Shannon, the Evangelist, and those who oppose the mayor's plan to improve the water system by building a new pipe line, a recall petition was started Sunday afternoon at the tabernacle where Shannon delivered a rousing address to 1500 men. Two hundred and thirty-eight signatures were secured at the afternoon meeting and in the evening enough voters added their names to convince the recall faction that it would secure the required number of signatures to oust Mayor Pollman from office.

HINKY DINK MUST APPEAR OR LOSE BOND

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Unless Nicholas J. Martin, secretary to Alderman Michael (Hinky Dink) Kenna, is produced in court today or his mysterious disappearance explained satisfactorily, States Attorney Wayman will ask that his bond of $50,000 be forfeited and will make a complaint to the grand jury. Martin was one of the three men indicted on charges of conspiracy to "fix a jury."
