

ADVERTISEMENTS ARE SOON TO BE READY

Oregon Trust Investigations Near Climax—Grand Jury Gathers Up Ends of Testimony Preparatory to Making Formal Charges.

By tonight the grand jury, it is expected, will have drawn up indictments charging the former officials of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank with criminal violations of the banking law.

It seems to be the opinion of those who have been with the grand jury since it first took up the investigation of the bank case that the only men against whom true bills will be found are the five who were arrested Wednesday afternoon and charged with receiving deposits after they knew the bank to be in an insolvent condition.

That many of the bank clerks or assistant cashiers or tellers will be indicted is not probable, were evidently having no disposition on the part of the grand jury to make them share the responsibility for the peculiar operations of the bank with their chiefs.

Graves Reaches Portland. H. A. Graves, formerly assistant cashier of the bank, who at present lives in Oakland, reached Portland this morning, having been summoned by the jury to tell what he knows about the $50,000 item.

According to Graves there was a mysterious brown envelope marked "Cash item" and which a part of the time was carried as $50,000 on the loans and discounts sheets. He never did anything with the item himself, he said, except to enter it or take off the books as Morris or Moore ordered him.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the strange figures that have shown up on the books of the bank never made any of these changes, except under direct instructions from either President Moore or Cashier Morris.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

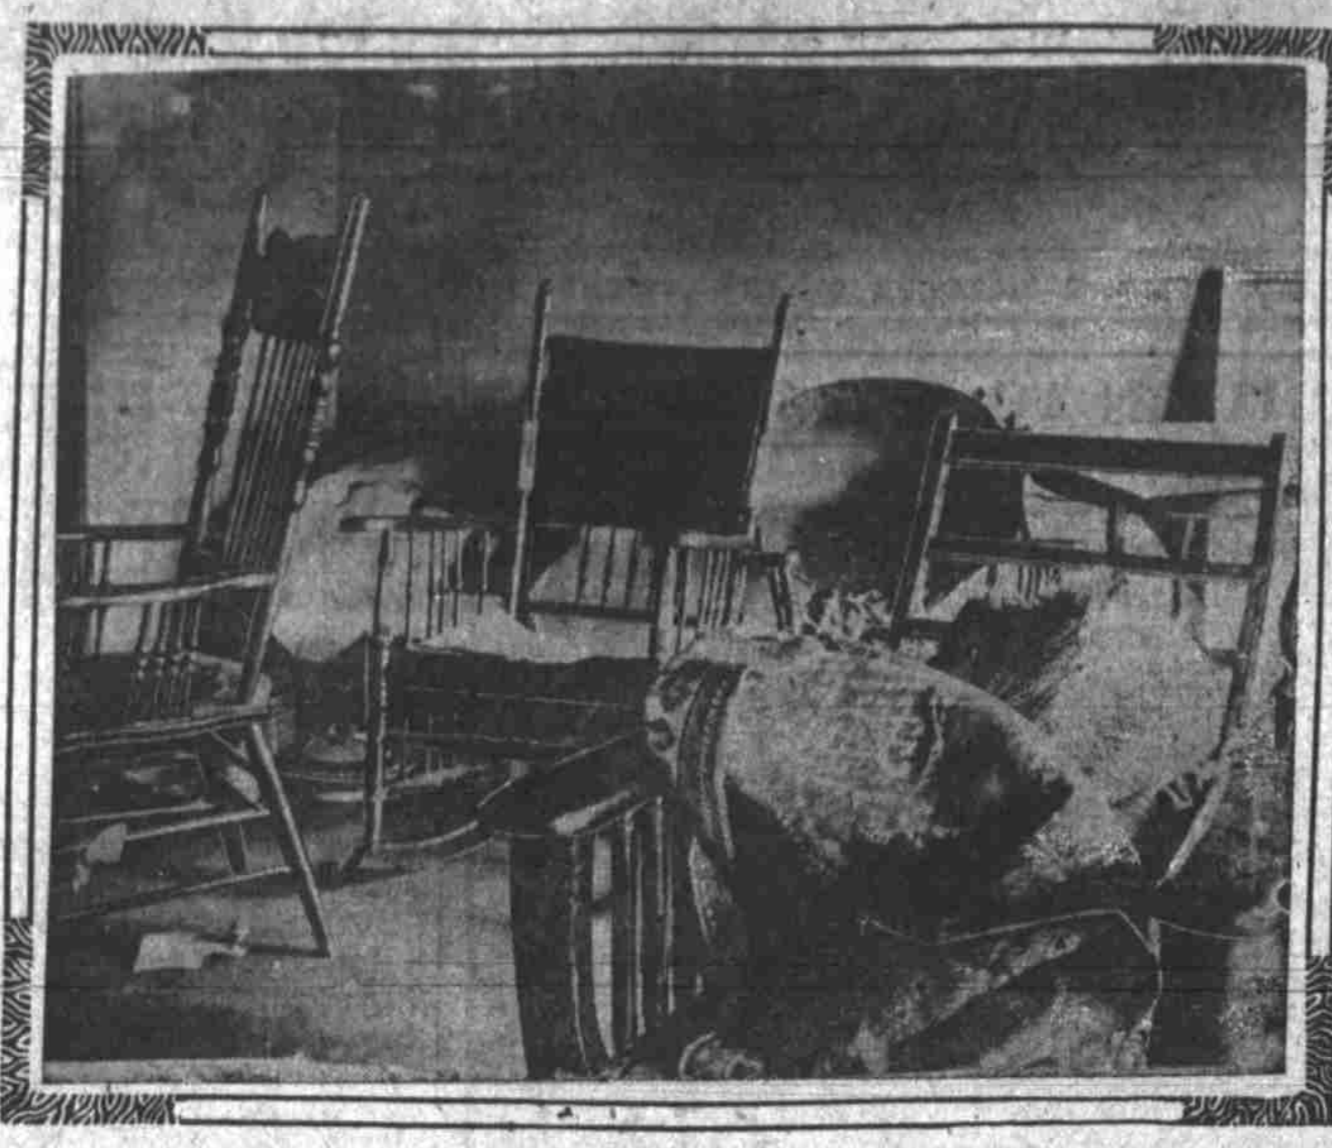

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Graves said that he had no recollection of the district attorney's office for a few minutes with S. G. Reed, and both brought some books and figures which they submitted to the district attorney in connection with the bank case.

Interior View of the Residence of J. P. Sanders, 546 Marshall Street.

sofa raise on edge," he said. "I left immediately."

More than 100 persons entered the house during the afternoon, the quakes keeping up for more than four hours, and thirty today among them Mr. Allen, that when they entered the house they felt electrical vibrations in their legs, arms and hands.

To me it seemed as if I were attached to some electrical dynamo, or was receiving such weak shocks as are often gets from a telephone," averred Mr. Allen.

Practically every one who entered the house experienced the same sensations, produced according to electrical experts, probably by static electricity from the ground in conflict with that in the air.

Later in the afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, a woodpile directly across the street from the Sanders residence and stretched along the curbing at the side of the drugstore, toppled and partially fell on its side, into the street.

Many of the curious who had gathered in front of the house, ran when the woodpile fell. The wood heap is directly across the street from the house and would probably have been in line with the disturbance.

C. C. Harris, expert electrician, employed by the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, was sent to the house to make an inspection by C. E. Hickman, commercial manager of the company. He inspected all connections, found that the telephone was working properly and had not been affected, and that there were no other electrical connections to the residence.

Only One Mouse Affected. One peculiar circumstance is that no other house but the two story frame structure occupied by the Sanders, was affected in the neighborhood. J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

But in the neighborhood of J. O. Berg, a painter and paper hanger, lives on Sixteenth street, directly in the rear of the Sanders home.

Both he and his wife were at home during the afternoon, but felt no shocks or vibrations and perceived at any time during the afternoon. Next door neighbors and those living in a direct line through several blocks, thought to be in the line of the quake, asserted they had felt nothing.

KING GEORGE MAY LOSE JOB

Naval Officer Starts Trouble—Revolution in Greece Is Almost Certain.

Athens, Oct. 25.—Leading a revolt looking to the enforcement of a demand that all the higher officers of the Grecian navy retire, a naval officer named Tzypallos, heading 800 men, today seized the naval arsenal at Salamis.

Tzypallos and his followers are fortifying the place in an effort to resist attempts to dislodge them. Practically all of the younger officers are in sympathy with the revolt.

They claim that many of the older officers are too old and unfit for service. The outbreak undoubtedly is part of an anti-dynastic movement, but the military league which is fostering the movement denounces Tzypallos as a traitor.

They claim that he acted prematurely and has upset their plans. This move, many believe, will force the hand of the military league and cause an immediate revolution.

The abdication of King George, which has long been expected, is now believed to be imminent.

Tzypallos' Threats. Tzypallos, who was the commander of a torpedo and submarine flotilla, has rendered the fleet practically helpless by seizing the arsenal. The fleet is at Korinth on the opposite side of the island from the arsenal, and it has not attempted to make a move against the mutineers, who are reported to have the sympathy of the fleet and the entire navy.

It is reported that the navy claims that the recent revolt benefited only the army. The jealousy that exists between the army and the navy is deepening the soldiers' sentiment against the mutineers from deserting.

Tzypallos has sent an ultimatum to the league, demanding that it support him for commander of the navy, and announces that unless his demands are met, he will destroy the arsenal, proclaim himself dictator and assume control of all Greece or else abdicate.

A regiment of infantry and artillery has been sent to Megara, which is directly opposite the arsenal, of which Tzypallos has taken possession.

VAUDEVILLE BENEFIT AT THE BUNGALOW

Everything is in readiness for the musical and vaudeville entertainment to be given at the Bungalow theatre tonight for the benefit of the St. Michael church debt fund under the direction of E. J. Quillman. The curtain will rise at 8:25 o'clock.

The program gives promise of many unusually entertaining features. Among the different features will be a vocal solo by Miss Ada Barnickel, and a reading by Rev. T. E. Sherman, E. J. McInerney Flynn and Mrs. Kathleen Lawler. Belcher will also deliver vocal solo.

One of the major parts of the program will be the performance of "Richelle" by a large cast.

Other entertaining items make up the program, among them readings, recitations, a harp solo by Miss Tillie Jennings, and several instrumental selections.

NEW SKIN REMEDY STOPS ALL ITCHING

Skin Troubles of Adults and Infants Quickly Cured. When it is known that poslam, the new skin discovery, will stop the torturous itching attending eczema with first application and bring immediate relief and comfort to sufferers from all skin troubles, its merit will be appreciated and its wonderful success understood.

On the tender skin of aching infant, poslam may be used with soothing and beneficial effects. It is applied externally, and its remarkable healing powers begin at once.

All skin diseases, including eczema, scabs, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield immediately to poslam. Occasional applications, in small quantities, will quickly banish pimples, hives, blackheads, blotches, and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc.

A special 2-cent package is prepared for those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles. This, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is on sale at the Skidmore Drug Co., the Woodard, Clarke & Co., and other leading drug stores in Portland.

An experimental supply of poslam may be obtained free of charge by writing to the Skidmore Laboratories, 21 West Twenty-fifth street, New York.

QUAKES FELT IN CALIFORNIA

Shocks Last 15 Minutes—Wires Down to Eureka—Eight Shocks in All.

(United Press Lead Wire.) San Francisco, Oct. 29.—The seismograph at the University of California at Berkeley registered eight distinct earthquake shocks last night, extending over a period of 5 minutes and 56 seconds, the first record having been made at 10:46:07 o'clock.

Reports from Nevada City, Redding, Chico, northern parts of California and from Grants Pass and southern Oregon, say that the shocks were felt and in some instances caused much fear.

The telephone and telegraph wires to Eureka, Cal., are down, having failed to work soon after the shocks were felt. It is feared that the shock was severe in that section, though the wires might have been put out of commission by a tree or a boulder being loosened on a hillside.

The center of the shock is said to have been in Trinity country, Cal., where chimneys are reported to have toppled over.

The record of the seismograph is one of the clearest ever made at the Berkeley observatory. The officials, who made up the report at noon today, found that the first tremor, however, was recorded very faintly and for the reason it was difficult to estimate the location or the severity of the shocks.

They estimated, however, that the center of the movement was more than 150 miles away.

IRRIGATION DISTRICT FORMED IN MALHEUR

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Ontario, Or., Oct. 29.—Petitions are now being circulated for the organization of an irrigation district for the settlers residing on the south side of Niver company, who are financing the Malheur project. The Trowbridge-High Line canal, favors the plan and has signified its willingness to take up the bonds, agreeing to furnish water at $50 an acre. The company has surveyors at work on the north side ascertaining the most feasible plan for furnishing water for that section. It looks very much as though the company and the settlers would be able to come to a satisfactory agreement for the watering of the entire body of land embraced in the Malheur project.

REED SETTLES WITH WIFE AND SEPARATES

Louis B. Reed, Portland attorney, was this afternoon granted a divorce from Madge B. Reed by Circuit Judge Gatens. A full statement between the two was made, Reed giving over to the woman all his property, the earnings of his law office in Wisconsin, household goods, and a promissory note on his father, L. B. Reed, to become due 90 days after the death of the parent.

Mrs. Reed took the stand this afternoon, testifying to their marriage in Oshkosh, Wis., in 1904, and to subsequently learning that he had lost heavily in gambling games. She was awarded the custody of their child.

POLICE HAVE SUSPECT

(Continued from Page One.) Friends, while his friends were looking for him, under the impression that he was injured or dead, he was being subjected to the mercurial third degree at the city jail.

In an effort to wring a confession from him, a "poker" strategy was resorted to. For eight days he was bullied, threatened and hounded and during this time there was no charge against him.

After being subjected to a writ of habeas corpus as a weapon that forced the police to place a charge against him.

"Now that he has been charged with a crime we hope for a speedy trial, at which I propose to prove that my client is absolutely innocent."

BIC FIGHTERS SIGN

(Continued from Page One.) The terms as they were agreed upon, or emphatically disavowing when some point was brought up which did not meet with their approval. After the terms had been agreed upon, the fighters and their manager put their signatures to the agreement and the first step towards the big battle had been taken.

The terms suggested, and Jeffries agreed that made by the clubs for the contest should be speeded at the Hotel Algonquin December 4.

ISAM WHITE CALLED BY DEATH

Pioneer Merchant and Capitalist of Portland Ends Long Career After Illness That Extends Over Period of a Year.

Isam White, capitalist, 46 years ago the owner of the largest merchandise store in Portland, died at his home, 85 North Twentieth street at 9:30 this morning. Death came after a long struggle of diabetes, with complications which had kept him confined to his home for the past year. It was the gradual ending of a life filled with business activity, and in which he made hundreds of friends.

It was in 1859 that Isam White first came to the Pacific coast, the Fraser river excitement in British Columbia drawing him to the coast. He was there but a short time when the many tales told of the rich Oregon country weaned him away from the north and caused him and his brother to settle in Portland, where they afterwards made their fortunes.

Well Known Old Store. To the old resident of the city of Portland, the store owned by Isam & L. White, at the corner of First and Washington streets, was as well known as are the stores of Meier & Frank, Lipman & Wolfe, and Olds, Wortman & King to the woman of today. It was there that they bought the clothes and household goods with which the pioneer homes were furnished. Goods came to them by ship, across country and when the railroads finally reached here, one of the first to receive a consignment of freight was the White store.

Isam and Levi White, the latter dead some 13 years ago, were the partners in the store. They were partners not only in this business but also in every business venture, either of them ever went into. Starting from the old country together 68 years ago they were practically inseparable up to the time of the death of Levi White in 1888.

Isam's participation in business in 1853 and up till a year ago Isam White had enjoyed the best of health.

A year ago Mr. White's health began to wane. All through life a robust man he was only in his 70th year that he knew much sickness. Diabetes set in in a severe form and despite the efforts of his physician complications set in from time to time which finally weakened him so that three weeks ago he was forced to take to his bed.

A week ago he began to sink rapidly and it was only then a matter of time before the end came.

He passed away this morning at 9:30 with but little suffering. At his bedside were his wife, his nephew, I. L. White, and his niece, Miss Gertrude White, the only members of the White family in this country to survive him. There are a number of distant relatives in Germany.

The funeral will be held Monday morning with services at the house, 85 North Twentieth street, and at the crematorium. The services at the crematorium will be under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, Harmony chapter, of which he was a member. The service at the house will be under the direction of Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, friends only being invited. The services at the crematorium will be public.

Born in Germany. Isam White was born in Bavaria, Germany, 72 years ago. When only nine years of age he came to New York in company with his older brother, Levi. While still young men the two brothers went to Alabama where, with Montgomery as their headquarters, they conducted a wholesale merchandise business. In 1853, they were two of many thousands more who were taken with the "gold fever" and hid themselves to the mountains. They had been there but a short time when they once again listened to the tales of wealth to be had in another section and came to Oregon where they settled.

Their first business venture was that of the merchandise store known as the store of I. & L. White, a retail affair. Later they entered the wholesale field, the store then being known as I. White & Co. In 1880 a partnership was formed with the Goldsmith interests, the store then being known as White, Goldsmith & Co. This store occupied a full block between Front and Ankeny and Burnside streets. In 1883 both brothers drew out of the business and the partnership was dissolved.

No Children. Isam White was married 36 years ago to Miss Rosefeld, sister of Sol Rosefeld. There were no children from the marriage, the only direct relatives being Miss Gertrude White and I. L. White. He lived at 85 North Twentieth street, back of the Arlington club, for many years, and died at his home, 85 North Twentieth street.

Two of the best friends Isam White had were J. N. Deal and Adolph Wolfe. J. N. Deal had been his attorney for years. Bar men were greatly grieved to hear of the death of their old friend.

"A better or more honest man never lived than Isam White," said Adolph Wolfe. "But few people were better acquainted with him than I, for I had known him intimately from the time he reached here up till his death, and had known of him for 10 years previous to his coming here. He was as honest and upright as a man ever was, and it is with sincere grief that I think of his ending."

Mr. White gave large amounts to charity, but in such an unostentatious manner that few knew of it. He took active interest in public affairs, being a member of the Taxpayers' league, among other organizations.

REV. FATHER LANE'S RESIDENCE COMPLETED

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Albany, Or., Oct. 25.—The new St. Mary's rectory was formally opened yesterday and a large number of people of the city enjoyed the hospitality of the pastor, Rev. Father Lane. The residence is a modern structure, splendidly arranged and richly furnished, equipped for comfort and entertainment. An impromptu program was rendered during the evening, particularly favored in including Father Lane and his accomplished niece of Brooks. Father Servais, the assistant, is proving a capable helper in the work and has a suite of rooms in the rectory. A richly furnished room always awaits a visit from the bishop. Several pictures, were the work of Father Lane's mother, and a sword of General Lane, once presented him on an important occasion, hang on the wall of the grandsons' room.

TUG HOMER TO BE LAUNCHED TOMORROW

The tug Homer, built by the St. Johns Shipbuilding company at St. Johns, is to be launched tomorrow morning from the yard. The tug, which is one of the finest of the street, will be used for towing wood barges to the company's yard in Albany.

Advertisement for The Best $3 Hat in the World, featuring a hat illustration and the text 'BEN SELLING LEADING CLOTHIER'.

Advertisement for W. R. Hearst's Weekly Talks on New York Election, featuring a portrait of a man and the text 'WOMAN ESCAPES FROM OFFICERS'.

Advertisement for Italian Witness Makes Dash From Immigration Inspectors, featuring a portrait of a man and the text 'Colonel Harvey of Harper's Weekly Talks on New York Election'.

Advertisement for Colonel George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, with text 'Colonel Harvey of Harper's Weekly Talks on New York Election'.

Advertisement for Former Sheriff Is Seriously Injured, with text 'Several drummers stop off at Haines nearly every day'.

Advertisement for The Flavor Is Different, featuring Burnett's Vanilla and text 'That is why Burnett's Vanilla stands in a class by itself'.

Advertisement for Present This 50c Coupon, with text 'Any of Our 100 Stores'.

Advertisement for Free! Free! Free!, with text 'This Coupon Must Be Presented at Time of Purchase'.

Advertisement for Tug Homer to Be Launched Tomorrow, with text 'The tug Homer, built by the St. Johns Shipbuilding company at St. Johns, is to be launched tomorrow morning'.

Advertisement for School days are the days when most of the important habits of life are formed, with text 'Teach your children the daily use of Dr. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder'.

Advertisement for Dr. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder, with text 'SCHOOL days are the days when most of the important habits of life are formed'.

Advertisement for Epileptic Fits, with text 'There is nothing more frightful in a happy home than to have one of its members instantly seized with a dreadful attack of Epilepsy or Fits'.

Advertisement for Bic Fighters Sign, with text 'The terms as they were agreed upon, or emphatically disavowing when some point was brought up which did not meet with their approval'.

Advertisement for Little Soldiers, with text 'In your blood are the millions of corpuscles that defend you against attacks of disease'.

Advertisement for Little Soldiers, with text 'To make and keep these little soldiers healthy and strong, is simply to make and keep the blood of the right quality and quantity'.

Advertisement for Little Soldiers, with text 'This is just what Hood's Sarsaparilla does—it helps the little soldiers in your blood to fight disease for you'.

Advertisement for Little Soldiers, with text 'It cures scurf, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, dizziness, general debility, and builds up the whole system'.