

ENGLISH CITY ON PURE MILK

American Consul Furnishes Copy of Circular From Birmingham.

Consul Albert Halstead furnishes the following copy of a circular, issued by the health department of Birmingham, containing suggestions looking to making the milk supply of that English city as free as possible from the infection of tuberculosis.

The health committee desire to offer you the necessary veterinary assistance and tuberculin on the conditions set out in the letter. The primary object is that the milk supply of Birmingham shall be as free from the infection of tuberculosis as possible. In addition there will be the great advantage of preventing the ravages of tuberculosis among your dairy herds and the consequent gain involved. The details of the scheme are as follows:

- Details of Scheme.
- (1) The scheme to apply only to townships situated within 10 miles of the city, and from which milk is sent to Birmingham, with the additional limitation that it shall only apply to sheds suitable for the purpose; (2) the corporation to supply free of charge the necessary tuberculin and veterinary assistance for the testing of the cows twice annually, and also the necessary veterinary assistance and advice in carrying out the scheme; (3) the farmer to undertake to separate the diseased from the healthy cows and to gradually get rid of the diseased animals. Cows with tuberculosis of the udder to be dried off and sold for slaughter; (4) the farmer to permit the marking of animals free from tuberculosis by means of a lead button on one ear; (5) the farmer to carry out the necessary disinfection after the removal of an infected cow from the shed; (6) a certificate to be issued quarterly to those farmers who keep their herds free from tuberculosis; (7) a list of farms at which the cattle are being kept free from tuberculosis to be printed and supplied to any person in Birmingham who desires such a list.

An editorial in the Birmingham Post commending the health office for its efforts to secure pure milk for the city, manifesting appreciation of every effort to eradicate the scourge of consumption, remarks the fact that there are more than 300,000 men afflicted with tuberculosis in England and Wales, and that the sanitation for a purer milk supply is the direct consequence of a knowledge obtained through expert scientific and medical investigation that a certain proportion of cases human tuberculosis results from the consumption of milk infected with tuberculosis. It then comments upon the new policy as follows:

The scheme of the Birmingham health committee will endeavor to combat the disease at its source, by supplying dairy farmers, free of charge, with the necessary tuberculin and veterinary assistance for the testing of their cows. The idea is that by these means diseased animals may be weeded out of the herd and that eventually the city may hope to receive a supply of milk absolutely free from the taint of the germs of tuberculosis.

Churns Garry Tuberculosis.
It is admitted by the health committee that there must be a slight increase in the price of milk for a good many years to come, but the milk supply of the city ought ultimately to be above suspicion. Samples of milk delivered in the city and analyzed have revealed that the contents of from 10 to 14 per cent of the churns contain the living germs of tuberculosis.

This is an unsatisfactory, not to say serious, condition of things; one in which no local authority with a conscientious regard for the maintenance of the public health, and especially for the prevention of excessive infantile mortality, can tacitly acquiesce. We hope the health committee will overcome the difficulties in the path of reform and realize their ambition. There can be no difference of opinion as to the necessity of supporting any provisions that are calculated to check the evil and eliminate the dangers associated with either tuberculous milk or any other impure article of food.

PIONEERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

People Who Helped Make Southern Oregon History Celebrate at Klamath.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 9.—More than 300 men and women who helped make southern Oregon history met in this city yesterday to participate in the first social event of the Klamath Basin Pioneer association. The gathering was comprised of many of the best known families in the country. The organization is comprised of those who migrated to the Klamath basin before the close of the year 1889, but there were many who have known this land as their home for more than 40 years.

O. A. Stearns, the president of the association and the first white settler in the Klamath basin, presided at the meeting. His address of welcome was followed by a literary program consisting of selections by members of the association and music by the Pioneer Double Male quartet. The reading of a poem written by Captain O. C. Applegate, one of Klamath's oldest and most venerable citizens, brought forth a great deal of applause. The production was a graphic description of a mother's courage during those stormy days when Captain Jack and his band of hostile Indians were inflicting untold hardships and tortures on the settlers.

Following the program the pioneers and their families enjoyed a banquet at which many tales of the long ago were related. The days of Indian warfare were lived through again. Old neighbors who have become lost to one another in recent years, met again and told of the times when they rode 29 to 40 miles on horseback across the sagebrush plains just to enjoy a social visit and to learn the news from the old home. These times have long since been history, made so by the rugged men and noble women who planted the banner of civilization in a wilderness.

KING OBSERVES BIRTHDAY SIMPLY AT SANDRINGHAM

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Nov. 9.—King Edward VII is celebrating his 68th birthday privately at his residence at Sandringham, Norfolk, today. His birthday was officially celebrated on Coronation day last June.

Court etiquette forbids the presentation of gifts except from members of the royal family, but tenants and employees of the king's own estate are allowed to make kindly little offerings and with these Edward is fairly overwhelmed today.

At Sandringham house the party is very select and the festivities, though hearty, are on an extremely modest scale. Among those present are Queen Alexandra, Queen Maud of Norway, the king's daughter, and her little son, Prince Olaf, the Prince and Princess of Wales and their children, the Earl of Rosebery, the Portuguese ambassador, the Marquis De Soveral, who is a close personal friend of his majesty, and the Duke, Duchess, Princess Patricia and Prince Arthur of Connaught.

This morning there was a shooting party, and tonight there will be a banquet.
