Prices of Breadstuffs on Rise in Metropolis—Use of Substitutes Will Be Resorted to by Economical Housewives.

Clarence E. Spayd.
(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 20.—Breadstuffs in New York have been soaring for some time, and this week comes the announcement that butter is to go to 50 cents a pound, milk 10 cents a quart, and eggs 60 cents a dozen, with a strong intimation that bread will soon either go up in price or the size of the loaf will be reduced. This is the situation which confronts not only the millions of New Yorkers, but almost every one living within a short radius of the Great Metropolis.

This situation has aroused much anxiety among retailers who have gone to their wholesale suppliers for relief. This has resulted in inquiries going out how the situation can best be met. It is a tour of the wholesale district the other day where foodstuffs are handled by the train and shipload, and found that many substitutes will be made, or an attempt at least, on the part of those dealers to circumvent the advance which has been made in the price of the commodity. For some time New Yorkers have felt that when they have reached the limit of fixed charges on living expenses, and the last announcement has brought such a storm of protest that the wholesalers felt a decided change is bound to take place to meet the demand.

Driven to Substitutes.
"In all probability," said a wholesale butter dealer who handled carloads of this dairy product at one time, "the substitutes for butter, now so popular in many parts of the world, will find a ready sale in New York. Oleomargarine, tallow, and the like, you will find, will appear on sale in grocery stores where heretofore the patrons of these high class places turned up their noses at even such a suggestion. It is evident to me that the great majority of which constituted the market cannot afford to pay 50 cents a pound for butter and by reason of necessity will be driven to substitute for it. When they learn that the substitutes can be bought for 20 or 25 cents a pound, and that the better quality can scarcely be told from first class butter, housewives, who usually do the saving for the entire family, will be very quick to entirely abandon the purchase of butter.

While it will be to my advantage financially to sell the substitutes for butter, I would much prefer to continue handling the genuine article, but I am afraid I will be driven into the oleomargarine business because of the existing high prices of this commodity.

Signal System Possible.
The wreck on the Pennsylvania road outside the Jersey City terminal the other day which destroyed four tracks, although not of the very extensive character, in a way paralyzed the whole system. A warning, and because they believe the road was tied up on account of the defective signal system, Superintendent Abercrombie may install an entirely new system for the Pennsylvania lines. This is a feature which railroad officials from all parts of the country are carefully watching because they have heretofore believed the signal system of the Pennsylvania railroad to be perfect, and a model for all others to follow. It will mean the investment of millions of dollars, and may revolutionize the method of control of trains operated in America.

Fruit Shipments Ordinary.
Some 50 carloads of California oranges arrived in New York City during the last week. As high as $7.25 was realized on the Old Mission brand, but sales of other fruit ranged from $3.50 to $4.25. This is considered only a fair shipment for this time of year, but it is expected that during the coming week the great Christmas supply will begin to arrive. It being pointed out that an effort is being made to avoid the transportation of this fruit during the cold weather. The blunder which someone is responsible for in holding back of the California supply in the great loss to both grower and shipper. This fruit if on the markets here now would be very saleable, there being a heavy demand for it everywhere.

Apples in Demand.
"The apple crop of Washington has been picked," remarked the proprietor of one of the largest New York City hotels today. "I always watch this crop and arrange to take over the big supply in my own name. I have got into the habit of asking for this particular brand." A wholesaler with whom I talked said that a noticeable feature of the state of Washington apple crop this year was the absence of speculation, prices having been agreed upon a long time ago and growers know exactly what they are getting and where their product is going to.

CAR COMPANY TO GET "INSIDE"

Pressed Steel Car Company At Waterways Convention Gives Object Lesson in Washington.

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 20.—The Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh, which was recently in the throes of a long strike, is establishing a branch at Washington, D. C., not for the purpose of acquiring new business in that district, but to keep in direct touch with governmental affairs. This is following out the policy of President H. N. Hofstott, who claims that within a few years every corporation of any size in the United States will maintain a similar office in the national capital to keep close watch on what the government is doing and make a report to the head office. The corporations won't trust to the newspapers to disseminate the nation's news of executive officers and offices; they will maintain their own clerical sleuths.

"Business is taking the place of politics in our government," said Mr. Hofstott, who returned from Washington, where he looked over the new office of the pressed steel car concern. "The government of this country is becoming more commercialized every day. This will increase as the years pass. My own view is that every big industrial firm should keep in touch with the doings of the government and particularly those departments devoted to commercial and industrial interests."

COUNTY AUDITOR IS NOT AN EMBEZZLER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
South Bend, Wash., Nov. 20.—A. P. Leonard, former county auditor, charged with embezzlement of public funds, was acquitted by a jury in superior court this morning. Shortly after Leonard left his office his books were examined and salmon license fees amounting to nearly $5000 were found to have been retained by him. He immediately made the shortage good to the county. A grand jury afterward indicted him on a charge of embezzlement, which resulted in the present trial. The defense was that no intention was shown on the part of the defendant to defraud the county, all records being intact and the shortage promptly paid when he was informed of same.

Hugh M. Smith's Birthday.

Dr. Hugh McCormick Smith, deputy commissioner of the United States bureau of fisheries, was born in Washington, D. C., November 21, 1865, and received his education in the public schools of that city and in the medical department of the Georgetown university. He entered the fish commission in 1886 as an assistant, and through various promotions attained his present office in 1902. He was director of the fish commission's laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., in 1901 and 1902, and was one of the special agents in charge of fishes in the tenth census. He has general charge of the biological survey of the Philippine waters and is familiar with fishes not only from a scientific standpoint, but from every other standpoint, having visited many foreign countries to study fisheries and represented the United States at various fishery congresses.

OLD NORFOLK WIDE AWAKE

Surveyors in Vicinity of Brownsville Said to Be in Employ of Government.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Brownsville, Or., Nov. 20.—A large party of surveyors have been in this vicinity for the past two months. There are about 15 men in the party. It is thought they are surveying and running levels with the view to irrigating an immense tract of land in the upper end of the valley. The government has had irrigation engineers and experts here several times making estimates on irrigation cost, etc.

The surveyors have reported that there is enough water in the Willamette (taking in consideration the waste water that during the winter could be stored up in an artificial lake) to irrigate the whole Willamette valley. It is thought that the party now here are government surveyors.

They will get vast results before long. Tonight the whole corps of Washington correspondents and magazine writers believe this part must be reckoned with as a dominating element when its natural advantages shall have been utilized. Their belief will be reflected in 10,000 ways, permeating every article written for years to come. Five hundred columns of matter will be written within a month as a direct result of this excursion—matter which could not be bought for $100,000. Yet this junket cost the people here perhaps $10,000.

Western Projects Not Heard Of.
Keen presence plus wonderful hospitality made possible a combination to focus on the unquestioned strategy of its location the attention of a corps of writers who, largely, can make or unmake great projects. These people chartered a steamer, hotels and everything incident to such a journey, achieving unprecedented success. President Taft was chief guest, while senators, representatives and governors had their special provision.

There was talk of a great project for a series of canals just inside the coast line, from Boston to Galveston, and of deepening the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Yet the Columbia, Snake, Willamette, Puget sound and California waterways projects were not even heard of.

WALLA WALLA SHOW WILL BE ENLARGED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 20.—The premium list of the Walla Walla poultry show is being mailed out to prospective exhibitors for the show which will be held January 22-24. Twenty cups are offered besides $250 in cash and a number of specials.

The show last year brought fowls from many sections of eastern Washington and Oregon, and assurances received by Secretary Dickinson who attended the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition in charge of an exhibit from Walla Walla were that the entire entry lists would be greatly swelled at the coming show.

MAY BE SCHEME OF IRRIGATION

27 CARS PALOUSE WHEAT FOR THE EAST

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)

Twenty-seven cars of bluestem and red Russian wheat, grown in the Palouse belt south of Spokane, were shipped to this city and St. Louis this month.

SELLS WHISKEY; PLEADS GUILTY

Two Men Arrested at Condon; One Will Stand Trial—Bootlegging.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Condon, Or., Nov. 20.—James Campbell, a former saloon man of Condon, pleaded guilty to selling whiskey contrary to the local option law before Recorder Fitzmaurice this morning, and David Anderson pleaded not guilty to a similar charge. Campbell was placed under $300 bonds and will be sentenced Monday at 2 p. m. Anderson, who acted as bartender, asked for time to prepare his defense, and was placed under $150 bonds. His case will be tried Monday at 7:45 p. m. His attorney will be D. H. Parker and witnesses will be summoned from the country. Jay Bowerman, president of the state senate, will act as attorney for the prosecution. Since the departure of Marshal Debono two weeks ago, liquor has been flowing freely in Condon and it is hoped this will end "bootlegging." In former cases that have come before Recorder Fitzmaurice, those convicted have been fined $250, but more severe penalties are looked for in these cases.

BUY SWASTIKA

The Swastika Mines are located in the Lake View district, on Lake Pend O'Reille, northern Idaho, one of the richest silver-lead districts in the world. Organized under the laws of Idaho and capitalized for $500,000. The development work is in charge of J. W. Ferguson, a mining man of unquestionable integrity and ability. Mr. Ferguson has had much experience in mining, and has spent a number of years in Idaho, and is thoroughly familiar with the conditions existent there. He has aided in making many mines in the past, and it is his opinion that none of the properties on which he has operated were more promising than the Swastika group.

The Present Management Has owned this property but a quarter of a year, and already has five hundred tons of ore on the dump, worth $6000. This ore, it is expected and confidently believed, will be marketed within the next ninety days. It is announced that the Panhandle smelter, which is only thirty miles distant from the Swastika, will reopen January 1.

What We Desire to Do Is to sell sufficient stock to defray the cost of continued development, until we can realize from our ores, when stock will be withdrawn and our books closed.

This Is a Superb Property And it affords a wonderful opportunity for the investor to make a quick and large profit on his investment, whether it be $10 for 100 shares or $100 for 1000 shares, or larger sums, however great.

SEE THE VALUABLE SPECIMENS Of ore taken from this property at the company's office. Stock for sale for cash or installments. Room 16, 268 STARK ST. SWASTIKA MINING & DEVELOPING CO.
