FINDS JEWELS IN RED LIGHT DISTRIC

Rescue Worker with Thirteen Years of Service on Visit to Portland.

Mrs. Florence Roberts, who has recently come to Portland from California will be introduced to Oregon tonight at the First M. E. church south, Multnomah street and Union avenue. The subject of her address will be "Jewsla." She will sing a jewel song, the words and music of which are her own composition, with accompaniment on her auto harp, which has seen active serv-ice in San Quentin prison, and which was given her by a young man whose parole she secured.

Mrs. Roberts, better known as "Mother Roberts." has come to assist in the work of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective society, a non-sectarian mis-sionary and philanthropic organisation. Mrs. Roberts has been in the work for 13 years, and is well known to the so-ciety as a capable and consecrated rescue worker, especially among girls and children, her work covering all of Cali-

For the present she will work Portland as evangelist and lecturer-atlarge. In the daytime she will visit the "scarlet district" and so-called hotels and rooming houses searching for "jewels." She will then cover the anire state, visiting every 'scarlet district," large or small; every county jail and all questionable places; not with the aim and desire to parade or make merchandise of any poor unfortunate boy or girl, but to protect and save, for that is the great purpose of Mrs. Rob-erts, as well as of the society. Mrs. Roberts will speak at the Sec-ond Baptist church, East Seventh and Sand Cribs at Foot Ankeny Threaten to Collapse Under Heavy Load.

Teamsters are preparing to file complaint against the owners of sand cribs at the foot of Ankeny street, charging maintenance of an unsafe structure. Appearance of the cribs seems to verify the correctness of their complaints. Supports insecurely founded bear the dead weight of many thousand tons of sand, gravel, and crushed rock.

These supports have slipped as the upper structure has careened until they lean at an angle of nearly 45 degrees. Between the rows of supports are wagon roads used by those who carry Nichols undertaking establishaway sand and gravel and by teamsters going to the plant of the Diamond Brick company, just beyond.
