

THANKSGIVING SERVICES AT CHURCHES

Special Programs Have Been Prepared for Tomorrow and Some Will Go to Extent of Serving Regular Dinners.

Union Thanksgiving services among the churches will be quite the order of the day tomorrow morning. The Presbyterian and United Presbyterian churches will hold union service at the First Presbyterian church, Twelfth and Alder, at 10:30. Rev. George W. Arms, president of the Presbyterian Ministerial association, will preside, and about 20 churches will be represented. The president's proclamation will be read by Rev. Charles W. Hays; the scripture reading will be by Rev. William Parsons; prayer by Rev. Frank D. Findley; sermon by Rev. Thomas H. Walker; benediction by Rev. W. S. Holt. The music will be furnished by the quartet of First church.

All of the Methodist churches on the east side will unite at the First M. E. church South, Union and Multnomah at 10:30. Twenty-five churches will be represented, and all of the ministers will have seats on the platform. Music will be furnished by the First Church South, and the sermon will be preached by Rev. Clarence True Wilson, on "God's Providence in Dealing With This Nation."

Many Special Programs.

One of the largest union services will be held at the First Congregational church, Park and Madison. In this union will be the White Temple, St. James' English Lutheran, Grace Episcopal and Taylor street Methodist, First Christian and First Congregational. The service will be held at 10:30. The music will be furnished by the quartet of First Congregational church, Dr. J. H. Cudlipp of Grace church, will deliver the sermon, and the pastors of the other churches will assist in the service.

An interesting service will be that of the Universalist churches, Temple Beth Israel and the Unitarian church at the last named place, Seventh and Yamhill. It will be a Thanksgiving service which will specialize on education. J. E. Ackerman, R. L. Sablin and Rabbi Joseph B. Wise are the speakers. The music will be furnished by the Unitarian church. Rev. J. D. Corby will lead in prayer, and Rev. W. G. Elliot Jr. will read the president's proclamation. The subjects of the addresses will be "Practical Education," "The School Follows" and "Education for Character."

Follow Usual Custom.

Following the usual custom the Bellwood Baptist and Methodist churches will hold union service at the Methodist church at 10:30. Rev. D. W. Thurston of the Baptist church will preach the sermon.

Scandinavian Thanksgiving services will be held tomorrow evening at 8 at the Swedish M. E. church, Beech and Borthwick. Rev. John Ovall will preach the sermon, and refreshments will be served by the Epworth league.

First and Second churches of Christ Science will hold union service at 11 at the Scottish Rite cathedral, Lowndale and Morrison.

At Mountville the Methodist and Baptist churches will hold union service at the Methodist church at 11. Rev. A. E. Patch of the Baptist church will preach the sermon, and immediately following the service a Thanksgiving dinner will be served.

The Catholic and Episcopal churches will all hold services at their separate churches, the latter keeping strictly to the letter of the president's proclamation in that the "people shall assemble in their accustomed places of worship."

Sunnyside Congregational church will hold service at 11, with the sermon by Rev. J. J. Staub. Union service will be held in the First United Evangelical church, Ladd addition, at 10 o'clock, with the United Brethren churches. Rev. R. S. Showers of the First United Brethren church will preach the sermon.

Special services will be held at St. Lawrence Catholic church, Third and Sherman. Solemn high mass will be celebrated at 9 a. m. It will be sung by the children's choir. The special Thanksgiving sermon will be preached at this service by Rev. J. M. O'Neill.

HERMANN TRIAL ON JANUARY 10

Judge Wolverton Sets Date Upon Hearing from New York.

Binger Hermann, ex-congressman from the state of Oregon and for years a prominent factor in northwest politics, will be put on trial in United States district court January 10 for conspiracy to fraudulently obtain government lands.

Federal Judge Charles E. Wolverton today definitely set the date of trial, following the receipt last night of a telegram from Henry Worthington of New York, chief counsel for Hermann, notifying the court of his ability to attend at that time.

Following the trial of Hermann, others indicted of land fraud charges will be put on trial. On the Hermann trial, too, will depend the dismissal of a score or so indictments pending against others on minor charges.

Francis J. Heney, special prosecutor for the United States, after spending a week in Portland in conference with United States District Attorney John McCourt and others, left last night for San Francisco, Cal. He will return to Portland about January 1 to take up the prosecution of the Hermann case.

HELP STAMP OUT WHITE PLAGUE

Red Cross Stamps Now on Sale at Many Places in Portland.

Buy a Red Cross stamp and paste it on your Christmas packages. Send a Christmas gift of added information that tuberculosis is dangerous and at the same time help the Visiting Nurses' association by this means and by the money you pay for the stamp, in saving virility from the great white plague.

The Visiting Nurses' association has sent forth a special appeal for more funds to aid in support of its two branches, the general work supported by annual subscription and the tubercular work provided for by the sale of the Christmas Red Cross stamp. All are requested to put at least one stamp on each letter, invitation, announcement bill or package.

The sender is requested to remember that each stamp is a "bullet" in the war against tuberculosis, and that, furnished necessary ammunition, white plague fighters will win the day. Definite results in increase of preventive measures and in stamping out diseases are realized from the work of the Visiting Nurses' association, the National Health league, and other organizations which fight consumption. The Visiting Nurses' association goes, by its representatives, among the homes, finds tubercular cases and has them removed to sanitariums if in the incipient or first stages; if in the last stages of the disease, the patient is made as comfortable as possible in his or her own home and there cared for by the nurses. Great care is thus taken to keep contamination from others.

The Red Cross stamps are being sold from 601 Medical building, at the accommodation desks of department stores, the Woman's exchange, People's Infirmary, Woodard, Clarke & Co., as well as at all church fairs and bazaars. A Red Cross postal card is soon to make its appearance, too.

ST. JOHNS SALOON SECURES LICENSE

After many attempts E. O. Maroon has been granted a license to run a saloon in St. Johns, to take effect in 20 days. This license has been bitterly fought by Councilman J. E. Miller, chairman of the liquor license committee, because H. B. Hewitt told him that Hewitt bought a bottle of beer of Maroon years ago when the city had no saloons and no ordinance in regard to the sale of liquor.

Mr. Miller said last night that he would refuse to sign a favorable report on this or any other license application during his term of office.

A. W. Davis and C. L. Johnson, the other members of the committee, have favored giving the license and last night brought the matter up and demanded a final vote on the question.

AT THE THEATRES

Last Time "Traveling Salesman."

Tonight at 8:15 o'clock the last performance of Henry B. Harris' production of James Forbes' American comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," will be given at the Bungalow theatre, Twelfth and Morrison streets.

Thanksgiving at Bungalow.

Beginning tomorrow (Thanksgiving day) matinee at 2:15 o'clock the attraction at the Bungalow theatre for five performances will be Wright Lorimer and a splendid supporting company in the big scenic spectacular production of "The Shepherd King." Seats now selling.

New Show at Star.

The new show which opened this afternoon at the Star theatre is composed of a splendid lot of unusually attractive things and the audiences throughout the day were correspondingly pleased. The feature was a splendid biograph entitled "The Open Gate."

Swift and Casey at Pantages.

Have you heard those clever musical comedians, Swift and Casey? If not, don't fail to go to Pantages this week, where they are scoring a big hit. They introduce many hilariously funny stories and their work on mandolin, banjo and musical pipes is a joy.

At the Portland.

The Portland theatre has been well patronized this week. The attendance has grown nightly, and the advance sale for Thursday and Friday foretells the story of overflowing audiences. Charles Dreamons at the Orpheum.

On the bill at the Orpheum this week, is a charming little comedy novelty called "Dreamons," and presented by the beautiful and accomplished young actress Eva Taylor and a strong supporting company. Miss Taylor has enriched her comedy by giving it a magificent scenic equipment. Matinee every day.

Linton's Jungle Maids.

One of the very best girl acts seen in Portland is that on the bill at the Grand. Tom Linton and his jungle maids in a Zulu festival have a wealth of scenery and picturesque costumes.

Lena Rivers Matinee Tomorrow.

No more popular matinee play has been written than Mary J. Holmes' "Lena Rivers," which is at the Baker all this week. Tomorrow the Thanksgiving matinee, and Saturday a souvenir matinee, when the first 500 ladies attending will get a copy of the novel.

A class in shorthand and typewriting has been added to the curriculum for the night students in the Lincoln High school, thereby enlarging the opportunities for students in that department of the school.
