Portland, Or., Nov. 27 .- Open letter to S. C. Pier, President Union Republican Club of Portland, Or., Dear Sir-As the chief officer of the above club, an or ganization supposedly one of common ionor and honesty, you have by your public action in inviting all good Re publicans to participate in its proceed-ings, as also to become members, placed ourself in a position whereby such Republicans can justly claim the right to demand of you a public explanation of the following: You are, I understand, the salesman ager of a prominent business firm of this city, a most honorable concern You are reputed to be a pure minded business man, and an upright Republican, and in the latter capacity you are expected to insist upon purity in polltics, and upon common decency in all political organizations to which you may lend the honor of your name and reputation. It is supposedly believed to be your desire to make the Union Republican club a most honorable organ-ization. Yet, in the face of all this how do you as president of the club and as an honorable business man, rec onclie your conscience and your public course of action to the following asso ciations with which you are publicly onnected?

A short time ago, the secretary o your club, a so-called attorney, was or trial before a jury of the circuit court of this county upon a charge which upon his own cyldence, was practically extortion. A client had paid him a retainer of $100 in advance. He collected $$50 and refused to return one cent, insisted upon the whole of it. The client was compelled to sue, and the jury after four minutes' deliberation, decider that he should return the whole $850 with $13 interest. In another affair this same secretary is charged with causing the suicide of his own servant girl for retaining several hundred dol-lars of her money intrusted him. It has been openly charged that this girl left a note stating that life had no more attraction for her in consequence of the action of this secretary of your club.

In another case this same secretary has been sued for retaining $500 ball money of a client and refusing to re-turn or account for the same. The client was compelled to bring suit, and the attorney, rather than be subjected at this time to any disclosures of unpleasant features in the case, disgorged $450 to secure a settlement out of court. Now in the face of the foregoing record you, as the president of the Un-ion Republican club, continue to connect yourself with so notorlous a character. As such president you continue to authorize this person to collect moneys and solicit contributions from incipient candidates for the so-called good of the cause without the least check upon his accounts; no auditing committee, no treasurer. In fact, he is supposedly the whole works, and claims to originate all the schemes must approve. Has it ever occurred to you that many a good Republican would most positively refuse to participate in the plans and proceedings of your club while such conditions*exist? There is an old-fashioned saying, which "Tell me what company runs thus: you keep and I'll tell you who you

Some People Think That All Player-Pianos Are Alike-But Those Who Believe that, Have Never Heard The ANGELUS Player-Piano.

To express music artistically and to play any piece of music with any degree of real feeling, you must have, to aid you, expression devices such as the ANGELUS provides.

The PHRASING LEVER, that wonderful device by which one is given so perfect control of tempo,-the MELO. DANT, distinctly differentiating the melody from its accompanying notes, clearly emphasizing the former and subduing the latter-the MELODY BUTTONS, enabling one to accent independently in either bass or treble, the ARTISTYLE MUSIC ROLLS which are a simple but complete guide to an artistic rendition.

> These devices and others equally as valuable are all exclusive features of the ANGELUS.

Come in and hear the ANGELUS Player-Piano. See for yourself how measurably more artistic is the music you can produce by its aid than that which any other player-piano makes possible. To place the ANGELUS Player-Piano within even the most moderate means we have devised an exceptionally advantage also allows for a generous rebate on your present piano. Come in and learn about it.

The you are a defender of that sophistical principle "that the end justifies the means," be it ever so despicable and disreputable?

When it is noised abroad among the good Republicans of this state, that one of your repute, an admitted clean minded Republican, lends the credit of his name, for the support, and even re ward of such a club secretary, then it is high time for all good Republicans of the state of Oregon who, in deed and in fact honestly and carnestly desire the good of the Republican party to bow their heads in shame—then indeed is it time for those desiring even the semblance and shadow of a decent assembly to resign themselves to despair-for then shall the Republican party of this commonwealth have come upon evil times and dishonorable days indeed, when it must openly forsooth, depend upon vicious instruments for success,

The Republican party of this state has had and now has much to answer for. There is much in its record which we would like to forget; but we can grasp and hold to our hearts its future, if we are true to ourselves, if we are true to its principles as enunciated by the great Lincoln. Therefore, if we would have the party endure, its future must depend wholly upon the patriotic and un-selfish citizenship of its pure and high minded members; not upon chicanery, extortion and fraud. S. C. Pier, as an avowed upright Republican, do you hear this call from an old time Republican, and will you be silent? What is your answer? Are you for the degeneracy and defeat of the Republican party of the state of Oregon, or for its uplift and success? Once more, Mr. Pier, what is your answer?

The writer is a Republican, and has addressed this letter to The Journal for the reason that he felt convinced that neither the Oregonian nor the Evening Telegram would be fair enough to publish the same. The writer further believes The Journal to be fair minded in such matters, and therefore hopes this letter may be given the publicity it de-A GOOD REPUBLICAN. 883 108
