SCARCITY AGAIN

ised by Present Indications-Prices High.

With but a week and a half until Christmas it begins to look as if the high prices that ruled during the Thunkegiving trade will again be in

In fact, turkeys are selling just as bigh today as they did during the Thanksgiving movement—a condition unheard of during previous, seasons Best birds are readily picked up around 150.222 a nound along the affect and now in effect, 25@27c a pound along the street and buyers are mighty glad to get them at Outside buyers have again appeared in the markets. This should bring practically all the turkeys of the Paelfic northwest to the Portland market, a recognized center of trade for those

Will Pay More in Portland Market. Will Pay More in Portland Market.

While no one can say that they know exactly what price turkeys will bring for the Christmas trade, it begins to look as if the highest values on record will be in effect. Shippers to this market are assured of the greatest competition for their supplies, for not only does Front street supply Portland, but it has been called upon to ship birds to Seattle, Tacoma, Aberdeen, San Francisco and a number of other outside points. If shipments are made to other markets, it will result in only the local trade of that section competing.

doed trade of that section competing.

Good Birds Bring the Premium.

While there will in all probability be a good price in effect for all turkeys, it is the best grade stuff that is finding the most eager call and therefore the best price. While there was a scramble for all kinds of birds during the Thanksgiving trade, this might not happen again for a number of years, although there's no telling what may occur this Christmas with the present shortage in sight.

Chicken prices have ruised higher during recent weeks than in any like period for many years. This was due to the extreme scarcity of turkeys and therefore a large amount of trade was forced into the chicken market. Now the trade is filled up with chickens and prices are much easier at the recent decline in prices.

Turkey Shortage Is Prom-Rise at Interior Points Already Shown-Wheat Is Up and Hard to Obtain.

With bluestem wheat selling (whencrease in the supplies recently, the de-ever obtainable) at $1.18 per bushel, mand has never been fully satisfied even at the record breaking values in the price of patent flour is drawing

Advices from several interior points his morning stated that millers there were already moving up their quota-tions on flour in answer to the scarc-tions on flour in answer to the scarcity of higher cost of wheat.

A sprinkling of export flour trade is reported, but prices are too high to admit of any great volume of sales.

Wheat is hard to buy at this time, according to leading milling interests. Farmers are holding out for money and are in a good position to demand it. Talk of eastern business at this time is laughed at by the trade for the reason that wheat is higher at tidewater points on the Pacific coast than it is in the middle west. A spirited advance in the latter section, however, would tend to bring business in this direction, but such is not possible now.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oakland, Or., Dec. 15.—Turkey shipments from Oakland for the Christmas holidays will not be quite as heavy as for the Thanksgiving trade. Buyers anticipate there will be about 4500 birds which will originate here, but the shipments may be increased con-siderably by birds brought in from nearby points by the Oak-land buyers in order to include them in carload shipments. The price offered today for dressed stock is 21c per found.

ut indications are that the market will go higher as the time approaches for shipping, which will be Saturday and Sunday. The growers state the birds are in fine shape and will average up better than the Thanksgiving stock did. A large part of the birds to be shipped from here will go to San Francisco.

Portland Union Stockyards, Stockdale, Dec. 15.—Sale of the exhibition livestock at record prices is but one of the accomplishments of the Portland livestock market during the past 24 hours.
The sale of the best cow to a Salem butcher at 10%c a pound broke all world's records for cow prices and therefore Portland livestock trade is very much elated.
"The demand for first class stuff is shown quite clearly by the sale of this good stuff at record prices," says Lee the steers that won all of the first prizes.

There was not much doing in the mar-tained.

One sale of sheep and lambs was made at $6.25 in the yards during the 24 hours. This lot was of most excellent quality and was shipped in by Frank Brown, one of the judges in yesterday's show.

Hogs are firm at $8.60 for toppers and several sales were made at this figure. figure.

Acreage—Oats, 33,204,000; yield, 1,907,353,900 bushels, compared with 807,155,000 bushels a year ago, and 754,443,000 bushels in 1907.

Acreage—Corn, 108,771,000; yield, 2,772,376,000 bushels, compared with 2,668,651,000 bushels a year ago, and 2,592,320,000 bushels in 1907. Chicago, Dec. 15.—A very bearish gov-ernment report that gave a total wheat crop of 737,189,000 bushels, compared with 664,602,000 bushels a year ago, and 634,087,000 bushels two years ago, caused heavy selling after being made Wheat market opened rather bullish, with December unchanged, and July and May % to %c above the closing of yes-terday. Further fractional gains were shown before the heavy selling pressure set in, carrying the market to the low level for the day, from which it made a fair recovery at the close. Closing was 14 to 14c a bushel under yesterday, with December weakest and July showing the est tone.

best tone.

Liverpool market was weak and %d lower at the opening, but closed % to %d better than yesterday. It was the improvement in the late trading there that caused the bullish tone here at the opening of the wheat pit.

A cable from Argentina says: "The weather continues favorable for harvesting, being very hot."

Corn market received a body blow from the government report, which gave a yield of 2,772,376,000 bushels, compared with 2,688,651,000 bushels a year ago and 3,592,320,000 bushels two years ago. Closing prices were % 10 %c a bushel lower than yesterday.

Oats suffered from the same cause, being unchanged to %c under yesterday. Government crop report indicated a yield of 1,007,353,000 bushels, compared with $97,156,000 bushels a year ago, and 754,442,000 bushels two years ago.

Bill Is Too Old.

Circuit Judge Gatens this morning gave judgment for the defendant in the case of A. F. Lange and A. B. Nawratil against Frank Minto for a bill for fuperal expenses. The plaintiffs were in the undertaking business at Nome, Alaska, and prepared a body for burial at Minto's direction. The court held that the statute of limitations prevented
