BE VERY SCARCE

Extra Demand for Christmas Cannot Be Supplied-More Small Fish Received.

During the coming week there will not be more than quarter enough cysters to supply the Christmas trade.

This is the report of wholesalers who say that they cannot meet the ordinary demand for oysters, not alone the in-creased supply that will be wanted for No change has been made in the ice of oysters for the Christmas trade is year, simply because the trade is no longer a question of prices, but of supply. Prices ruling at this time are aiready far in excess of those usually in affect during the holidays and to put the value still higher would cut out tractically all the consumption. This what wholesalers are trying their utsets to avoid.

So acute is the secretary at the consumption of the prices of the secretary and the secretary and the secretary are trying their utsets to avoid.

most to avoid.

Be acute is the scarcity at this time that one of the prominent wholesalers has been forced to refuse any oysters at all to one of the most important hotels in the city. "We are compelled to take care of our regular trade," he mays. "We could sell several times as many oysters as we are disposing of at present, if we could get them. Because of the shortage we are compelled to cut out those interests who are not buying their fish from us. Our regular trade is taken care of as well as can be at this time."

More Small Fish Arriving.

Wholesalers report increasing supplies of small fish in the local market today, both silver and blue perch are now offering, as well as a fair supply of flounders. Some Tyce salmon is coming forward. Small sizes are selling at 18@20c a pound, while the larger fish is going around 10@15c a pound. Only a nominal amount of cattish is showing, but this supply is regular.

Advices from Puget sound indicate that the price of fresh hallbut will be cut about ic a pound during the coming week on account of the somewhat better supply and the expected smaller demand because of the Christmas rugh for turkeys. for turkeys.

DEMAND SHOWS A CHANGE

Last Butter Advance Causes Decrease in Call for the Better Quality. Local butter market seems to have slightly overreached itself in price, for since the last advance here there has been a noticeable falling off in the de-mand for the better grades, while a cor-responding increase is noted in the storresponding increase is noted in the storage stock.

This is exactly what the makers have been praying for. Most of them have been very heavy buyers of eastern butter and want to unload at a profit before the market begins to sag. It is getting dangerously near the time.

Egg market is quoted just the same as yesterday, with eastern stock weak and local holding at 42½c.

Chickens are holding their own at recently cut values.

A number of sales of hogs were madduring the period at $8.60 and for good stuff the trade is inclined to believe this is the regular market.

Cattle Run Is Mominal.

Only a nominal run of cattle is shown in the Stockdale market for the day. Receipts are small and this is the very best thing that could happen at this time. Every one has plenty of stock, especially poor and ordinary stuff, and while killers are still willing to pay former top levels for extra selected stock, they are inclined to bear down on poor stuff because they do not want it at this moment.

Sheep and lambs are firm at former prices. There was no run for the day and one sale of lambs, which had been carried over from Thursday was made at $6.

The building is to occupy the triangular block bounded by Center street, Park Row and Duane street, at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge. The structure is to be 550 feet high,
