TO GET TURKEYS FOR Christmas Special

Has Started Campaign to Secure Next Convention of Sheepraisers -- Delegation to Visit Ogden.

In connection with the Oregon Wool Grewers' association, the Portland Com to secure the annual convention of the tellowing year. Oregon is the second any for Christmas and the same is true of some Williamette valley points, which are usually liberal shippers. Oregon Growers Active.

At the recent convention of the Oregon Wool Growers' association at Pen-dleton it was decided to send a large delegation to Ogden next month with the purpose of capturing the next annual gathering of the wool men. This convention will be a very important one, bringing together, as it, will, the men actively engaged in one of the most important industries of the counral and D. O. Lively, manager of the ortiand union stockyards, who will co-perate with the sheep men in attendce from this state, and will bear the official invitation.

A. L. Mackintosh, a member of the secutive committee of the Oregon Wool Growers' association, called a com-mittee meeting at the Commercial club, which the matter was talked over plans outlined for bringing the men here in 1911. Portland Commercial Club Indications Are that the Birds Will Retail at and 35 Cents Per Pound-Shipments from Other Pacific Coast States Light.

The indications are that turkeys will sell at 30 and 35 cents a pound in the mercial club has launched a campaign retalf markets during Christmas week. A careful canvass of the situation by National Wool Growers' association in The Journal shows that the shipments 1911. The next session of the wool to this market from various northwest growers will be held in Ogden, January centers will not equal those of Thanks5. 7 and 8. A strong delegation will be considerably under a year ago. Idahe, which usually ships huge supplies to the Portland market, will not ship

Higher prices have been paid for tur-keys by country shippers than ever be fore and, therefore, there is little indi-cation of any break in the market. These who expect to get turkeys should order early, according to sellers, be-cause not only will they get the choicest birds, but at the close of the coming week ther may be a shortage and some may have to eat crow—or chicken.

Eastern Turkeys Coming. Some eastern cold storage turkeys will be put on the local market for the Commercial club and asked its cooperation to secure the convention and this was readily given. The Commercial club will send a delegation to Ogden. This will consist of B. H. Trumbull, commercial agent of the Hilmois Central and D. O. Lively, manager of the Some eastern cold storage turkeys beat down the price paid to shippers. This is exactly what happened previous to Thanksgiving. Seattle will buy more turkeys in Portland than a month ago and, according to advices from there, that city would prefer to purchase them in Front street than to go out into the country. The extra expense of soliciting country shipments in competition with Portland and San Francisco is said to have cost the Puget sound commis-sion men more money than they received for their birds.

All told, turkey shipments to this city will not be more than 20,000 birds and of this amount about 12,500 birds will come from this vicinity and the rest from outside points. Some of these birds will be sold to Puget sound, and, therefore, Portland will not have pos-sibly more than 12,000 birds for her own use and the ordinary Christmas shipments to this city are around 30,-000 birds. With an increasing population the shortage is expected to heavy.

Oakland Turkey Shipments.

Oakland, Or., Dec. 18.—Turkey ship-ments from Oakland will be 3909 birds, Puliman will leave Portland on the approximating, 42,000 pounds, 20,000 pight of the 4th and cars from other pounds will go to San Francisco, the inis will meet at Pendleton. If a balance to Portland. The price being scial train is secured it will mean paid the growers is 23 to 24 cents a pound for fancy stock. Shipments from false from this state at the Ogden con- here for Christmas last year were 25. 000 pounds, and the price was 22 cents Total shipments last year were 101,000 gation it is said there would, be no cents. Total shipments this year were trouble in securing the convention for 96,000 pounds with the average price 23 cents a pound.

Salem Birds Scarce,

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Dec. 18.—Turkey ship-tents from Salem for the Christmas trade have been very light so far.

Prices will be higher for retail con-Prices will be higher for retail con-sumers in this city over Thanksgiving prices by at least two cents, if not more, Twenty-five cents was the prevailing prices for turkeys on Thanksgiving day, while dealers say consumers will have to pay from 27 to 29 cents for their Christmas turkeys. Because it is still early shipments to this city have been small, but not many shipments of tur-keys will be made to any outside market from Salem for Christmas.

Higher at Lewiston.
