

MOST ANY PERSON CAN PASS A SENSITIVE ENUMERATOR TEST

Common School Education, Honesty, Good Habits, Physically Fit and Not Over 70 Years Are Requirements.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Any person of good judgment, who has received an ordinary common school education, can readily and easily pass the test to be given applicants for census enumerators' places, on Saturday, February 5, the date finally set by United States Census Director Durrand, according to an announcement from the census bureau today.

It was emphatically stated at the bureau that the test will be an eminently reasonable and practical one, and that applicants at the twelfth census, it will consist of filling out a sample schedule of population from a description, in narrative form, of typical families; and, in the case of enumerators whose work will be in the rural districts, they will be called on to fill out an additional sample schedule of agriculture, from information furnished by the census bureau.

Requirements. All persons, whether women or men, who may desire to become census enumerators must be citizens of the United States; residents of the supervisor's district for which they wish to be appointed must be not less than 18 nor more than 70 years of age; must be physically able to do the work; must be trustworthy, honest, and of good habits; must have at least an ordinary education; and must be able to write plainly and with reasonable rapidity.

Application Forms Sent. Application forms, with full instructions as to filling in, and complete information concerning the test and the method of appointment can be secured by writing to the supervisor of census for the supervisors' district in which the applicant lives. All applications, properly filled in, must be filed with the supervisors not later than January 25, as an application made after that date cannot be considered.

Politics and Politicians

A woman has been chosen town clerk of Elizabeth, Pa.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma will be one of the speakers at the banquet of Michigan Democrats to be given in Grand Rapids early in January.

Judge Peter S. Grosscup, the eminent jurist, has been named as the candidate for another political party is needed in the United States.

Joseph E. Ramsdell, who has been the representative of the Fifth Louisiana district in congress for the past 10 years, has been re-elected president of the National Rivers and Harbors congress.

Patrick J. Boyle, mayor of Newport, R. I., probably holds the record for long service among the mayors of American cities. With the first of the year he will begin his fourteenth consecutive term.

A strong fight is to be made in behalf of a local option measure when the Pennsylvania general assembly convenes in 1931. An effort will be made to have the legislative committee vote themselves to vote for the bill, if elected.

Walter S. Dickey, chairman of the Republican state committee of Missouri, is now mentioned as a possible candidate for the seat of United States Senator William Warner, whose term will expire March 3, 1931.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray, who served as president of the constitutional convention and speaker of the first Oklahoma legislature, has been named as the candidate for governor of Oklahoma in the Democratic primary next August.

Prohibitionists in Minnesota are much disappointed over the decision of the state supreme court holding that the Minnesota local option law for the counties of the state is unconstitutional as to the towns and villages and not to the cities of the state.

Senator Kean of New Jersey is one of the Republican members of the upper house who has a right on his hands for reelection. The legislature that will name his successor will be chosen next year. Several of the strongest Republican leaders in New Jersey are opposed to his reelection.

The political situation in North Dakota has been cleared up to some extent by the formal announcement from Congressman A. J. Gronne and former Congressman T. F. Marshall that they will be candidates for United States senator, the former for the short term vacated by the death of Senator Johnson and the latter for the full term to succeed Senator McCumber.

Democrats of Indiana are preparing for a vigorous fight to capture the next legislature, which will choose a successor to Senator A. J. Beveridge. There are already several Democratic candidates in the field for the senate, among them Major Metzler of Mount Vernon, John E. Lamb of Terre Haute, E. E. Clark of Franklin and Judge Shee of Seymour.

Hernando de Soto Money, the new leader of the Democratic minority in the United States senate, has represented Mississippi in the upper house since 1897, prior to which time he had served many years in the lower house.

Man Who Roasted Poet Wm. Watson

Richard LeGillenne, who added to the gaiety of the general warfare on William Watson, the English poet, by writing another poem about him, which runs like this:

His country! So it was to save England he crossed the wireless wave. Present he runs away. Because he needs the sea to say. The words he feared to say on land.

Owing to defective eyesight, with which he has been troubled for many years, he declined to become a candidate for reelection and will retire from the senate at the expiration of his present term a year from next March.

Mrs. Belmont's Fight for Suffrage. Albany, N. Y., Dec. 24.—Headquarters of the New York Political Equality association, of which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is president, were opened in this city today in anticipation of the fight that is to be made before the coming session of the New York general assembly for the passage of a woman suffrage measure. The headquarters are in charge of Wallace B. Hunter, who is Mrs. Belmont's personal representative.

Birthday of King of Greece. Athens, Dec. 24.—The customary celebrations were held throughout Greece today in honor of the sixty-fourth birthday anniversary of King George. The king was born December 24, 1846, and is a son of the late King Christian of Denmark. In 1863 he was chosen king of the Hellenes to succeed the deposed King Otho, a Bavarian prince who had been set up by the powers to rule Greece following its successful fight for independence against Turkey.

Will Not Park Alkali Streets. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Dec. 24.—The council has denied the petition of property owners for the parking of the city streets in the residence districts. The committee to which the matter had been referred was divided, Councilmen Curl and Taylor were opposed to parking and Councilman Miller favored the granting of the petition. It was shown that the streets were not any too wide at present and that the cost of keeping the parking in proper shape would make up the difference in the paving of the whole width of the streets.

Eleven Mill Tax at Tillamook. Tillamook, Or., Dec. 24.—The city council has levied a tax of 7 mills for general purposes, 3 mills for the water commission and 1 mill for the public library. Main street will probably be paved with bituminous pavement and also Second avenue next year. Plans are also being made for a complete sewerage system.
