

COUNTY HOSPITAL IS IDEAL HOME FOR THE SICK

Institution Could Not Be More Cheerful and Attendants Are Kind and Attentive—Superintendent Preserves Fruit.

"Healing, without money and without price," is an ideal of idealists, a claim of quacks and a matter of every day practice at the Multnomah hospital.

At the First Presbyterian church last evening, the pastor, Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, preached upon the theme, "Bricks Without Straw." A part of his message dealt with the situation of the laboring man, and though he made no direct allusion to the meeting of the State Federation of Labor, which is to be held this week in Portland, the sermon had a bearing upon the situation.

Always Ready for Inspection. "We are ready for inspection at any time," said Mrs. Spaulding, as she led her visitor from ward to ward and from floor to floor, showing how each department cooperates with each other.

The nurses' school has now registered 10 students and more are coming. The popularity both of school and hospital has grown rapidly since its opening last October.

Kitchen Interesting. The kitchen was another place of surprises. Two cooks, who looked as though the concocting of good things would be second nature to them, were the presiding geniuses.

Fruit on Own Fruit. When Mrs. Spaulding came to the hospital she found a number of well laden fruit trees on the grounds.

South Carolina Legislature. Columbia, S. C., Jan. 10.—Members of the South Carolina legislature are gathering in the city in anticipation of the opening of the session tomorrow.

ORGANIZED LABOR WILL GET RIGHTS

In Strong Sermon Dr. W. H. Foulkes Says Deliverance for Union Man Is Near.

At the First Presbyterian church last evening, the pastor, Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, preached upon the theme, "Bricks Without Straw." A part of his message dealt with the situation of the laboring man, and though he made no direct allusion to the meeting of the State Federation of Labor, which is to be held this week in Portland, the sermon had a bearing upon the situation.

Demanded Bricks Without Straw. "Finally, under the lash of the taskmaster, he demanded of them 'bricks without straw,' the finished product without furnishing the raw materials.

Costs to Be Christian. "It costs something to be an out-and-out Christian. Men who are true to their Christian convictions in the world are liable to have demanded of them bricks without straw.

When Mrs. Spaulding came to the hospital she found a number of well laden fruit trees on the grounds. She proceeded to put up with her own hands 700 quarts of fruit, and the preserves, jellies and canned fruits have been a great help in providing the tables and invalids this winter.

When it is said that all kinds of work is done on the premises, it is meant literally. They build and enamel their own screens, do their own carpenter and laundry work.

Would that labor might give scant heed to the false prophets and deliverers who are promising relief in some godless way.

Are Blind Leaders. "They are blind leaders of the blind. They lead into a more bitter bondage than that from which they promise to deliver. The American workman, also, occupies relatively a high place in the world's scale.

A Good Test. "Woe to the man who does it the other way. Here is a good test. Ask the captain of industry which he would rather lose, an intricate machine or the life of the mechanic who operates it, and the answer his heart gives will brand him according to his true deserts.

Deliverance Is at Hand. There is an unmistakable break in the ranks of organized labor on this very rock. Though a recent anti-liquor resolution was voted down in the Illinois Federation of Labor, it was not the fact that the resolution was lost, but the fact that strong men, and many of them, supported it that causes reflection.

Praises Treasurer Lennon. When men like Mr. Lennon, the treasurer of the A. F. of L., a member of the Presbyterian church, espouses the cause of the forces against the saloon, labor is getting near to its deliverance.

Fight in Streetcar. Following a free-for-all fight in a Jefferson and depot streetcar at the corner of Fifth and Morrison streets yesterday, Fonty Bethune, 35 years old, occupies a cell in the city jail.

When Mrs. Spaulding came to the hospital she found a number of well laden fruit trees on the grounds. She proceeded to put up with her own hands 700 quarts of fruit, and the preserves, jellies and canned fruits have been a great help in providing the tables and invalids this winter.

WOMEN STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

Some of Bindery Workers Now Receive More Wages Than Union Scale Provided.

After a week's idleness, work was resumed today in 15 Portland book binderies. Satisfied with their new arrangement with the employers, members of the Bindery Women's union, together with rulers, forwarders and finishers, went back to their places.

The girls and the workmen are inclined to consider the concessions of their employers more generous than demanded in the original advanced wage schedule. To become a journeywoman an apprentice need now but work three years.

Employing printers and journeymen are both of the opinion that discussion of their differences will be dropped until February 20, when the new wage schedule of compositors is scheduled to take effect.

ASSAULT IS CHARGE AGAINST YOUNG BOYS. Arthur Koltz, 15 years of age, living at 1521 Portsmouth street, and Henry McEwen, 12 years old, of 1871 Exeter street, are wanted by the police for an assault alleged to have been committed on Father Tillman, a Catholic priest, last night.

Tuberculosis Subject of Convention. Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 10.—The treatment and prevention of tuberculosis is to be the chief subject of discussion at a big meeting begun here today by the Oklahoma Medical association.

When Mrs. Spaulding came to the hospital she found a number of well laden fruit trees on the grounds. She proceeded to put up with her own hands 700 quarts of fruit, and the preserves, jellies and canned fruits have been a great help in providing the tables and invalids this winter.
