N. P. Road Prepares Handsome Illustrations Advertising Northwest States.

The Northern Pacific railroad is send ng out a large number of handsome booklets advertising the Pacific northhorticulture. The booklets are distributed through the office of A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent at St. Paul, Minn. Not long ago a representative of that office was in this city and the northwest is now surely coming into elsewhere in the Pacific northwest gath-ering suitable photographs for the book-the middle aged one—who goes there to ple, while the last page of the cover shows an apple tree in full blossom, "Long Live King Apple."

By way of introduction, the writer of he booklet exclaims: "Long Live King Apple!

"For the present purposes at least these can all be considered together, and then we will have one real king. "The northwest is in the throng of prosperity. Panies, tariff discussions and dissensions and the like are but incidents in a progress that is as steady as it is substantial and resistless. To those who know the northwest there is nothing surprising in this. The north-west is the cream of the country, and west and its wonderful adaptability for if Horace Greely were alive today he would probably recast his famous say-ing so that it would stand 'Go northwest, young man, go northwest." Can Make No Mistake.

"While it has been slow in maturing, make it his home makes ne mistake.

"The northwest has all that any other one has but to make one's choice."
