

THE DAILY JOURNAL IS TWO CENTS A COPY
Sunday Journal 5 cents; or 15 cents
a week, for Daily and Sunday Journal,
by carrier, delivered.

The weather—Occasional rain tonight and Wednesday.

VOL. VIII. NO. 273.

PORTLAND, OREGON, TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 18, 1910.—SIXTEEN PAGES.

JOURNAL CIRCULATION

YESTERDAY WAS

34,253

PRICE TWO CENTS. ON TRAINS AND NEW STANDS FIVE CENTS

PORTLAND ABSCONDER ARRESTED IN EAST

HARRY B. ROGERS,
WHO STOLE $1819,
IS CAUGHT IN OHIO

LIBERALS' HOPES
RISE ON LATEST
BALLOT RETURNS

TARPLEY SAYS
MONEY ASKED TO CREATE RESERVE

Was Cashier in Local Office of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger,
Packers, Up to Time of Disappearance.

EMBEZZLEMENT RESULT OF INFATUATION FOR GIRL

Left Wife and Child in Portland
—Wealthy Parents Refused to Help Him.

After eluding the Pinkertons and the police department of a dozen eastern cities, Harry B. Rogers, who was at one time cashier in the local office of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company, and who absconded about a year ago, leaving a shortage in his accounts of $1819, was captured yesterday afternoon in Portsmouth, Ohio. Rogers was bonded by the Fidelity & Deposit company, represented in Portland by W. J. Clemens.

Mr. Clemens received a telegram yesterday from the police department of Portsmouth saying that the fugitive had been located in that city and asking for instructions.

Wire Held Rogers.

At the request of W. J. Lyons of the bonding company, Chief of Police Cox wired the Portsmouth authorities to hold Rogers and await the arrival of a warrant and an officer with requisition papers. Rogers will be returned to

(Continued on Page Five.)

ALLEGED SLAYER
OF EIGHT TRAILED
TO HIDING PLACE

Charged With Murdering Family, Joseph Lovenitz Flees
Through Germany, France and America to California.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Jan. 18.—After fleeing through France and England and rushing across the American continent with several determined German detectives on his trail, Joseph Lovenitz, alleged slayer of eight persons, is in hiding near Auburn, according to persons attached to the German consulate in this city.

Lovenitz is charged with wiping out an entire family in Germany on November 16, 1909. He escaped into France, then across the English channel to Southampton, where he took passage for the United States. After his arrival in New York he is thought to have come to California, where he worked in a railroad construction crew near Auburn.

During his flight Lovenitz was pursued by German officers. They followed their quarry across the ocean, only to lose trail for more than a month. Yesterday, the local German consulate came into possession of information that may lead to the alleged murderer's arrest.

BOURNE LOSES AND PAYS BET

Wagered $100 Suit of Clothes
That Roosevelt Would Be
Nominated in 1908.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 18.—Congressman Duncan McKinlay of California, in addition to a happy smile, is wearing a new $100 suit of clothes paid for by Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon.

The senator, before the nomination of President Taft, was a strong Roosevelt man. In a discussion with McKinlay, the Oregon senator rashly made a bet of a suit of clothes that Roosevelt would be nominated. The California representative took up the wager and then forgot all about it. Recently Bourne met McKinlay. The California recalled to his mind. McKinlay refused at first to regard the wager with seriousness, until Bourne remarked: "I am a man who pays his bets." Then McKinlay consented to be measured by a leading Washington tailor.

Control of House of Commons
by Liberals and Laborites
Without Considering Irish Party Is Indicated.

Principal Witness Against Hermann Swears on Stand
Mays Wanted Coin to "Pay
People in Washington."

TOTAL CONSERVATIVE
GAIN NOT ABOVE 80

HE AND M'KINLEY GET
ADVANCE INFORMATION

Forty-six Members to Be Returned Today—John Burns'

Majority Increased.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Jan. 18.—Unless the conservatives take a decided brace during the remaining days of the national parliamentary elections it is predicted the liberals and the laborites will be able to control the next parliament without the aid of the Irish Nationalists.

Estimates based upon the solid liberal representation usually returned from Scotland and Wales place the total conservatives gain at but 80 seats. As the laborites are making slight gains, the liberals may be able to lose 90 seats without losing control of parliament.

Forty-two constituencies, having a parliamentary representation of 46 members, are voting today. Winston Churchill and T. P. O'Connor, the noted Irish leaders are among the candidates whose fate is being decided.

John Burns, president of the local government board, who stood for reelection in Battersea, defeated A. Shirley Bent, an unlisted but more than double his usual majority.

The house of commons consists of 670 members. The last house was made up as follows:

Ministerialists—
Liberals	365
Labor	53
Nationalists	81
Socialists	1
Total ministerialists	500
Unionists	168
Ministerial majority	332
Liquor Question in Ireland

Ministerial majority

Liquor Question in Ireland

Threatened secession of the liquor interests of Ireland from the Irish Nationalist party is causing the party leaders much anxiety, according to a dispatch from Dublin. It is reported that the split between the Nationalists and the liquor interests is so great that it will result in general support by the latter of the parliamentary candidate whom the Limerick Licensed Vintners association has announced its intention of putting up against the Nationalist candidate in the elections this month.

The house of commons consists of 670 members. The last house was made up as follows:

Ministerialists—

Liberals

Labor

Nationalists

Socialists

Total ministerialists

Unionists

Ministerial majority

Liquor Question in Ireland

Ministerial majority