

BEEF TRUST PROBE MAY SEND GUILTY PACKERS TO PRISON

Government's Charges Against Packers

That directors of large packing-houses are also directors of the National Packing company, the alleged trust company.

That subsequent to directors' meetings of the National, at which certain action would be taken, exactly the same action, effective on the same date, would be taken by the different concerns whose officers attended the National directorate meeting.

That while prices paid for raw meats were not materially raised, prices to retailers were advanced materially.

That the reports of the packing-houses showed their dividends and undivided profits to have increased materially and to have a direct ratio of increase with the increase in the price of meats.

That no change in price or action affecting the market was taken by any packing-house whose officers were interested in the National company until a directors' meeting of the National was held.
