POSTCARD CAMPAIGN AGAINST LAFEAN BILL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 1.—The Walla Walla Commercial club has actively taken up the fight against the Lafean apple box bill, which was started by J. L. Dumas. The move of the Commercial club is for the purpose of getting those opposed to the bill lined up for action. For this purpose, the club has sent out hundreds of postcards, reading as follows: "Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 31, 1910. To the apple growers of the northwest: The Lafean bill, with all its iniquitous provisions, still lives. We have authorized information that G. B. McCabe, legal adviser of the United States department of agriculture, has redrafted the measure, retaining every one of its objectionable features, and is to be pressed as a departmental amendment to the pure food law. Get your neighbors together, pass resolutions, send a copy to your congressman and to this club. Yours for action, Walla Walla Commercial Club."

RESCUED MINER TELLS OF SCENES IN BURNING MINE

the three other tunnels where the men are imprisoned.

Only one man of the dozens who were in the mine when the explosion occurred late yesterday has been taken out alive. He is Dianado Virgen. His condition is critical.

Many of the dead probably never will be identified. The operatives were engaged in the company's books by number. Many of them were not known by name, even to the other miners.

Hope for the Men Imprisoned. The explosion occurred in the main tunnel of the four that comprise the mine. It blocked the entrance from the main shaft and until the debris can be cleared away it will be impossible to learn whether or not any survived. The rescuers, however, are heartening one another with the slogan, "Remember Cherry," apparently believing that if the men who were imprisoned in the wrecked Cherry mine lived until aid reached them, there is hope that their comrades have survived.

The heartrending scenes that followed the Cherry disaster when wives and mothers rushed to the shaft to await the news of some loved one caught in the death trap below, were reenacted here today. The mangled bodies of five men, blown almost to atoms and scattered about the mouth of the shaft, were viewed with fearful apprehension by many women who almost expected to recognize a broken body as that of a husband or son.

A special train was sent from Trinidad early today, bearing doctors and

Any Woman Can Have Beautiful Hair

(From French Beauty Monthly) "No woman should use water upon her hair oftener than once in two months," says M. Fournier, the noted French scientist. "Dry powder only should be used. Moisture causes the hair to lose its color and in time become thin."

"Any woman desiring abundant, lustrous hair should use a dry shampoo every two or three days. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of ether. Sprinkle about a tablespoonful of this mixture upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. This will keep it light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous. You will soon see that if the hair is to grow, this treatment is the only thing that I am sure will produce a growth of hair."

"While plain orris root is used as a dry shampoo by many women, still, no such results can be obtained as by using the formula I have given."
