

FIREMAN SAVES COMRADE'S LIFE

Captain Riley at San Francisco Drags Lieutenant Valente From Certain Death.

(Called Press Leased Wire.)
 San Francisco, Feb. 2.—At the risk of his own life and with an effort that left him more dead than alive, Captain John J. Riley, of the local fire department, rescued Lieutenant Eugene Valente from certain death in the basement of Morris brothers' building at California and Market street today, when a fire that for a time threatened to be disastrous was attracting the attention of all their comrades.

The fire started in the basement and five firemen were sent through a door in the sidewalk to fight it. The smoke was so thick that they were soon nearly overcome. In a panicky struggle to escape they fought for the ladder. In the excitement both Riley and Valente were thrown backward into the basement. Riley recovered quickly and groping his way started to climb to the sidewalk, when he noticed Valente, face downward in a pool of water, unconscious. Riley was nearly overcome and tried in vain to lift Valente. Then his hand fell upon a piece of rope. He tied it about the fainting man's shoulders and dragged him to the ladder.

He then tied the other end of the rope about his own shoulder and with a superhuman effort drew Valente out of the hole. Riley then fainted. The two firemen were rushed to a hospital, where they were revived with great difficulty.

The wholesale grocery stock of the Morris firm and the stock of the Kern store were badly damaged by smoke and water, but the actual damage from fire was not heavy. The origin of the fire is unknown.

POLICE REPORT SHOWS PORTLAND VERY GOOD

January was considered a slow month in police circles. The number of arrests dropped below the average, crime decreased and municipal court receipts fell off $500. The detective branch of the department made a good showing. In the report of Harry Circle, desk sergeant, to Chief of Police Cox, the number of arrests is given as 1338. Last month there were 1616 persons placed behind the bars. Forty women were arrested as against 137 for December. Only two gamblers were arrested.

January 497 drunken men were arrested. For this same offense 631 were taken in during December. The department carried over against "police dodgers" in the north end and vagrants in general. There were 255 arrested. Only two men were arrested for "cousing." Three men tried to whip policemen and were arrested.

Out of 21 bogus check cases reported to the detective department, 18 were cleared up. Thefts to the number of 399 were reported. Investigation of minor reports and gathering of evidence in cases in the municipal and circuit courts was also carried on with much energy by the detective bureau. The report from this department shows that more work is being accomplished now than has been the case in the past two years. The changes and reorganization by Captain Moore are having a splendid effect.

It cost the city $339 to board the men in the city jail and $150 for those at the rockpile. The municipal court took in $1234.

AT THE THEATRES

Fun at Pantages.
 For the merriest evening's entertainment in town don't fail to see Pantages this week. One of the feature acts is presented by Harland and Rollison, European eccentric musicians, who bring down the house with their hilarious comedy and excellent though eccentric playing of various musical instruments.

Orpheum Bill Pleases Everybody.
 It is a bang up comedy bill at the Orpheum this week. Bert Leslie and company top the program in a screamingly funny playlet called "Hogan in Society." The comedy is spontaneous. Mr. Leslie is a capable character actor and his impersonation of the Bowery saloonkeeper is as artistic as it is funny. Matinee every day.

Brewster's Millions Attracts.
 Anything that makes a noise like a million dollars is bound to attract, and in the case of "Brewster's Millions" at the Baker this week, a record breaking comedy fills every seat at every performance. It goes through the throes of spending a million a year legitimately with a lively young man and is rich in comedy situations.

Last Time Blanche Walsh Tonight.
 Tonight at 8:15 o'clock the last performance of the famous and favorite American actress, Blanche Walsh and her company, in Julie Eckhart Goodman's play, "The Test," will be given. This will afford your last opportunity of seeing this clever drama written by a former Portlander.

Louis James Next Sunday.
 The favorite American actor, Louis James, supported by Aphie James and an excellent company of players, will present Shakespeare's "Henry VIII" at the Bungalow theatre next Sunday and Tuesday nights, February 6 and 8. "The Merchant of Venice" February 7 and 9.

Dainty Bicycle Girls.
 Six pretty and graceful girls riding bicycles in a maze of evolutions are the particular attraction this week at the Grand. This is the Bessie Yaldare troupe of cyclists. Other attractions are Lora, the human bird; the Craigs, in a first class musical act; "Politics and Petticoats," a playlet, and Jackson, the cartoonist.

PARIS TURNS TO FIGHT TYPHOID

Epidemic Feared and Stringent Regulations Applied—Seine Again Within Its Banks.

(Called Press Leased Wire.)
 Paris, Feb. 2.—Several cases of typhoid fever were reported to the authorities today and an epidemic is feared among those who have used water from the city's usual supply. This water has been polluted by the breaking of mains and trunk sewers near the streets and the health authorities have issued warnings against its consumption. The department of health is urging upon the people the necessity of boiling the water they use for domestic purposes. Its agents have placarded the city with posters advising this course. Physicians today are investigating the stricken districts and extreme measures if necessary, will be taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

The Seine is falling rapidly and is practically within its banks. The authorities have permitted the use of most of the bridges that were deemed unsafe and traffic is fast resuming its normal conditions.

Aside from a few minor disturbances, the police have little difficulty in restoring the lawless element. The Apaches continue their depredations but their disturbances are promptly quelled by the officers.

Joseph is to build a $30,000 school house.

FREEZING WEATHER MENACE TO STOCK

Pendleton, Or., Feb. 2.—Reports from the interior of the John Day country say a great number of stock are starving to death. In this immediate vicinity there are no losses reported, but the cold weather is entailing great expense on stockmen. Feed is almost exhausted and if the severe weather continues sheep and cattle raisers will suffer heavily. The thermometer reached zero last night.

Dayton, Wash., Feb. 2.—With snow falling at the rate of an inch an hour, a fierce wind driving it in blinding sheets, and the thermometer standing 15 above zero, the Touchet valley is in the grip of the worst storm of the winter. A warm rain which continued for two days turned to snow yesterday and the mercury fell rapidly. The storm has abated but indications this evening are for a continuation of the snowfall.

Baker City, Or., Feb. 2.—Very little suffering is reported in this section as a result of the cold spell in eastern Oregon. The recent warm spell was not sufficient to cause much of a thaw and stockmen are well provisioned. All the stock in Baker county is reported in fine shape.

Joseph Commercial club has issued a neat folder about that interesting and prosperous town.

OREGONIANS VIEW COMET A-1910 AS IT SPEEDS AWAY

(Special to The Journal.)
 Oakland, Or., Feb. 2.—Last night was the first time that "Comet A-1910" was visible at Oakland. It was distinguished here at 6:30 p. m. and at 7 o'clock the body and tail were very plain. As it descended toward the horizon the tail became so bright that it cast rays similar to that of a bright moon.

Albany, Or., Feb. 2.—With a sky as clear as crystal Comet A-1910, was visible to the naked eye last evening as early as 5:55 o'clock. Gradually it became brighter until its head shone like a star. This is by far the best view of the comet ever had at Albany.

Roseburg, Or., Feb. 2.—Last night was clear and hundreds viewed Comet A-1910. It was directly over the western horizon near the evening star.
