Burbank Orchard Lands

It is growing every day. It does nothing else under the circumstances. People who are buying this land have been waiting for many years to see it placed under irrigation, and they are buying while they can get a choice. People who do not know the land, but who are studying the map and reading our advertising, are coming to us and writing letters for the detailed information. You can get into Burbank any one of six trains daily, almost unheard-of things opening a new body of fresh land. That's one reason why it appeals. We are as good shipping facilities as any old district in the Northwest, and when the Coast Railroad is finished they will be better yet. This road is building a million-dollar bridge across the Columbia here right near the new town of

Our new modern hotel is raising near completion and when it is opened some time this month Burbank will have one of the finest little hotels in the state, with electric lights, steam heat, hot water and other conveniences. Our sale of townsite has been the best sign yet that people who know are catching this project. Within the next few months Burbank will be a thriving little town-to-date place. It is on the Northern Pacific.

We want every man or woman searching for an orchard home in the beautiful, undeveloped Columbia River Valley to investigate Burbank. We have some of the finest fruit land in the Northwest—high, sloping inches, covered with deep loam, perfectly drained, free from alkali and rocky scabs, furnished with an abundance of water. You don't have to wait; the water there, ready to be used in spring. It is an ideal to make a home along the majestic Columbia River.

Write to us for more particulars or come and see us. We have not told the story truthfully, we will refund our fare. A $150 to $250 Burbank is the lowest-priced in the Columbia River for same quality, with lights and transportation advantages. We sell five and six-acre tracts on easy plans, stretching payments for four years. Clear title, warranty deeds.

Or we want you, you will get us, once you have seen Burbank. Write today or call on any of the agencies named below.

DON'T FORGET our weekly excursion, leaving Saturday evening. You will regret it if you do not look the project over early. Free Illustrated Booklet.
