

CHURCHES ENTER MISSIONARY WORK

Y. M. C. A. Takes Initiative, Other Religious Organizations Cooperating.

Portland churches are to conduct a great foreign missionary campaign, March 23, 29 and 30, when the leaders of the laymen's missionary movement will visit this city. Preliminary preparations are already under way locally, the Young Men's Christian association taking the initiative in the matter, and all Protestant evangelical churches cooperating.

One of the most notable parties of churchmen ever in Portland will be here during the campaign of the laymen's movement. All leading Protestant denominations will be represented by several speakers, who will be prepared to give the latest and most complete information about foreign missionary work.

The laymen's missionary movement was organized four years ago, but the campaign that is now going on is the most remarkable in its history. The speakers who are conducting the campaign are visiting every large city in the United States. Their tour began last October, and will be concluded next May. They are at present in Kansas City.

The object of this tour is entirely educational, as no subscriptions are asked for during the meetings. It is expected, however, that the interest aroused will greatly increase the contributions to the missionary cause. In fact, it is said that in cities where meetings have already been held donations to missions have been doubled.

Each denomination in Portland will appoint a committee on arrangements. From these committees, one central body, representing all the denominations, will be named to have general oversight of the campaign. No meetings of this main committee will be held until the arrival in Portland of H. A. Wheeler, Pacific coast representative of the laymen's missionary movement. Mr. Wheeler will reach Portland February 16 and will remain here until February 20. Mr. Wheeler is now in Seattle.

Several large public meetings in the biggest auditoriums in Portland will be held while the representatives of the laymen's movement are in the city. At the same time each denomination will conduct meetings in its own churches, the visiting speakers going into details in regard to the needs and work of the respective denominations. The Episcopal committee is the only one so far selected, but the other denominations will choose their committees within the next few days.

Children of Pioneers Wed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Dayton, Wash., Feb. 9.—Members of two pioneer families, Sadie Sanders and Charles Fletcher, were quietly married here at the home of Frank Fletcher, the Rev. W. H. Harris officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher will reside on a ranch in the Blue mountains, near the Oregon line. Parents of both young people settled near Dayton over a quarter of a century ago.

EATS 1 QUAIL DAILY FOR 30 DAYS AND 30 ON THIRTIETH DAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Lakeview, Ore., Feb. 9.—Among other things that the people of Lake county, Oregon, are proud of is the famous gastronomic champion, Chas. Lee Morehouse Winkelman, whose claim to being the premier "table finisher" of Oregon is not denied by those who have seen the case with which he vanquishes any one having the temerity to compete with him. Winkelman is above the medium height, of spare build and strong frame.

When a young man, Mr. Winkelman often heard the story of the impossibility of a man eating a quail each day for 30 days consecutively. He decided to attempt the feat. He easily accomplished it, and as a climax he celebrated the occasion by eating on the thirtieth day, 30 quail at one sitting. He says if he could have secured 30 more quail that day he could have eaten them at the next meal.

One of Winkelman's recent feats was the eating of 16 pounds of solid food at one sitting. The food consisted of meats, eggs, vegetables, bread, butter. At this meal he consumed two large pies and drank six cups of coffee and a few glasses of water.

Remarkable is the fact that Winkelman's eating does not encumber his frame with a large amount of flesh, but on the contrary, makes him much stronger than the ordinary man. It is said of one of his lifting feats that he lifted a wheel of a freight wagon heavily loaded that five average men failed to raise from the ground. This feat, in addition to his wonderful eating ability, he probably in a class by himself as far as being the champion weight lifter of the state of Oregon.

Winkelman challenges any eating competitor anywhere in the state. He intends to reach out and invite the gastronomic champions of the United States to enter the lists against him in open competition.

TWO NEW INDUSTRIES SLATED FOR PORTLAND

Two industries, a laundry and a mohair factory, will open for business in Sellwood within the next few weeks. The Sellwood laundry is already nearing completion, and it will be but a few days before its machinery is started. The mohair factory is being delayed, owing to the fact that their machinery has been many weeks on the road. The railroads of the east and middle west are still in bad condition for handling freight.

LUMBERMEN TO ASSEMBLE HERE

Expected Several Hundred Will Be Here in Time to Attend Hoo Hoo Meeting.

The Western Retail Lumbermen's association and the Lumbermen's Mutual society annual convention in this city next week, February 14-19, inclusive, will bring several hundred men actively interested in the lumber industry to Portland. Extensive preparations are being made by the lumber manufacturers here to give the visitors a pleasant time, and, from a business point of view, the convention is expected to be the most interesting ever held.

On the evening of February 15 the Hoo-Hoo concatenation will be held, and for this event Vice-gerent Snark G. A. Griswold is very busy these days making arrangements. It is expected that no fewer than 500 guests will be invited that night into the mysteries of the order.

According to the official business program for the actual convention, the subjects to be presented are as follows: "Relation Between Forest Growers and Lumber Sellers," C. S. Chapman and E. T. Allen, Portland, and Hyrum Jensen, Collinston, Utah; "The Daily Stock Record," A. E. Troyer, Boise, Idaho; "Buying for a Retail Yard," U. K. Swift, Seattle; "The Rip Saw and Other Tools—Their Necessity, Value, etc.," H. W. Yaw, Great Falls, Mont.; "Advertising," Benjamin F. Cobb, Kansas City; "The Fuel End of Our Business," A. W. Robinson, Pendleton, Or.; "Retail Credits," D. E. Swinehart, Butte, Mont.; "The American Lumber Trades Congress and the Code of Ethics," George E. Merrill, Salt Lake City; "Terminal Charges," H. G. Miller, Kalkpell, Mont.; "The Lumberman's Dream," E. O. McGlauffin, Hoquiam, Wash.; "Our Community of Interests," J. P. Keating, Portland; "Odd Lengths," general discussion; "What Terms of Sale Are Equitable for Both Buyer and Seller," J. E. Lane, Lewiston, Mont. A rate of one and one third fare on the certificate plan has been granted by the railroads.

19-YEAR-OLD GIRL'S SECOND HUSBAND IS 28 YEARS HER SENIOR

Pendleton, Feb. 9.—Although married but a short time ago, John A. King and Mrs. Annie Winmeth were required to have their matrimonial bonds resealed Monday. This is the third wedding for the 19-year-old bride.

When the young widow went up to the altar recently to become King's wife, it was not known that she had had a husband. Coincident with the discovery it was ascertained that Mrs. Winmeth had not been divorced from him the necessary six months. Accordingly she was forced to take the sacred vows for the third time before her twentieth birthday was celebrated.

John A. King, husband No. 2, is 47 years of age.

A LENT PASTORAL

To the Clergy and Lay People of the Diocese of Oregon: It has been objected that a strict observance of Lent secularizes the remainder of the year. The same argument would lead to the abolition of Sunday. As only those who rightly observe the Lord's day sanctify the whole week, so those who make the best use of Lent find it most possible to enter with sympathetic appreciation into the lessons of the festivals of the church and to live with constant self-restraint during the remainder of the year.

To get the best results from Lent we must remember the purpose of the time and the services which are appropriate thereto. The purpose is to draw into close communion with God, and the means are penitence and self-denial. We can only hope to approach near unto God if our hearts are right with God and if in penitence which cleanses them and makes them ready for him.

An sin has been the only means of separation between God and man, so only by the removal of sin can we get back what man had lost, the sense of communion, the power to love and the strength to do. As "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son" for the redemption of man, our part in the removal of sin comes in the life of repentance. To this we are called. "Repent ye," and the church sets apart 40 days now for this particular work. I call upon the church people of this diocese to use all diligence in the perfecting of repentance.

Let all abstain from worldly amusements; use the time thus gained for self-examination, meditation, more frequent and earnest prayer; confess your sins; do some real fasting and abstinence and do not talk about it; make some one act of self-denial constant during the whole time. Do it all as unto the Lord and not unto men; with humility and meekness, with teachableness of spirit and loyalty to the church.

The result of such observance should be a growth in grace, marked by restraint in the regulation of life, by greater sympathy and consideration for others, more zeal for Christ and his church, and an increased sense both of spiritual power and communion with God.

Commending you to God and the power of his might, I assure you of my constant prayers and send you my blessing as we approach once more the days of trial. Faithfully your bishop and friend, CHARLES SCADDING.

COMMITTEE WILL TEST CAR STEPS

Suburban Car Hurlled Down Embankment in Bay State —Relief Car Wrecked.

The special council committee on streetcar transportation at its meeting yesterday decided to hold a public test of the various types of steps used on the cars. Patrons of the streetcar company, especially women, are invited to be present. The test will be made at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of February 22, at the Saylor-street car barn.

The committee recommended that a shelter be built at Sixth and Irving streets for the benefit of passengers bound cityward from the Union Depot. The railway company will adopt the recommendation of the committee that no "W-R" or "W-W" transfers be issued to passengers bound eastward for the Mount Scott and Sellwood lines between the hours of 4 and 6:30 p. m. This will relieve the congestion on the "W-R" and "W-W" lines.

The special committee will hold its next regular meeting next Tuesday afternoon.
