The Piano-Buying Event of the Year

This Morning at Eilers Piano House Commenced the Great Annual Clearance Sale of Slightly Used Pianos, Organs, Etc.

Chickerings, Kimballs, Steinways, Etc. All Must Go!

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock this morning commenced the great Annual Clearance Sale of slightly-used Pianos, Player Pianos, Organs, etc., at Eilers Piano House.

The sale this year, however, eclipses anything we have ever before attempted in two ways: First—The collection of used Pianos is not only the largest, but the high character of the instruments and their excellent condition (many cannot be told from new) are unquestionably without parallel.

Secondly—Never before have so many well-known standard makes been brought together under one roof, and the remarkably low prices at which all are now offered, have surely never before been witnessed in America.

We're determined to close out every slightly used, shop-worn and marred Piano, also those returned from renting, now on hand. We're very anxious to do this before taking possession of our new Warehouse. Prices are marked accordingly. A third to a half less than the original cost are the figures on the instruments now.

To fully appreciate this extraordinary opportunity, you must come in and see the instruments, compare prices and judge for yourself.

The assortment is so vast and varied that the most discriminating buyer is certain to be suited, both as to quality and price.

GARBAGE DUMPED INTO GULCHES OF THE EAST SIDE

Trip Around City Will Show All Refuse Not Hauled to Crematory—Scavengers Collect Any Fee They Think Just.

All the garbage being daily piled upon the loathsome dump at the Guild's lake crematory grounds is hauled there by the hundred licensed scavengers of Portland.

In the close-in district the rates vary from $3 to 75 cents a month. In the suburban portions of the city, however, as much as $1.50 a month is charged by the scavengers and they make their visits but once a week.

Scavengers to Mos. Beaches. A great deal of the garbage is taken out to hog ranches owned by the scavengers. Ten of these live at Hillside and do much of the collecting for Sellwood and its environs.

The biggest part of the garbage brought to the city crematory comes from the houses of the west side, but some of it is hauled clear from Division street, on the east side.

System Under Consideration. The city health board has had the establishment of a municipal garbage collection system under consideration for some time.

A Delightful Experience. It is the person who discovers that a long train of coffee ails can be thrown off by changing to POSTUM. The delight comes from a rebuilding of new nerve cells by the food elements in the roasted wheat used in making Postum, and the relief from the effects of caffeine—the natural drug in coffee.

FAINT CLUE IN MT. TAMALPAIS MYSTERY FOUND

Eureka, Cal., Jeweler Repaired Watch Found on Skeleton for a Man Named McKay—Police Will Follow Clue.

(United Press Local Wire.) San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Comparison of figures in the watch found with the skeleton of the victim of the Mount Tamalpais murder with those in the record book of Frank Wansky, a jeweler of Eureka, Cal., has given the police a new clue.

Wansky's record shows that on September 16, 1903, James McKay brought to him a lady's Seth Thomas watch corresponding with the one belonging to the murdered girl. Wansky's book shows that he repaired the watch and placed his mark, 1033-W, on the unknown victim.

The Eureka jeweler notified the San Francisco authorities of his discovery in a letter addressed to the chief of police here. He declared that he was unable to recall the likeness of James McKay, but is confident that the watch found on the skeleton is the one he repaired nearly eight years ago.

The clue is a slender one, but it is worth following, according to Detective Proff of the local department. McKay might never have known the victim of the mountain murder. He might have sold or lost the watch, it might have passed through a score of hands before becoming the property of the murdered girl.

However, the police are certain that once McKay is found a trail will lead from him to the friends and relatives of the said girl and possibly closer if not actually to the identity of the murderer.

There are six McKays shown in the local directory. Four of these have been found to know nothing of the watch or its owner. The other two are being sought by the police. An appeal has been sent out to the police of the country asking them to follow up the McKay clue.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB COMING TO BUNGALOW

The middle of this week finishes the semester examination at the State university, and members of the Glee and Mandolin club are free to start Friday morning for their short northern concert tour.

Two performances are scheduled at Salem Friday evening, the other at the Bungalow. In Portland the following night. The two concerts wind up a very successful season for the boys. In the southern Oregon tour during the holidays the news dispatches told of well attended concerts, full of snap and college enthusiasm.

The program is varied than in former years, containing a couple of grand opera burlesques and several comical skits. One in particular, "A Fire in a Hat," by George Ade, will appear very humorous to those who are accustomed to attend grand opera. The principal solo parts in this are taken by Kenneth Frazer of Portland, and Tom Burke (leader) of Baker City.

IRRIGATION SURVEYS IN STAYTON VICINITY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Stayton, Or., Feb. 10.—Idaho irrigation promotion experts have employed ex-Sheriff W. J. Culver of Salem to survey two feasible irrigation canal routes from Stayton to the big flat west of this city, between Marion and Turner. James Withycombe, professor at the Oregon Agricultural college, recently pronounced this tract of farming area "the best in the Willamette valley, and this means the best in the United States and the world."

Civil Engineer Culver and two levelmen have run lines and taken field measurements in passing about Stayton, with the end in view of conducting a large volume of water from the Santiam river through canals to the project.
