McGREDIE SAYS HIS BEAVERS WILL WIN

Will Bet Anybody a Kelly They Are Contenders for Coast Pennant.

"They can say what they want about my baseball team this year," said Manager Walter McGredie this morning. "But I'll wager anybody a Kelly that my men will be in the running from the start and that we'll finish in the front rank. I know I have a young team this year, but that bet goes just the same."

This remark was in response to a suggestion that the dope showed his men to be light hitters. Mac is more than merely confident that his team will be in the running; he is enthusiastic over their chances. Since Mac has been on the coast he has been one-two, except in 1907, when he was fortunate enough to sell off all his star players. That year his recruits proved to be frosts and he finished last, although he probably spent more money on the club than in any other year.

McGredie has won and deserves the reputation of being the greatest developing manager among the minors. He is to the minors what the astute Connie Mack is to the majors. He rarely mistakes a man, although at times a good one slips through his fingers, like Hefner Pernell, Billy Bloomfield and Roy Willett. But these boys profited mostly by the tutoring they received under Mac.

Why He Lost the Mac.

"No one can ever make me believe I'd not have won the pennant last year had I had Peppi Casey and Bobby Grod with me," continues Mac. "Casey is the greatest second baseman I have ever seen on this coast, and he has more baseball brains than all the rest of them combined. Losing those two men deprived me of the championship. Couldn't I have made the rest of them look like haystack leaguers, though, had I been possessed of Casey's brains and skill like Bobby Grod's?"

"Last year I had to worry along with three pitchers—Harkness, Carson and Garrett. Garrett's physique caused me a lot of worry, for I had to nurse the little fellow along and pitch him when he was just right. When he pitched he was worth anything. Harkness and Carson in no way many games. When Harkness is going good there is no team that can beat him. He is big and strong and he never strikes. Harkness will make good with Cleveland. Why? Because he has everything a pitcher needs. Let him take good care of himself, and I look for him to make the best record of any pitcher that has gone from the Coast league."

Feels Sure of Speck.

"I feel more sure of Harkness than I do of Carson, although I believe in him. In his mind he is a willing worker, but he is more serious than Harkness, who has just the touch of the successful twirler. Carson rarely speaks on the field except in his own defense, while Harkness is always kidding his opponents. He doesn't play for his average like a lot of them, and that's another thing in his favor. He is just boy enough to take things as they come."

"But to get back to the team: Just wait until the season is nearing an end and see where my team is sticking. This year I have Casey again, and I have some other good ones. And that bet goes with anyone."

VAN BUREN A SENATOR, MONTE PFYLE IS LOST

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 12.—Deacon Van Buren, the veteran outfielder, will wear a Sacramento uniform during the forthcoming season, according to word received here today from Charlie Graham, manager of the Senators.

Van Buren started out with the Portland club and has been on the coast for years. Last year he was with the Stockton club of the California State league, having switched from the Northwestern league last season. He batted .277 last year.

A dispatch was received here from Cincinnati stating that reinstatement to the list of eligible players was denied to Monte G. Pfyfe by the national commission. This practically means that Pfyfe will be compelled to play "outlaw" ball and that his services cannot be secured by Walter McGredie of Portland.

Pfyfe admitted to the commission that he played with the Stockton outlaw team when he was under contract with the New York Nationals, but defended himself by extenuating circumstances.

AGGIES' SPURT IS DELAYED TOO LONG

Corvallis Quintet Makes Wonderful Finish but Washington State Is Winner.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Feb. 12.—In one of the most spectacular games ever seen on the local floor the Washington State team won last night by a score of 27 to 24.

The feature of the game was the great comeback of the Beaver team in the second half. With a score of 23 to 2 against them in the first half, Captain Horton's men won the heart of every fan by putting up one of the greatest fights ever seen here. In this session the light wearers of the Orange played rings around the giants from Pullman and beat the game, lasted three minutes longer O. A. C. would have won.

Washington State colleges gathered only 5 points in the second half, while the Oregon Agricultural college tallied 15.

Captain Horton played a brilliant game for O. A. C., while Teddy Reed, his teammate, figured in all of the passing. Dalquist and Englehorn were again the stars for W. S. C. Evenden took Keck's place at center in the second half, and held Englehorn better than ever, scoring one field basket, while the big man from Pullman could only get a goose egg. The score in detail and lineup:

O. A. C.	W. S. C.
Reed	Englehorn
Horton	Dalquist
Keck	Evenden
Fugh	Lowery
Brooks	Anderson
Cooper	Brooks
Lowery	Anderson
Anderson	Brooks

Mount Angel, Or., Feb. 12.—One of the most interesting games ever witnessed in the college gymnasium was played here last Thursday, when Mount Angel beat Ashland, 28 to 6. The colleges, although outplayed, won on the merits of its superb team work and accurate shooting. The college used its second team forwards—Burns and Carson—who played a spectacular game. The whole performance was a triumph of science over "beef." Though the Ashland team used nine men, they suffered defeat to the tune of 28 to 6.

Crucial Game Today.

Multnomah's chance at the handsome silver cup emblematic of the soccer football championship of the city rests with the game this afternoon between the club eleven and the Nationals on Multnomah field. By defeating the Nationals the club will have a chance to take on the crack Queens Park team, which has the edge on the others. The game starts at 3 o'clock.

FORWARD PASS MAY BE CUT FROM GAME

Football Rules Likely to Undergo Startling Changes When Committee Acts.

The Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee is earnestly trying to solve the great problem that confronts it. The committee is going thoroughly over its ground. It wishes to avoid the mistakes of three years ago when the game was supposed to have been finally remedied by inducing open play with the forward pass, inside kick and greater distance to be gained. The changes opened the game for awhile. But it naturally weakened the secondary line of defense, because the defensive team had to scatter its backfield to protect against an inside kick or forward pass. This induced more vicious mass play than in the old days.

No one knows as yet just what changes will be effected in the rules this year. The committee certainly will try to place the dangerous element of the gridiron sport at the lowest possible degree. Until the committee meets again in this city on March 24, no one will have much idea of the code of 1910. The committee has innumerable suggestions of reform that will have to be studied by the rule makers.

Forward Pass Seems Doomed.

However, the forward pass as at present practiced seems doomed. It is too dangerous a play. The inside kick will also be eliminated in all probability. Spectacular features of the forward pass may be retained under changes which will confine its use back of the line of scrimmage of the team employing it.

Unnecessary roughness will be put under the ban. A player making a catch will be better protected. The Canadian idea of allowing no man to approach closer than three yards to a man about to catch the ball seems to be favored. Indeed, some suggest a five-yard protection and that the man so protected cannot be tackled until he attempts to run with the ball.

Filling Up Condemned.

Filling up of players on a prostrate man will surely be condemned. It will carry a severe penalty. To prevent the runner taking advantage of the protection it is likely that he will not be allowed to crawl or creep once having been downed. The ball will be considered down when any part of the runner's body, with the exception of his hands or feet, touches the ground.

Interference will come in for spirited reform. Varied suggestions have been made in this respect. It is generally thought that it would never do to abolish interference entirely. But interference will surely be restricted. A suggestion generally ignored, especially among the larger colleges, is that the runner must not be hauled or dragged by his teammates or in any way supported by them after he is tackled. Another suggestion is that the man on offense carrying the ball must not receive any help until he reaches the line of scrimmage.

How Many Yards to Be Gained.

Another matter which is giving the committee food for serious thought is the matter of distance to be gained on downs. Some favor increasing the yards to fifteen for four downs. Others advocate cutting the distance to seven yards in three downs. Still others think that within its 33-yard line a team should not be called upon to advance the ball as far for first down as it would further out in the field.

These are but a few of the many perplexities that confront the committee. Naturally, every college and every section have their pet schemes of legislation. Every one cannot be pleased. But the rules committee showed that it is up to the task. It will try to draft a playing code with the view of a different and more safe game. No individual on the board is grinding any axes. And the colleges should accept and approve the rules committee's work and give the same one more trial, at least, before passing judgment.

LOUIE LONG PUTS OVER FOU WALLOP

Sends Out Low Punch That Floors Vancouver Boxer—Evans Wants Partner.

(United Press Special Wire.) Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 12.—The scheduled 15 round contest at North Vancouver, last night between Louie Long of Spokane and Rod Blenden of Vancouver terminated in the fourth round, when Long was sent to his corner after sending his opponent to the floor in great agony from a series of alleged foul blows to the groin, and Referee Hewitt declared the bout "no contest" and all bets were declared off. There were howls of derision from Long's backers. The fight up to the time it was stopped was even.

Evans Wants Sparring Partner.

Some good boys, either lightweight or welterweight, is wanted by Bobby Evans to box with him. Evans is preparing to meet Ted Whitman before Tommy Tracey's smoker February 13. Bobby is in pretty good condition now, but he needs more boxing in his training. Last night Bobby and Guy Lee donned the gloves for a three round go at Tracey's and the air was full of flying mitts. Neither spared the other and it was the best kind of a workout.

O'Brien Will Go South.

"Doc" Cornell looks on Danny O'Brien as a worker and will take the clever lightweight with him to California, when the team goes south to train. He will probably be matched with some of the lesser lights around Santa Barbara and Salinas until he has had a little more experience, when "Doc" will pit him against the best of the second raters. Danny is learning rapidly and ought to make a good showing.

LANGFORD WILL FIGHT N. DEWEY IN CHEYENNE

(United Press Special Wire.) San Francisco, Feb. 12.—En route to Cheyenne, where he will clash with Nat Dewey on Washington's birthday, "Bone Crusher" Sam Langford arrived here from Los Angeles yesterday. The negro fighter and his manager, Joe Woodman, will center tonight with Louis Blot concerning a match between Langford and another husky in this city next month.

It is probable, according to Woodman, that Langford's opponent will be Al Kaufman or Jim Barry. In view of Tom McCarey's success in securing Langford's consent to meet Flynn in Los Angeles last month, Blot was being compelled to abandon his plan for bringing those fighters together in a local arena. Woodman is running over with excuses for the showing his man made against Flynn in Los Angeles last Tuesday. He declared that he was, because of the early time with the fireman that he neglected to train, until two days before the fight. He was exceedingly bitter in his condemnation of what he called "Flynn's foul ring tactics."

Pullman Beats Aggies.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Feb. 12.—Washington State college made another advance on the championship Thursday night, by defeating O. A. C. 26 to 15, in a game that had the spectators on their feet from start to finish. It was an even fight in the first half, which ended with a six to seven score in favor of W. S. C. In the second half the Beavers started with a rush and 10 minutes before the game ended had a lead of five points on Pullman. In a brilliant spurt, the Washington team caught up on the score and in a series of spectacular plays by Englehorn and Dalquist, they forged ahead and won the game in the last eight minutes of play.

This Date in Sport Annals.

1850—Sam Langford, negro pugilist, born at Weymouth, N. C.
1856—At Indianapolis, the Western League of Baseball clubs organized.
1900—At Brooklyn, George Gardner knocked out Jimmy Hendler in third round.
1904—At Anaconas, Louis Long knocked out Aurelio Herrera in fourth round.
1906—At Havana, Demegott, in an 80-horsepower Darracq car, won the 200-mile record for professionals, time, 2 hours, 45 minutes, 19 seconds.

SALT LAKE CAN'T GET GLEASON OUT

Frisco End of Big Fight Says There is Hardly the Least Chance.

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—There is hardly a chance in the world that Salt Lake city citizens will "buy" out any share of the Jeffries-Johnson match, was the positive declaration made by Jack Gleason, who has just returned from the Mormon capital, where he held several conferences with Tex Rickard over the battleground for the big fight.

"It is true, as the dispatches say, that a number of propositions were made to have me step aside," he continued. "I told the people back there that I am a fighting man and that if they made a sufficiently alluring offer I would give up my end, but I don't think they will come high enough. In fact, I am sure they will not, therefore I am going ahead with my plans to land the fight for San Francisco. Rickard will be over here early next week and I hope then to announce definitely the battleground."

"The Salt Lake people treated me royally and put up all sorts of arguments in favor of staging the fight in their town, but I had to remind them that I was for San Francisco, first, last and all the time unless they could show me something better."

"Jeffries is looking fine. In fact he impresses me as being in as good shape as he ever was. He is so full of spirit that he acts like a school boy. Why, he feels so good that after his performances he works for an hour or so. He skips the rope, shadow boxes and does other light work, not lazily, though it was drudgery, but with all the old vim and dash. I made it a point to listen to what his audiences said after the performance and all I could hear was: 'I'm going to get a bet down on Jeff.' No man in the world can beat him. Ninety-nine per cent of the people that went to Jeff's

A weak and debilitated nervous system is the underlying cause of most manly vitality. Nervous debility is due to lack of nerve power, and is no excuse for the multitude of men who are unequal to enjoying the health of man in the highest stage of perfection. It is never intended that man at any time should be lacking in the essential elements that constitute a robust man, nor would any man ever suffer those mortifying and embarrassing consequences if his nervous system did not become weak and shattered. Since the nervous system controls the action of all organs, and is the motor from which all power of the body is derived, it is evident that to prosper and only successful way to bring back vim, vigor and vitality is to treat the nervous system.
