French Bark Reported Taken by Hind, Rolph & Co. for Cargo of Cement From Antwerp and Grain Out.

It was reported yesterday that the French bark Bidart, 1916 tons not, Captain Laine, has been fixed by Hind, Rolph & Co., for a cargo of cement from. Antwerp to Portland. It is stated that she has also been taken by the same company for a grain cargo outward from this port.

This is the first vessel taken for the transportation of grain next season, and she will be here about October for oading. The Bidart was here last year, taking out a cargo of grain to the United kingdom during the fall.

Although there are several steamers and windjammers on the way with or loading cargoes of general freight for this port, the Bidgit is the first one to be taken for next season's grain car-

Lumber chartering has been rather active during the past two weeks, the last one announced for loading at this port being the British steamer, Strath blane and the Norwegian steamer Tor-denskjold. The British ship Manx King was also chartered for a cargo of lumber to Australia.

While only one vessel cleared foreign last month with lumber, there will be several this month, and the prospects are that February will be a banner month, not only in lumber exports, but also in imports.

The next lumber cargo to leave will be that of the British steamer Falls of Orchy, which finished loading at the Eastern & Western mills yesterday. She will clear Monday, and will take out about 3,700,000 feet to Chinese ports.

onds for their claims. Some of these have proved a fair investment, but the Omaha company bonds have not paid interest and are still at low ebb.

The only pathetic note amid yester-day's rejoicing came from holders of In response to a telegram sent to him that these bonds are no obligation of he Oregon Trust

Final settlement of the Oregon Trust affairs and the disappearance of the ghost of the wrecked bank from the appreciative telegram expressing his financial horizon does not affect the pleasure in hearing the news. Mr. Dev-civil and criminal suits brought against lin also said that he is progressing to-the old officers and directors of the being made to obtain judgment against the bank for over $500,000 alleged to who appointed the receiver and has have been squandered or lost through ex- mismanagement,

In the criminal cases Walter H. Moore, Henry A. Moore, W. Cooper Morris, E. E. Lytle and Leo Frieds are being prosecuted on several in-dictments, the most of which deals with the alleged receiving of deposits after the bank became insolvent. of these cases, one against W. H. Moore, will come to trial next month.

Out of over $2,200,000 of original liabilities left by the Oregon Trust that in making a valuable fertilizer ingredient was reduced to $300,000 by the combined efforts of the receiver and fying liquid used in sugar refineries.
