Dan Cupid Knocks Out Strong Man.—Although his waist line measures something like 80 inches around its equator, and his avoirdupois makes the indicator of the weighing machine describe three circles around the indicator before it stops in exhaustion, Herman Mamerio, prize strong man of Portland and known to bon vivants in connection with his duties at the Oregon Grill, has been knocked down and out by a little boy. Dan Cupid's victory resulted in Mr. Mamerio's leading to the altar, two days ago, Miss Tina Jonsson, a dainty daughter of Sweden who crossed the ocean to assuage the lonely lot of her gigantic swain. The event was heralded with much rejoicing and festivities in the German and Swedish colonies, and the happy couple have been busy since issuing thanks for warm congratulations and a number of valuable presents.

Concert Successful.—A concert was given in the Fourth Presbyterian church, First and Gibbs streets, on Tuesday evening last, February 8, under the auspices of the C. E. of the church. It was a success in every way and much credit is due to all who took part. Mr. Moseforth did splendidly in giving the Highland song, which brought him a well deserved encore. His voice was in splendid condition, and it was a treat to hear him. Much credit is due Mrs. Beala, who worked so faithfully with Mr. Spradborough to bring such a fine program to South Portland. The concert is the opening of a course of entertainments and lectures to be given for the benefit of the organ fund.

Arrested as He Dined.—Stead Thibault did not enjoy his noonday meal yesterday. While he was in the midst of the piece de resistance in a sixth street cafe, Deputy Sheriff "Dad" Hunter, who had been searching for him, walked in and served a summons in a civil action brought by George Darlowish to collect a promissory note for $50 which he alleges to be due. The action was filed by E. P. Stott, attorney for the plaintiff, yesterday.

Museum of Art.—This is the last week of the exhibit of Currier Indian pictures, with baskets and blankets. The pictures are those accompanying the fourth and fifth volumes of "The North American Indian" which when complete, will fill 20 volumes. The new term of the Art school is commencing with increased classes. The museum hours are from 9 to 5 each week day; free, Thursday and Saturday afternoons and Sundays from 2 to 5.

No Scales to Weigh Him.—Joy preceded tragedy in the Rose City Park home of George Allen, deputy county clerk, yesterday. Joy came with the arrival of a bounding youngster at the home—the first child. Tragedy followed when it was found that there were no scales in the house with which to weigh the youngster. It is a boy and looks, according to the father, as if he weighs 15 pounds.

Look Out for Your Auto Tag.—The police have been instructed by Chief Cox to inspect all automobile tags. It has been discovered that many machine owners have failed to secure the proper city tag. They got the tag from the state, but this is to be exchanged for one provided by the city. The city tag is five inches high, and can be more easily seen.

Arbitrage Case Set.—The case against W. J. Armitage, the Arleta druggist, who is charged in the justice court with selling liquor, will be tried Monday before Justice of the Peace Olson. Armitage has been arrested upon three complaints. His attorney has asked for a jury trial. The case was set for last Wednesday, but Constable Wagner was unable to find the chief witness for the state.

Leaves Family Destitute.—Word has been given the police to look out for O. J. Shin, 626 East Ninth street. He left his home four weeks ago to go to Grants Pass, where he was to work for John Williams. His family has not heard of him since. He did not reach his destination. The family consists of the wife and four children. They are destitute.

Chickens Are Stolen.—Miller Murdock, 725 Sixth street, has reported to the police that 13 choice chickens were stolen from his chicken house last evening. They suspect a gang of tramps, who have been camping in that vicinity.

At the Y. W. C. A.—The Y. W. C. A. Sunday program will be given this afternoon at 4 p. m. in the living room of the building on Seventh and Taylor

DIAMOND LOGIC

It's not enough that your diamonds are real. Diamond quality is not a mere matter of possession. So much per karat is misleading also, for size does not determine value—one reason why we never waste good advertising space quoting misleading prices. Flawless brilliancy, color and size are the price factors and all of these can only be determined by an expert. You can be absolutely certain of these things when trading with the house that supplies you positive protection.

Here's the Reason
 For our diamond reputation.

New Bank for Nyssa.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Nyssa, Or., Feb. 12.—Incorporation papers have been filed with the county clerk for the Bank of Nyssa, Or. The incorporators are J. O. McVey, Robert Van Gies and N. J. Minton. The capital stock is placed at $25,000, divided into 250 shares of $100 each. The institution is authorized to do a regular banking business.

To Plant Large Apple Orchard.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Vale, Or., Feb. 12.—Roy Logan has filed in the county clerk's office a plat of the Red Apple Orchard company of Vale. The company has purchased 160 acres of good fruit land about 40 miles from Vale and will set out the entire tract in fruit trees, and make a specialty of apples. The price paid for the land was $4600.

Vale Wants Telegraph Service.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Vale, Or., Feb. 12.—The Commercial club is making strenuous efforts to revive telegraph service for this city. The nearest telegraph office is now located at Ontario, and Vale citizens feel the need of a service for this point.

Letters From the People

Letters to The Journal should be written on one side of the paper only and should be accompanied by the name and address of the writer. The name will not be used if the writer asks that it be withheld. The Journal is not to be understood as endorsing the views or statements of correspondents. Letters should be made as brief as possible. Those who wish their letters returned should not enclose postage. Correspondents are notified that letters exceeding 500 words in length may, at the discretion of the editor, be cut down to that limit.

Banks Should Be Regulated.

Baker City, Feb. 10.—To the Editor of The Journal.—A great deal is being said at this time regarding a proposed great central national bank. It should be unnecessary to argue against this monstrosity, but unless the people awaken to a sense of the danger of such an organization it certainly will fasten itself upon the vitals of the material welfare of the nation. As a country citizen, I do not say proper expedient for the protection of the nation, how would it do to secure the passage of an act reading about like this:

"An act regulating national banking association, controlling the capitalization and limiting the liabilities thereof: Be it, etc.,

"Section 1.—No national banking association shall be capitalized in a sum exceeding $1,000,000.

"Sec. 2.—No national banking association shall incur liabilities of any nature to depositors in excess of $10,000,000.

"Sec. 3.—Any such banking association violating the provisions of this act shall forfeit its charter irrevocably in a suit brought by the attorney general of the United States for that purpose."

The jurisdiction over such matters is now established by law and practice and it is the sworn duty of the attorney general to enforce the laws, with the assistance of the comptroller of the currency.

Panics made to order would cease to exist under this regulation, provided such act were supplemented by similar state legislation touching state banks and trust companies, and by another prohibiting the interlocking of the directors of such associations. This last suggestion is essential to the efficacy of the act outlined above. But the mere thought of such a whole being afforded the people is absurd under existing conditions, inasmuch as the White House is open and keenly alive to Wall street and dead as a door nail to the people.

Facts About Distillation.

Portland, Feb. 9.—To the Editor of The Journal.—Will you please tell in your paper how corn is prepared for distilling? How long it takes in the fermenting process, and is it ever made with ordinary corn meal?

A SUBSCRIBER.
 (In the distillation of Kentucky or Bourbon whiskey a mash of fermented grain is prepared. This mash is usually a mixture of ground corn, wheat and rye with malt and water heated to 150 degrees Fahrenheit. The mashing process requires from one to four hours, during which time the mash is kept at a temperature of 145 degrees by the aid of hot water. Then the mash is allowed to cool and yeast is added to induce fermentation, a process requiring from three to nine days. The mash, which is now called beer or wash, is distilled in several different ways, and the spirits are then drawn off in wooden casks to age for the term required by law. It is during this ageing process that whiskey acquires its color and becomes palatable. One bushel of corn should yield from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 gallons of spirits, according to the process used. Corn meal is not ordinarily used.)

FOLDERS GIVE RATES TO PACIFIC COAST

The Portland Commercial club has issued a very attractive six page folder in colors advertising the colonist rates from all parts of the east to the Pacific coast that will be in effect from March 1 to April 15. The folders are designed as inclosures in letters and will be given a wide distribution by the publicity department of the club and by business houses of the city.

Lots of Them Available.

All firms that can use the folders in their outgoing mail and have not asked for the folders already are urged to secure them from Manager Richardson's office, where they will be supplied in any quantity desired without charge. Significant cuts illustrate the opportunities open to the settler in this state and the subject matter tells of the vacant agricultural lands in Oregon that await farmers.

Most Elaborate Folder.

Although the club has issued colonist folders regularly to advertise the low rates with each recurring spring and fall colonist season, the latest folder is the most elaborate yet issued. The first edition is 108,000 copies and this may be augmented later if the demand is such that more can be used to ad-

IT'S A PLEASURE TO COOK WITH A Garland Gas Range

It means a saving of time and many footsteps in preparing a meal. There are no fires to be built; no fuel to be carried. It's always ready for use—turn on the valve, apply the match and your meal is under preparation at once. We carry several styles.

Superior Steel Ranges

Are now fitted with Superior Gas Attachments if so desired, and the same can be attached to any Bridge-Beach Superior range. There is nothing equal to them as a combination range for homes that have limited kitchen space. They are fitted with three burners, needle valves and adjustable gas mixers, and take but little more room than the range without the attachment. It has a fine baking oven, 12x18 inches; also a separate oven for broiling. Call and see them.

NO KITCHEN IS COMPLETE WITHOUT A Garland Water Heater

It does its work quickly and economically; hot water for a bath in 10 minutes. Five and one half cents represent the cost of heating a 30 gallon tank to 115 degrees. The 10 G style is fitted with double copper coils which means quick action. All danger has been eliminated in lighting. Step into our stove department in the basement and see for yourself how nicely they operate. It's a pleasure to show them.

"Up in the Air"

Many a man is in this predicament when it comes to choosing a perfect suit of clothes.

When it comes to a question of fit, I guarantee to excel anything you ever tried on.

When it comes to a question of value, material, workmanship and the like, I can give you better service for the money than you can find elsewhere. The ordinary man is usually "up in the air" when a choice is left entirely in his own hands.

Yet there is no reason why a man should suffer as a result of his ignorance in these matters—why he should not receive value for every dollar invested in the purchase of apparel—if he put exercises a little judgment, a little common sense.

All a man need do, be he ever so ignorant of clothes value, is to put himself in my hands. I can give him better service for his money than he can obtain elsewhere.
