BEACH ASKS FOR

Surprising Situation. An investigation of the records yesterday afternoon disclosed a rather surprising situation. First of all, the records of several years ago were found stowed away in promiscuous disorder. Receipted bills were bundled away in sheaves that reached to the ceiling of the vault. No effort had been made to segregate various items. The bills are carelessly made out and were paid with apparent superintending the construction of carelessness. Many of McLeod's bills school buildings. He received pay at include the Sundays of the month, although he himself asserts he did not board during the major part of this work on Sunday unless he received additime, the records show.
