THE BROADWAY BRIDGE DE-CISION

LL THE proceedings as to the Broadway bridge have been declared legal. The finding was in a court of justice, and three judges participated. Their decision was unanimous, and every contention advanced by the friends of the bridge was confirmed. After a thorough discussion, and by a heavy majority, ordered this bridge built. The decision was by halfot, and the proceedings were regular. There was a fair count, and supplied. no question has ever been raised as to the outcome of the voting. The essence of self-government is majority rule. The ballot box is designated by the organic law as the means of ascertaining what the macity or state, in which the verdict of the ballot box is accepted as final and authoriative by the minority, self-government is at its best, and conditions are favorable for achievement, public progress and harmonlous and prosperous living. When it is otherwise, public progress is obstructed, private thrift is interfered with and the general welfare harmed. The vote on the Broadway bridge having been fair, the proceedings having been regular, and the decision of the people having been heavily in its favor, the Broadway bridge should not be further opposed. The incident ought to close, the bonds be sold, and construction proceed. That is the expressed will of the people of Portland and the people are sovereign and supreme.

The high bridge is the only means of solving the present over-river transit problem.
