

LUMBER ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

L. J. Wentworth, reelected president. A. B. Wastell, retiring secretary. Edward Ostrander, appointed acting secretary.

At the annual meeting of the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturing association Saturday, L. J. Wentworth was reelected president, and Edward Ostrander, manager of the association's freight bureau, was selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary A. B. Wastell which becomes effective March 1.

Mr. Ostrander came to the Pacific coast in 1888 from New York and has been engaged in railroad work for the past 15 years, having had charge of the rate and tariff departments of the O. R. & N. and Northern Pacific in this city for several years until he became chief clerk in the general freight offices of the Northern Pacific in this city. He was selected to take charge of the association freight bureau at the time of its organization about a year ago.

Mr. Ostrander is also interested in a planing mill and lumber yard at San Francisco. Mr. Wastell resigned to become assistant manager to Russell Hawkins, who has charge of the large timber and logging propositions of the Whitney company, limited, with offices in this city. O. M. Clark was elected treasurer at the meeting and the following were made vice-presidents: F. C. Knapp, A. C. Dixon, O. M. Clark and G. B. McCleod.

EDWARD OPENS 3D PARLIAMENT OF HIS REIGN

(Continued From Page One.) That the administration will keep up a big naval program is clearly indicated by the king's reference to the budget for the present fiscal year, which, he said, carried increased naval expenditures. The naval program is reported to include six or eight Dreadnaughts for this year. As a whole, the king's speech was a disappointment, especially in view of the fact that one of the greatest audiences that ever gathered in the chamber was present. The king's voice was much better than it was the last time he delivered his opening speech, and was even better than it usually is. He could be heard distinctly throughout the chamber. Following a meeting of the Irish Nationalist members of the new parliament, John Redmond today made known the fact that an appeal for funds had been made to the people of Ireland, and in regard to it he said: "This appeal is vitally urgent by reason of the strong probability that another dissolution of parliament will be upon us immediately—perhaps before Easter."

FOR KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

The following prescription is said to be the best obtainable for deranged kidneys, bladder or liver: Buy from any good druggist one half ounce Murax compound in original sealed package, one half ounce fluid extract Bucto, six ounces good, pure gin. Mix and take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day after meals. (Be sure to get the genuine Murax compound in original sealed packages.) This prescription should be taken at first sign of kidney trouble, such as pains in the back, frequent or highly colored urination, scalding urine, rheumatic pains in the joints, dimmed vision, puffiness under the eyes. This allows the kidneys to purify the blood properly and prevents chronic rheumatism, diabetes or dread Bright's disease.

SCHOOL CHILDREN CELEBRATE BIRTH OF WASHINGTON

Twenty-two Thousand of Them Join in Monster Memorial—Institutions Have Individual Programs.

Twenty-two thousand school children in 53 Portland schools are joining today in a monster memorial to the life of George Washington. The story of the man who led ragged soldiers into the victory of freedom from foreign rule, establishing thus the greatest nation the world has ever known, is being told in verse and song in all departments of the schools. All schools have arranged for individual programs given at the same hour. Pupils, not outside speakers, are in charge under the supervision of their teachers. To honor the occasion school rooms have been dressed in flags and pictures of George and Martha Washington.

Other Memorials Tomorrow. This is the initial celebration of Washington's birthday. Other memorials as elaborate will take place tomorrow, the anniversary of Washington's birth. Rose planting exercises held in the City park and will be addressed by Governor Benson, Mayor Simon, President Drake of the Rose society, and consuls representing foreign countries which contributed roses for the event, will be the feature of the day. The annual meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. At this time the election of officers and transaction of business will take place. The annual banquet is to be given at the Hotel Portland at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. The speakers at the banquet are W. D. Fenton, Judge Robert E. Bean, D. Solis Cohen, W. W. Cotton, Edgar B. Piper. The session, according to arrangements, will be the largest and most interesting ever held by the order. Washington Was a Mason. George Washington was a Mason. By Masons his memory is loved and cherished. The creed of unselfishness, spotless and forceful life, which he pronounced, has been enshrined in Masonic rites. For honor to the memory of Washington, east side Masons will unite in a general meeting tomorrow evening at their hall, East Burnside and Eighth streets. Members and their families from Washington lodge, Washington chapter of Royal Arch Masons, Washington chapter of the Eastern Star will attend. The guests of honor are to be Dr. Norris Cox, grand master of the grand lodge of Oregon; Edward E. Kiddle, and high priest of the grand chapter; Philip S. Malcolm, head of the Scottish Rite bodies in Oregon; W. H. Galvani, potentate Al Kader Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine; Thomas Taylor, grand eminent commander of the grand commandery Knights Tem-plar of Oregon; S. S. Spencer, master of the grand council of Oregon Royal Arch Masons; Henry L. Bancroft, eminent commander Oregon commandery Knights Templar. Will Deliver Addresses. Addresses will be made as follows: Professor D. A. Groat of Washington lodge—"The Washington Boyles." Mrs. Emily Newton, Washington chapter Eastern Star—"Masonry and Women." E. G. Jones, Washington chapter Royal Arch Masons—"Women." Penumbra Kelly, Washington chapter Royal Arch Masons—"Good of the Order." H. G. Norton, master of the Washington lodge, will preside. The program will be followed by refreshments served in the hall, the ladies of the Eastern Star being hostesses. The arrangements for the big meeting have been in charge of a committee of which Thomas M. Hurlburt is chairman. The Peter A. Foster circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. will give a banquet tomorrow afternoon at Willamette. Local comrades of the G. A. R. will participate in this meeting and others of the day, but have formulated no special program for themselves. Banks and many other places of business, together with the schools, will be closed in honor of the day. Wireless Messages. S. S. Asuncion, Feb. 20, 9 p. m.—Sailed from Richmond for Tacoma 10 a. m. PICTURE MACHINE SQUIRTS FLAMING FLUID AT AUDIENCE

Prosser, Wash., Feb. 21.—What might have meant the loss by fire of the Methodist Episcopal church and parsonage of this place was averted by the presence of mind of the Rev. J. N. Rounds. While Charles Gideon Davis was delivering an illustrated lecture last night on foreign missions, the satura's connected with the picture machine exploded and threw the burning fluid over the audience. The hats of several of the women ignited and a near-panic ensued. Pastor Rounds succeeded in quieting his flock and all got out of the church without serious injury. Mrs. McCall was burned about the face and head; Mrs. E. T. Gardner and Mrs. F. E. Campbell were more or less scorched, and the clothing of little Marie Pascius was badly scorched and her head and eyebrows were badly singed.

"The Pinch of Prosperity"

Have you felt it? You wouldn't mind the high prices of food if your wages advanced with them. It is a good time to cut out expensive foods and try

SHREDDED WHEAT

It is a better substitute for meat than vegetables, because it is rich in muscle-making, brain-building material. It contains more body-building nutriment than meat or eggs. It costs much less, always the same price—always clean—always pure—always wholesome. Your grocer sells it.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit is made of the whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked in the cleanest, finest food factory in the world. It is ready-cooked, ready-to-serve. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits heated in the oven to restore crispness, and eaten with a little hot milk, and salted or sweetened to suit the taste, will supply all the energy needed for a half-day's work. If you like it for breakfast, you will like it for any meal in combination with vegetables, baked apples, sliced bananas, stewed prunes or other fruits.

ALL THE "MEAT" OF THE GOLDEN WHEAT

attempt on the king and queen, yet two regiments of life guards in their picturesque attire were standing with bayonets drawn, guarding the line of progress. They gave a fine touch of color to the entire scene. Preceded by mounted troops, the great officers of state, in carriages drawn by eight horses, were first seen. They attracted little attention, for the eyes of all were waiting for a glimpse of King Edward. King's Clumsy Old Coach. Presently the state coach of the king came in sight. And it is certainly a state coach, hundreds of years old, clumsy, without springs, its side of glass and most of the rest of the coach of gold. An uncomfortable conveyance, surely, but all the same looking every inch the vehicle in which one would expect a king to ride. Even a stranger on the route could have no doubt as to the popularity enjoyed by King Edward among his people. Scarcely had his coach come in sight when the air was rent by thunderous cheers. No one enjoys his popularity more than Edward VII and as he came in sight he was seen to be smiling broadly, as he bowed repeatedly. He wore the uniform of a field marshal, carrying the cocked hat in his hand, and the queen by his side wore a dress of her favorite color of mauve. A small crown was on her head. The King on the Throne. Arriving at the Victoria Tower, at the houses of parliament, the king was met with a salute of 41 guns. He entered the house by the royal entrance and proceeded to the robing room. From the robing room to the throne in the house of lords there was a procession of big state officials, with the king and queen last. Both had put on long robes of scarlet and ermine, and royal pages held up the train. Everyone rose when the king entered. Near the throne stood the representatives of foreign powers. All of them were in full uniform and wore their full orders and decorations. Such a sight has never been seen since King Edward was crowned. The throne in the house of lords is really two richly carved chairs, raised on a dais about three feet high. The king sat in the one on the right hand, with the queen on the left. A chair some distance away stood on either side for the Prince and Princess of Wales. King Reads Speech. Amid dead silence the king sent the "black rod," a sort of official messenger between the two houses, the present occupant being Admiral Sir Henry Stephenson, to summon the commons. Almost immediately the members of the other house appeared, headed by the speaker, who was preceded by the sergeant-at-arms carrying the official mace. They took up their stand behind the bar of the house. The king then stood up and in a loud, strong voice, in which the German accent was prominent, read the speech. That over, he bowed to the house, then turned around and bowed to the throne; giving the queen his hand he escorted her from the throne.

BRITISH LABORITES INSISTENTLY DEMAND 48 HOUR WORK WEEK (United Press Leased Wire) London, Feb. 21.—The labor party of the United Kingdom is preparing to make extensive demands on the Liberals in the present session of parliament as the price of their support of a Liberal program, according to politicians here today. One of the first demands of the Laborites will be for the early passage of a bill providing a 48 hour working week law. This bill is favored by the 40 Laborites in parliament as being of first importance. The nationalization of railways and more favorable legislation regarding industrial strikes will also be demanded by the Laborites. It is probable that the safe engineering of these measures through parliament will be left to the party leader, George N. Barnes, who recently succeeded A. Henderson. JAPAN LEGISLATES ON ALIEN OWNERSHIP (United Press Leased Wire) Tokio, Feb. 21.—Government supporters procured the introduction of a bill in the house today to enable foreigners in Japan to own land. The principal restriction in the bill is that the privilege of land ownership shall not be extended to subjects or citizens of nations that do not permit Japanese within their domains to own land. Another limitation in the bill is that no foreigners shall be allowed to own land in Hokkaido, Formosa, Sakhalin or other strategic places of defense. The presentation of the bill is regarded as a result of representations made to the Japanese government by the United States and several European nations, whose citizens have complained of the restriction in Japan.

Caloric Fireless Cookers THE MOST WONDERFUL INVENTION OF THE AGE! A STOVE THAT NEEDS NO FUEL. NO COAL—NO GAS—NO WOOD. It solves the servant problem. Hygienic, scientific, economic. The "Caloric" Fireless Cook-stove, the first to appear on the market, retains the heat generated on an ordinary coal, gas or oil stove by means of steatite radiators which are placed in the insulated cabinet. The food to be cooked is first prepared in the ordinary manner in the vessels with which the cabinet is equipped, the plates heated to proper temperature are both placed in the stove, one above and one below, according to directions. The "Caloric" is closed and the cooking commences. For baking pies, cakes, bread or roasting, it has been found superior to all methods of preparing food for the table. Delicate flavors of game and fish are preserved, and the result is dainty, tasty and tender food. BIG SHIPMENT JUST RECEIVED, which makes our stock complete, as we have them in three sizes—of one, two and three compartments. Prices vary, as size. With each one we give free a book of several hundred recipes for preparing food. KADDERLY THE HARDWARE MAN. 130 First Street, Bet. Washington and Alder
