JOHN WENZEL BRINGS DETAILS OF THE DISASTER

bris partially stunned me when I opened the door. When I regained my senses my first thought was of the two Northern Pacific passenger trains that I knew were waiting on the siding below for the tracks to be cleared.

"I looked down to where the narrow shelving girded the mountainside, to where the night before two passenger trains waited with their precious freight. I saw nothing but snow. No trains, no tracks. A smooth sheet of white obliterated the path down which the death dealing avalanche had shot but a moment before.

Fandemonium of Screams.

"Suddenly there was a pandemonium of screams. The pitiful cries of babies mingled with those of men and women, and the hissing of steam from the crippled engines punctuated the terrible babel. I shall always hear those screams. Occasionally a woman's shrill tones could be heard pleading for someone to 'Please kill me.' I heard a baby calling 'Mamma.' It seemed to me as though it called for 10 minutes at regular intervals—'Mamma, mamma, mamma.' Then the voice grew fainter. Then it stopped. I saw men struggling in the chill morning air to extricate helpless women and children from the living, icy tomb. I saw men pined beneath twisted wreckage vainly fighting for their lives. Words cannot describe the spectacle of those buried trains."

Wenzel says he thought that eight women and children were carried out while he looked on. Some of them moaned and he knew they were living. Hallet moved his family back into the tunnel for safety. Hallet's hotel, the saloon to the east of it and the store on the west were untouched. The little railroad station just west of the store was swept away by the edge of the avalanche which had grazed the

Consumption and Cold Checked

Mrs. Susan Gautier did not know what a real night's rest was until she used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Now she feels like a new woman and sleeps better than she has in years.

Read her interesting letter: "I had lung and stomach trouble for 30 years and tried all kinds of medicines that were recommended for consumption, but received little benefit from them. I was completely run down. In May I had a bad hemorrhage from my lungs, came very near bleeding to death and could not sit up. My doctor advised me to use plenty of stimulants. A few days before I had the hemorrhage I had seen an advertisement recommending Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a cure for consumption. I wrote for your Medical booklet and a bottle of whiskey to try. I had not taken it three days before I could feel its beneficial effects. Now I can sleep all night without coughing, while before I did not know what a good night's rest was, and I have a good appetite, do all of my own housework and feel better than I have in a great many years. I know it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey that has done me so much good, and I would not be without it. I can't find words to express what your medical whiskey has done for me." Mrs. Susan Gautier, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 7, Washington, N. C.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating tonic and stimulant. It aids in destroying disease, and by its building and healing properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma, malaria, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakening and diseased conditions, if taken as directed. You should have it in your home. It will help you.

CAUTION: When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It's an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold in BEADED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for doctor's advice and a valuable illustrated medical booklet, containing testimonials and rare common sense rules for health, both sent free.

probably in none is there so much worry as at the residences of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Anderson, at 325 Harvard avenue north; Rev. L. J. and Mrs. Covington, at 103 West Galer, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Covington, at Columbia City. Where others may be in doubt, Mrs. Anderson, Rev. Mr. Covington and Frank Covington fear there is little hope that their mother, Mrs. M. A. Covington, of Olympia, escaped with her life, for they are convinced she took passage on train No. 25 at Spokane Tuesday of last week.

George P. Anderson, in a telephone conversation yesterday with a passenger who, with six others, succeeded in leaving the stalled train and reaching Seattle, learned that his mother-in-law was indeed a passenger.

Bethel's Uncertain Fate.

Fate had it that R. H. Bethel, a civil engineer and contractor, whose home is at the corner of Jefferson street and Ninth avenue, should be on Great Northern train 25 instead of arriving in Seattle, according to his plans, just ahead of the blockade.

PEPOON IS ARRESTED

Mrs. Pugh tried to force the authorities to prosecute Pepon and Wilcox. They called on the prosecuting attorney of Stevens county, who has since acted, and took up the case with Attorney General W. F. Bell of the state of Washington. The state officer promised to have the superior judge of Stevens county empanel a grand jury if the prosecuting attorney refused to take action.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription—It Is Easily Mixed.

This is a very simple and harmless formula but it has worked wonders for all who have tried it, quickly curing chronic and acute rheumatism and backache. "Get one ounce of syrup of Saraparilla compound and one ounce of Toris compound. Then get half pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time. Shake the bottle before using. Results are felt the first day. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house.

ness matter, which caused him to delay his departure from Seattle twenty-four hours. The unexpected delay at this end resulted in his taking the train that was caught in the snow blockade. Every day he telegraphed from Wallington, keeping his wife informed of the conditions there.

He was hopeful of getting home up to the latter part of last week, when he wired that it was impossible to say when the line would be opened. Soon after that communication became impossible and despite a heroic effort on the part of the little woman to keep up courage, the train was told on her. She learned the nature of the catastrophe that had befallen the imprisoned passengers yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bethel's partner, Mr. Downey, left the first relief train, so that something definite should be heard from him today. He figured on going as far as possible on the train and then proceeding on snowshoes.

WHEAT KING PUTS UP BLUFF TO COVER RETREAT FROM PIT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, March 2.—"Speculation is the spice of life. If I had to go along in the same rut I think I would want to die," declared Wheat King Patten today as he was departing for a trip abroad. Smiling, he continued: "There is nothing like taking chances. It keeps you young and makes you happy."

Patten denied the report that he would retire within a short time, having made $12,000,000 by speculation. He said his trip abroad was to be merely a vacation, and that he expected to return to his work refreshed in mind and body.

Replying to questions concerning a rumor that he was going to for art, Patten said: "I couldn't tell an oil from a chrome, and I don't want to learn."

In the course of his remarks at parting the wheat king said that to corner wheat was an impossibility.

Mr. Bethel practiced his profession in New York before coming to Seattle in 1909. Many large improvements on Long Island were directed by him. He also operated extensively in Cuba.

According to his original plans, Mr. Bethel intended to make a flying visit to Wenatchee and return a week ago Monday. At the last moment he received a telephone call about a business matter.
