

NO MEN TO TAKE SCORES OF JOBS

Thousand Men Wanted by the Railroads and Ranches; Loafers Prefer Idleness.

One thousand men are wanted by the employment agencies in the north end to take positions on railroad, ranch, logging camp and other lines of work. There is fully that number of men in the north end loafing around the saloons and poolrooms. They look over the "laborers wanted" signs and walk away.

The employment offices are offering free fare and no fee for the men. One employment shop yesterday had a call of 800 men for the Deschutes railroad work, and wanted to send 50 men last night. They got about 10 men. This work pays from $2 to $2.50 a day. This company has sent to San Francisco for men.

The employment agents appeal each evening to the patrolmen to send men to them. To get the men to take work is like driving sheep, say Patrolmen Martine and Johnson, who have this beat at night. The patrolmen advise the north end men to get work, or get out of the north end saloons. This has resulted in the "police dodging" system of the men who congregate in this part of the city. Last week these two patrolmen took fully 50 men before the municipal court, and the men were ordered to get work or leave town. Some of them left the city and the others are dodging the policemen.

DEPUTY CORONER J. J. DUNNING SERIOUSLY ILL

J. J. Dunning, deputy coroner, is seriously ill at the St. Vincent hospital from an operation Sunday evening for appendicitis. Mrs. Dunning, who has been visiting in California, has been notified of her husband's condition. She will arrive this afternoon.

Symptoms of the trouble were first noticed Friday morning, and gradually grew worse. Saturday and Sunday the patient suffered much. The operation was decided upon Sunday. Drs. Rocky and Norden were in consultation all Sunday afternoon. In the operation it was found the appendix had entirely passed away and that peritonitis had set in. The physicians immediately gave this their attention. Dunning is son of George D. Dunning, city councilman.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

After ten years of cure after cure, we ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle. But for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This first 25 cent bottle ought to convince every sufferer; perhaps it will affect a complete cure (as it has in some cases); at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once. —Skidmore Drug Co., 181 Third street.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR ANSWERS LAST CALL

George Thompson.

Cottage Grove lost one of her foremost citizens by death last Saturday morning, when George Thompson, veteran of the Civil war, answered the last roll call.

Old age claimed the veteran, he having been 70 years old. He was an Odd Fellow and a charter member of Washington lodge No. 1, of Baltimore, Md. He was born in Sweden and came to America at the age of 14.

Following his honorable discharge from the navy at the close of the Civil war Mr. Thompson crossed the continent to California. From California he went to Silver Lake, Or., where he entered into the business of cattle raising. For 19 years he continued to raise cattle, and after retiring from the business with a comfortable fortune he removed to Cottage Grove, where he married Miss Ella White in 1899. His widow is the only surviving relative of his immediate family, no children having been born of the union. The remains of Mr. Thompson were brought to Portland where they were reduced to ashes in the Portland crematorium yesterday.

ROOSEVELT

Visits Museums.

In the afternoon the family visited the famous citadel of Cairo, two museums and six mosques. They were accompanied by shieks on the visits to the mosques and their calls were made with great ceremony. Colonel Roosevelt acted as host twice during the day. He gave a tea to Prince Eitel Frederick, son of the kaiser, and afterwards gave a farewell tea to members of his hunting party who came down the Nile to bid him goodbye.

FIVE DAY BOAT

Mr. Stimpson said this morning that the reason the Alliance has been taken off the run is that she has been losing money for the last three years, through lack of support from the Portland and Marshfield merchants, and that it was found impossible to continue running her in competition with a steamer backed by large railroad interests. "Gray & Holt have had to pay $1000 a month for the Couch street dock," said

Mr. Stimpson, "and it was principally for the use of the Alliance. For the last three years, however, she has been losing money, as there was not enough business for two boats, and the merchants of both places having withdrawn their support, it was impossible to continue running the boat longer."

Mr. Stimpson said that unless someone else bought her she would not go on the Coos Bay run again. It is not yet known where she will be tied up.

The Alliance has been on the Coos Bay run for the last 10 years and up to the time that the Breakwater was placed on that run, about four years ago, had the field to herself.

"Portland merchants will lose out by the Alliance being pulled off the run to Marshfield," said Mr. Stimpson, "and they will wake up some day to find that the trade has been diverted from Portland to San Francisco by the Harriman people."

The steamer Breakwater will be back to take her place on the Portland-Coos Bay run about May 1, according to C. J. Mills. He said that there was less to be done on her than was at first expected and that consequently she would be on the run sooner than they had figured on. Mr. Mills will probably leave for Marshfield overland tonight, accompanied by his wife and daughter, who were with him on his trip to the east.

GIRL'S FLYING TACKLE BRINGS DOWN THIEF

New York, March 29.—When Charles Moran grabbed a previous $5 bill out of Mary Vaughan's hand, recently in the stationery shop at 906 Amsterdam avenue and fled, he started a 14-year-old flying fury on his trail. And within three minutes Charles was the acriest sneak that ever stole coppers from babies.

Mary, who lives at 304 West One Hundred and Twentieth street, is small for her 14 years, but she is the principal bread winner of her family. She gets $5 a week for her work in the stationery store. That money is the family's only regular income since her father was made an invalid two years ago by an injury. Moran grabbed that bill and raced for the One Hundred and Third subway station. Her family's responsibility urged her to instant action. Mary vaulted over the counter and pursued the fellow. He sped across the street. Mary followed, darting under the noses of truck horses and scolding the honking horns of speeding automobiles. Moran leaped on a neighborhood car. But the agile girl, making a jump that was more like flying, clutched his coat and jerked him back to the street. He started to get up, but Mary wrapped herself tightly about him and took a grip on his hair. A crowd collected and Moran was hemmed in. Not until then did Mary get up. "Get me a cop!" she commanded. A dozen admirers rushed away for that purpose, and soon a patrolman arrived. Moran was locked up in the West One Hundredth street station. He said he came from Chicago and was living in the Hotel York.
