LOWER CAR STEPS ARE COMING SOON

Vice President Fuller Says That Changes Are Being Made Rapidly.

Mrs. Nina La Rowe revived the agitation of Portland women for lower car steps this morning when she gave her views to the special street committee of the city council and made a strong argument for the reform.

"Now, gentlemen, I wish to make a brief statement," said Mrs. La Rowe, talking to the committee. "The women of this city have suffered long enough from the step evil and we want some redress. If cities like Chicago can force the streetcar companies to put on low steps, where traffic is much more congested and difficult to handle than it is in Portland, then we ought to be able to do something, I should think."

Vice President Fuller told the committee that his company has a force of workmen remodeling carsteps, and that as fast as possible these are being cut down to a height of 15 1/2 inches.

OREGON BANKS READ FOR SUIT

Attorney General May Sue Them for Dormant Accounts for School Fund.

Portland bankers are apt dismayed at the reports coming from Salem that Attorney General Crawford will sue all the banks in Oregon to recover what is the city council and made a strong argument for the reform.

In fact, the bankers say that they are entirely willing to have these old accounts, which in the aggregate amount to a comparatively small sum, erased from their books, and that they know of no better way to accomplish it than by having the state take it; but they insist that it must be done legally, and legally they say means that the highest court in the state must order them to turn the matter over to the state treasurer.

It was during the legislative session of 1907 that Senator S. C. Beach introduced a bill requiring all banks in the state to turn over to the state treasurer, for the benefit of the common school fund, all their accounts in which there had been no transaction for more than seven years.

"It is not the purpose of any of the banks so far as I know," declared A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank, "to fight the statute, but we insist on having an order of court requiring us to pay this money over, in advance of complying with the law."

President Mills of the First National bank is of the opinion that all the banks in the state will be forced to exceed $50,000, which may be excheated to the state under the Beach law.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALAMEDA PARK MAKES INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

Alameda Park Offers the Average Man With Fair Income the Best Investment Opportunity in Portland, Which Means the Best Opportunity in the Northwest. Lots in Alameda Park Priced 25 to 50 Per Cent Below the Market, and Values Rising Rapidly. Prices $800 and Up.

A little over a year ago, Alameda Park was opened for sale. The name "Alameda Park" was given this beautiful section of some 139 acres after the boulevard of that name, which is the Spanish term for "shaded drive."

LOCATION
Alameda Park lies, for the greater part, on a high plateau, rising 250 feet above the Willamette, commanding a magnificent view of the city and river, and the snow covered mountains.

CAR SERVICE
It is reached by the Broadway carline which runs direct to the entrance at the present time, and, beginning May 1, the Broadway cars will operate to Twenty-ninth and Mason streets, the center of the Park.

BROADWAY BRIDGE
When the Broadway bridge is built, and Mayor Simon says that it will be built within his present term of office, Alameda Park will be from 15 to 17 minutes from Fifth and Washington streets.

IMPROVEMENTS AND RESTRICTIONS
Alameda Park lots have sold with remarkable rapidity when one considers the conservative policy of the Alameda Land Co. in insisting on desirable residents, first-class residences, and best street improvements.

THE PRICES LOW
Notwithstanding choice location, altitude, healthfulness, improvements, restrictions, car service, all of the best, Alameda Park, is priced fully 25 per cent below the market value.

THE INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY
Alameda Park is at just that stage—the building stage. One year hence it will be practically settled and prices will consequently be fully 50 per cent greater than at present.

SOME FINE NEW LOTS
In round figures one hundred more lots have just been added to the Park and are now open for sale. There are beautiful view lots among them.
