2 CARS COGUELA ONIONS BOUGHT BY LOCAL DEALERS

Initial Shipment from California New Crop Is Due Within Few Days and Will Force Texas to Take Back Seat.

Bermuda onions from Coahuila, Cal., have been ordered, and will arrive in this city within a few days. Onions shipped from the Coahuila valley has started, and a big crop is said to have been produced this season. The Coahuila onions will not cost as much as the Texas stock, says R. P. Hosking, the local representative of the Coahuila association. "Two cars have already been ordered for local parties."

The fact that California is now able to produce onions as early as Texas will likely cut out future shipments to this city from the Lone Star state. Not only can the onions be grown as early, but the difference in the freight charges gives the southern California product the whip hand in the coast markets.

Egg Market Not So Firm.

Egg market is not so firm here, and while an occasional sale may be made at 20c a dozen, values generally do not rule above 15c and 16c. Larger receipts are said that they are unable to clean up at 15c because this price has forced buyers to quit. With no stock going into the house, it would be impossible to maintain values.

Lemon Market to Boom.

Present indications are that lemon prices here will advance to such a high value that importations will be brought from Sicily. A certain grade of lemons is today quoted in California at $3.40. A week ago the same grade was $2.50, and a year ago it was $1.50. It is impossible to bring supplies from there, and the car was recently condemned in this market.

Potatoes Not Being Dug.

So low is the price offering for potatoes and so disgusted are the growers that many have plowed up their supplies and did not dig them. There is practically no call for potatoes of the 1909 crop here.

Dressed Veal Is Lower.

As forecast in this report yesterday, dressed veal market is lower today. The price of the veal is 12c a pound, and it is only for exceptional quality that this price is obtainable.

Flour Berries Arrive Regularly.

Additional supplies of flourberries from the Florida district are arriving daily, and today the price stands at 15c per one pound box. The Los Angeles stock is meeting with as much favor as expected, and most of the car was reshipped to the north.
