

CASHIER MISSING;
ACCOUNTS SHORT;
POLICE ON TRAIL

Manager R. A. Spink, and was advanced to chief bookkeeper. Three months ago, he was transferred to Portland and after a reward made cashier of the Portland office. He kept the position for about a month and a half before it was suspected that the books were being juggled. Then the auditor for the northwestern district of the Western Union system came to Portland and checked them over. Evidently he found nothing wrong, but a week or so later, the auditor for the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company took up the examination. While he and the Western Union accountant were working on the books, Taylor left Portland.

Taylor occupied a room at the Hotel York, Twelfth and Burnside streets. He gave it up Saturday, April 2, paid his bill and took all his belongings away with him. He did not tell anyone where he was going.

Search for Missing Money.
Taylor's old mother lives at Fern Hill, Wash., and it was reported today she was making an effort to make up her son's shortage. He was under bond, which was given by the New York Security company, which given bond for all employees of the Western Union.

W. A. Bobb, manager of the Portland office of the Western Union would give out no information today. When he was asked if Taylor had absconded, he said he could not say if he had or had not. But he said Taylor was no longer with the Western Union.

Taylor is about 26 years old, slight of build and blonde. He was well liked. Employees of the company, even down to the messenger boys, said today they did not believe he stole the money.

But they did say he seemed reckless with his money, and that he was a patron of the cafes and grills. He was not married and was often seen with women. As far as is now known he did not gamble.

As cashier of the Portland office of the telegraph company, Taylor handled all the funds of the office, and had sole charge of all the money taken in from money orders. He had charge of all the monthly and cash accounts of the office. All the cash taken in for messengers was turned over to him. In all the cash he handled amounted to many hundreds of dollars a day.

Depot at Warren.

Salem, Or., April 15.—The railroad commission has been notified that the Astoria & Columbia River railroad will build a good sized depot at Warren, but has asked to have the time for completing it extended to May 1. The request has been granted by the commission.

Caleb Powers, who for eight years was confined in Kentucky jails with a charge of complicity in the murder of William Goebel hanging over him, and who was pardoned about a year ago by Governor Augustus B. Wilson, is making the fight of his life to succeed Representative Don C. Edwards in the Eleventh Kentucky district. Friends of Powers express the opinion that he has an excellent chance of success.

Special Notice

Owing to the fact that we only require our sales-ladies to work 10 hours a day, and doubting our ability to cope with the immense throng that will respond to this announcement, without the assistance of our co-workers

We Will Not Open the Doors Until 9:30 A.M.

A written description could not possibly give you an idea of the loveliness of these Waists. See some of the models in our big Morrison-street window this evening; or, better yet, see the vast collection spread out for you on our big bargain tables, covering one entire half of our store.

It is useless to quote comparative values on these Waists, for even then you'd have no idea of the actual importance of this offering. All "East Portland" will vibrate with the stir this wonderful event is bound to create, for, barring no sale of the past, this one stands forward as the very best Portland has ever seen.

Hundreds of women who attended our "Special Sale" of a week ago are entitled to an apology for the jostling they received in the rush. We can only promise for tomorrow the best service, available—increased sales force and quick attention. THE WONDERFUL BARGAINS WE DISTRIBUTE AT OUR SATURDAY SPECIAL SALES MORE THAN MAKE AMENDS FOR THE SLIGHT DISCOMFORT OF SHOPPING IN A GOOD-NATURED, MERRY CROWD.

We are winning new friends and gaining new customers by the hundreds, as a result of our fixed policy of only using newspaper space to advertise "Real Bargains."
