

WHEAT BARS ARE WHIPPED AND WILL NO STAND FIGHT ABROAD HAS GOOD EFFECT AT HOME

Trade Believes They Are Down and Therefore Rise Is Forced in Chicago Options Yesterday.

By Joseph F. Fritchard. (By the International News Service.) Chicago, May 7.—The wheat bars are whipped for the time being, at least, and there is no use in denying this fact. Their action is expected to put up a fight which clinches the assertion that they are down and out.

The entire trade is expecting a bullish government report Monday in the shape of an enormous abandoned area. The Missouri May report was whaled into Chicago by C. King of Toledo, Ohio, after the close of the exchange to night and it was a surprise to those who were on the curb. The condition of the wheat in Missouri was placed at 7.5 compared with 6.7 in April, showing that the rains have been a benefit. The condition a year ago was 7.4 and it was 7.8 last June. The average abandoned was placed at 13 per cent, or 34,000 acres.

Advances were made of 1/4 for May, 1/2 for July and 1/2 for September today. While the volume of trade in the May future was not over 300,000 bushels for the day and the demand was fairly met by the long, the action of the market showed increased tightness and reflected the likelihood of additional trouble for those who are short.

Price changes in coarse grains were small, the markets ruling narrow. Corn opened steady and prices advanced nearly half a cent over Friday's close. Oats were 1/2 cent higher, and wheat for long and short accounts. This demand being filled and the selling becoming rather large, the market was without support and the early advance was lost and more so.

But prices held their own, taking the tone more from wheat than from corn. Provisions had very poor support early, but later sold off.

Financial Sky in America Is Cleared by European Takings—Kuhn-Loeb & Speyer Take B. & O. Issue.

By Ralph Emerson. (Publishers Press Leased Wire.) New York, May 7.—The news of the serious illness of King Edward in the latter part of the week had a more serious effect upon the stock market than the middle of the week when a substantial one. The railroad financing abroad and the rise which accompanied the news here took a large part of the bear section by surprise and it was obliged to retreat, although it attempted to take refuge in the news of King Edward's illness and death. The bear party is supposed to have suffered heavy losses. The decline of great bond issues abroad means the clearing of the financial skies in the United States. Financial men believe the market will attain confidence in the future until a condition has been reached where there are a number of open which railroads could sell their bonds at a cent or more above par. In nearly all of the past two years the bond market in this country has been so narrow that the placing of four per cent issues here meant nothing but a loss to the company's issuing.

It was announced after the close of the exchange here today that Kuhn-Loeb & Co. and J.P. Morgan & Co. had purchased from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad $30,000,000 three year 4 1/2 per cent bonds to be placed by bankers here at a 50,000,000 issue of which $10,000,000 is being reserved. On transfer operations with the interior there was a net gain amounting to $7,665,000. But a loss of $23,000 on subsidiary operations. There were no net exports.

The president of the steel corporation sailed for Europe this week predicting greater business, not only in the steel industry, but every branch of American enterprise.

Out of respect to the memory of King Edward, the stock market session was only an hour today. The opening was generally higher. Southern Pacific advanced one-eighth on initial sales. This helped Union Pacific, which immediately ascended one-half. A wide opening occurred in United States steel prices, ranging from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2. The market changed, Utah at a decline of 3/4 and Amalgamated at a recession of 1/4 which was soon made up.

Trading turned dull after 30 minutes, with a slight decline. Southern Railway issues were strong on reiteration of the fact that dividends would be resumed on the preferred stock. The sales were $1,934,000. Call money was nominally 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange was strong 1/2 per cent higher today. All bonds were firm.

FRUIT PRESERVING PLANT AT LEWISTON. Lewiston, Idaho, May 7.—To manufacture preserves and glace fruits a company has been formed in Lewiston and a lease has been taken on the building recently vacated by the Seattle brewing company. The incorporators and shareholders are prominent business men of Lewiston, who have carefully investigated local conditions. Those interested are F. P. Lint, E. H. Kilham, J. H. Nave, O. Oehler and Kenneth Gordon. The firm will do a jobbing business and will make a specialty of preserving glace and maraschino cherries besides manufacturing all classes of preserved fruits of the Lewiston country valley. In the past year Mr. Gordon has supplied the entire country with fountain syrups and crushed fruits and this line of goods will still be manufactured by the company.

Splendid Opportunities There Exploited by Progressive Citizens' Committee.

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.) Salem, Or., May 7.—James J. Hill, the great railroad builder, visited Salem on Wednesday for the first time, accompanied by his son, Charles J. Hill, and 12 other railroad men and financiers. The party was taken on an automobile tour through the most beautiful of the surrounding fruit country and the district was so impressed with the advantages of this portion of the Willamette valley.

Interested in University. Among all the things he saw in Salem James J. Hill seemed to take the greatest interest in the Willamette university. He inquired into its financial standing and said such a school should have an endowment sufficient to give it an income of from $10,000 to $30,000 a year.

Four Visitors. Yesterday four men, James Crair, George Hubbs, R. E. Kleinberg and E. E. Richardson, were in the city, coming as the representatives of the Silverton chamber of commerce. They were on a boosting trip and during the day were the guests of William McMurtry, general manager of the United Harriman lines, and of Tom Richardson, publicity man of the Portland Commercial club.

This delegation has wonderful stories to tell of things they are handling up in the bustling little city below the far famed Silver Creek falls. For one thing, there is going to be a good roads meeting held in Silverton June 2, at which will be the advent of Mr. Eldridge, the principal speaker. Mr. Eldridge is a government good roads expert who is soon to visit the coast in connection with the good roads work being done by the government.

City is Growing. Silverton, the city is growing faster than ever before, says the committee. And it is doing more. It has a new sewer system; it is paving its streets. At the present time 20 residences or more are being constructed in the city while a number of new and modern business blocks are being built. Within the past three years the population has risen from 1500 to approximately 3000.

FRESHMEN TIED TO TREE; SUFFER ALL NIGHT. Owatonna, Minn., May 7.—Two young men, ragged, footsore, and weary, walked into the Rock Island station and offered to pawn a ring for tickets to Northfield, telling a story of being at the hands of fellow college men at Carleton college, Northfield. They said they were kept tied to trees all night after having been bound by students who were initiating them into a secret society.

7 ALTAR BOYS ROB CONTRIBUTION BOX. Pittsburg, May 7.—Some modern Schopenhauer might find comfort in gloomy reflections in an incident which has just occurred here. Systematic robbery of the contribution boxes in the immaculate Conception Italian church has been going on for some time. It came to an end in the arrest of seven altar boys. Detectives hidden in the confessionals saw the boys come in and pry the boxes open with jackknives.

Brothers in Congress; Politics Opposite. Washington, May 7.—A sweet faced aged woman, the first in the United States to have two sons of opposite political faiths in the congressional tentacles at the same time, joined in the stirring applause when Eugene N. Fox, Democrat, of Massachusetts, was introduced into office as congressman. Mrs. Fox looked with no mystery in it that the new congressman, and also at Edmund Ross, Republican, of Chicago, chairman of the committee on naval affairs. Mrs. Fox was seated in the front row of the gallery, and the two sons of her

W. C. T. U. NOTES. By Mrs. Neal B. Inman. This is Mothers' day, a time when we pause in life's hurried march and think of the mothers of our citizenship. The mothers of our country are the backbone of our nation. They are the ones who have borne the burden of our nation's history. They are the ones who have taught our children the values of honesty, integrity, and hard work. They are the ones who have given us the best of our nation's leaders. Let us honor them today and every day.

that ministers of the gospel and other public men throughout the state take steps toward a general observance of the day and a discussion of the thoughts which it suggests. We should not forget that our first and best friend is our mother and that the influence of the mother always tends toward better citizenship.

Prepares for Cherry Fair. Arrangements for the annual cherry festival are being shaped and the committee which will have charge of the different phases of the three days' celebration were selected at a meeting of the executive board of the fair association Wednesday evening. A committee was appointed to the usual committees. It is a committee on aviation. It consists of M. O. Burns, H. H. Olinger and H. W. Meyers. The committee promises that Salem will have a real flying machine at the cherry fair.

Officers of the association were selected and W. I. Staley of the Capital Business college was elected president. He will have a general supervision over all the arrangements; County Fruit Inspector E. C. Armstrong was elected secretary; and William Walton, treasurer. Aside from the aviation committee, committees were appointed on excursions, parades, amusements and games, receptions, publicity, program, floral and decorations, rules and regulations, and exhibits. Nearly everybody who will have an interest in the festival is on some committee and will contribute to its success in one way or another.

Interest in Exhibition Car. Considerable interest was manifested in the Great Northern demonstration car that was set in on an Oregon Electric sidetrack on High street during Wednesday and Thursday and during the visit of the Hill party. That the exhibit of Washington and Montana products was a splendid one but that they can be produced of as good quality in the Willamette valley without irrigation seemed to be the consensus of opinion in regard to the exhibit. Nearly 2,000 people visited the car during the few hours it was in the capital city.

Mute School Moves. Gradually the mute school is moving from its old site southeast of Salem to its splendid new home in north Salem on the Oregon Electric. The old building or rather the site, has been transferred to the state commission for the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis and an open air sanitarium will be established on the site and will be ready to receive patients some time in September.

Plans for Sanitarium. At a meeting of the tuberculosis commission Thursday tentative plans for the new state institution were decided upon. Dr. Clements, bacteriologist at the state hospital for the insane, has already been selected superintendent and his plans for the open cottages will be adopted by the board. The main mute school building will be remodeled so as to accommodate the physicians and nurses and convalescents. It is believed there is no more ideal location for an open air sanitarium. It is high and overlooks the valley on all sides.
