Ownership of Dave Beavert Island to Be Settled in the Federal Court.

Ownership of Dave Beavert island, a bit of Umatilla county which sticks up like a mole in the Columbia river, is still in controversy and things seem to be getting pretty interesting up that way for John D. Switzler, who claims the property and who today called attention of Judge C. E. Wolverton, United States court, to the impudence of F. E. Bernhart and Frank Bernhart, who also claim the land, in refusing to obey a restraining order.

Switzler made application for an order directing the Bernharts to show cause why, they do not obey the conditions of the injunction and guite incidentally he would like to have them put out of his dwelling house an the Island and restrained from harvesting the crop of alfalfa which he alleges he sowed.

sowed.

Switzler first began suit in federal court against the Bernharts for title to the island. The United States circuit court gave him judgment and then the appellate court reversed the decision, holding that the federal court had no jurisdiction. But in the meantime, although the preliminary injunction issued against the Bernharts still operated, they took possession during Switzler's absence, are now occupying his ranch house, using all his farm implements, he says, and are harvesting his crop of alfalfa.

ments, he says, and are harvesting his crop of alfalfa.

Counsel for Switzler now comes forward with the plea that because of a mistake of the printer who published his brief, Judge Gilbert of the appellate court did not get a copy of it and reversed decision of the circuit court without reading the arguments of the complainant.

Judge Wolverton will hear arguments on the order to show cause July 6.

Judge Wolverton Hands Down Decision in Puzzling Case Involving Citizenship.

In dismissing the government suit against nelmer Ackervik to cancel nat-uralization papers, Federal Judge C. E. Wolverton today handed down an opin-ion settling the important question yesterday afternoon from the chapel of the Edward Holman company. Interment was in Lone Fir cametery. A detail of 50 firemen from the local department attended, under command of Captains Dowell and Laudenklos. Rev. T. whether a court can set aside naturalibut some time after 1892, when he made application for his first papers, went back to Norway and lived and

But the state court was not apprised of the fact that his time of residence was not sufficient, although no one could show fraud in the failure to give the court full information, and the cer-tilicate was issued. Judge Wolverton be stationed at the stairways of the timeate was issued. Judge Wolverton timeate was issued. Judge Wolverton held the papers can not be cancelled. "The question is one of great importance for it involves the rights, privileges and immunities of citizens," said the court. He said the court might have reversed its own decision in granting the papers, during the term of court in which they were issued, but not later. He said there is now left no remedy by appeal.

Judge Wolverton's opinion definitely decides one important point which was raised by the act of 1906, which allowed the United States attorney to file suits to cancel naturalization papers, for it recites positively that in cases like Ackervik's there is no remedy.

FULL CONGREGATION HEARS REV. W. T. EUSTER

At the Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal church yesterday the pastor preached a helpful sermon from the text, "What is that to thee follow thou me." At the close of the sarmon, which was delivered to a full house, nine new members were announced for the church. The people were urged to be helpful to these new members by evidencing the spirit of Christ without which he said, all professions are in vain and all preaching is useless. Many expressions of confidence and sympathy were expressed at the close of the meeting.

Can You Solve It?

The CELEBRATED 26 PUZZLE

How to Solve It

The pumie is to take the numbers running from 1 to 12, inclusive, and so arrange them in the squares that each column of figures up and down and crosswise will total 26. To point the way we have set down the figures from the correct solution in one of the columns. The other numerals—not using a figure more than one—are to be placed so that they will total 26 in each column. Few will get all four columns; some will possibly get but one or two in addition to the column already given.

Bear in mind, nestness counts as well as correctness, and will be left disinterested parties.

Our planes are sold direct from factory to the home.

Our recent advertising contest, in which we feateured the APOLING PLANTE FLAND, demonstrated to us that this means of advertising is the most satisfactory and cheapest, besides it makes it possible for a large number to possess a plano that could not otherwise do so. With this end in view, we have concluded to give another opportunity in which all may share in the above distribution.

Replies should be sent in at once, as this contest closes Wednesday, June 22, 6 o'clock P. M.
