IN SOCIETY

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Rigler and Oliver Goodale Walker was solemnized at 8:30 last night at the Presbyterian church, Dr. Tracy B. Griswold officiating. The only decoration at the church were palms and pink Canterbury bells used about the altar. The bride was attended by Miss Edna Keylor of Walla Walla, and Kenneth Goodale acted as best man. The ushers were Howard Latourette, John R. Latourette, Clyde Hanawalt and Edward Rigler. Preceding the ceremony, E. E. Courson presided at the organ. Miss Anna Ditchburn sang "Ave Maria."

The bride was in white satin, en traine, embellished with a Chantilly lace bodice. She wore a long tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her gown was cut along Empire lines, and finished with elbow sleeves and a sash neck. A sapphire and pearl pin, the gift of the groom, completed her attire. Miss Edna Keylor, the maid of honor, was in embroidered pink chiffon over blue, cut, decollete, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. Miss Keylor is a striking brunette, and made a handsome picture in her maid of honor robes. Miss Anna Ditchburn wore a white satin, creation trimmed with pearls, a handsome Irish lace coat and black tulle picture hat. The ensemble was extremely chic. Mrs. B. F. Walker was in heliotrope silk, while Mrs. Rigler wore pale lavender marquisette. Following the ceremony, a very informal reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rigler, on Willamette Heights, when the bride and groom were hidden. Pink roses were used generously throughout the house. In the cutting of the wedding cake, the thimble went to John Latourette, the button to Miss Eleanor Rothermel, the ring to Miss Anna Ditchburn and the wishbone to Miss Wilma Pisk. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Gladys Lang. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left last night for a honeymoon trip. After the middle of July they will be installed in their new bungalow near the Waverly Golf club.

SUMMER OUTFITS

In contrast to the elaborate preparations made for a summer outing by her city cousin, the following communication from a woman, who lives on a farm in eastern Oregon, is interesting, as well as illuminating for the common sense therein displayed:

"A form of outfit in which people of the country often indulge is a fishing trip, or a jaunt to the mountains after berries, thus combining a great deal of pleasure with a small amount of profit. If several neighboring families who are congenial spirits, club together, and if the trip is planned with an eye to comfort, a great deal of enjoyment may be derived from this simple vacation.

"First, a week or so before you plan to start, make a list of things necessary to take, eliminating all that are not positive necessities for one always finds enough baggage that cannot be gotten along without. If you do not intend to stay more than a few days a tent will not be especially needed, still it is not a bad plan to have one along, for rains come sometimes very unexpectedly.

"A small sheetiron stove should be first on the list. A frying pan, kettle, coffee pot, and baking pan will be sufficient cooking vessels. A granite plecter, cup knife, fork and spoon for each person with a few small granite pans to serve for dishes, water pail and dipper, one or two large granite or tins for dishing up will be all that is needed in this line. With the exception of the stove these can all be furnished from the kitchen, but if everything must be purchased, a list of things to buy is as follows:

Commenement week, with its festivities, is in order at the University of Oregon this week. On Wednesday evening there will be a reception and dance in the gymnasium. The patronesses are Mrs. R. S. Bean of Portland, Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dr. Luella Clay Carson of Mills college, Mrs. S. H. Friend, Mrs. F. G. Hendricks, Mrs. H. F. McCormack, Mrs. C. A. Hardy and Mrs. Irving M. Glenn. Among some of the parents, friends and alumni at the various fraternities to spend commencement week are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Oberbauer of Portland, Miss Frances Nelson of Albany, Miss Adele Gott of Hood

Heard as They Pass

"YES, he has been gone several days, but I got a letter from him every day. Today he signed it, 'Yours until Portland wins the pennant.' That means he is mine forever."

"Funny, how everything disagreeable is good for you. I can't bear butter-milk, and now they say the only way to live to be a hundred is to drink nothing else."

"The dearest baby in the world gets to be something of a bore when he insists on howling at 3 o'clock in the morning."

"Well, I for one wish it would never get warm. I haven't had a freckle this year, and usually my nose is covered with them by this time."

"Did you read how that college professor down in New York wrote all that lovely, sentimental poetry to his girl? Now, I never supposed college professors had so much soul, did you?"

of Portland, and Professor H. L. Bates of Forest Grove.

Miss Gaeta Ivorda Vold gave a lavender luncheon yesterday in her East Taylor street home, complimentary to her bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Kelly of Oregon City, Miss Alice Mulford, Miss Lealey Smith, and the Misses Cora and Clara Vold. Canterbury bells, with an artistic arrangement of lavender tulle and lavender shaded daisies decorated the table. Little silver Crafts pins, set with amethyst, were gifts to the bridesmaids. Miss Mildred Armstrong, Miss Claire Oakes, Miss Helen Barber and Miss Madeline Walker of Salem served.

The wedding of Miss Petronella Connolly and Elbert C. Peets was a very quiet and simple one, only the intimate friends of the family being bidden. The marriage service was read at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Connolly, on East Nineteenth street, Father O'Hara officiating. Pink roses decorated the house. There were no attendants. The bride

"REAL" HOME WAS NEVER ANYTHING LIKE STAGE AND SPOTLIGHT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal, Tacoma, Wash., June 21.—Friends of Margaret Allington Frohman Bowes, the actress, who a year ago secured a divorce from Daniel Frohman, that she might marry E. J. Bowes, the local capitalist, and settle down to "have a home and babies and darn stockings," are shocked at her early decision to return to the stage, as announced in a New York dispatch today. Even the closest friends here and the business associates of Bowes declare they did not suspect the return to the stage of Mrs. Bowes, although she recently admitted to one of her intimate friends that the fascination of stage life kept calling her back.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowes are out of the city, and are supposed to be in the east. Manager Herald of the Tacoma theatre said today that he had received no word from the actress, but that he would give her free use of the theatre to rehearse and prepare her new play for presentation.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING AT SPOKANE BURNED

Spokane, Wash., June 21.—Fire gutted the South Central high school building early this morning, causing a loss of $250,000. Only $20,000 insurance was carried. The fire started in some rubbish in the basement and gained rapid headway before discovered. The building was erected in 1890, and was one of the largest school structures in the northwest.
