

WORTHY PIONEERS REGISTERED

Large Number of Old Settlers Arrive for Reunion That Recalls Stirring Events of Early Days.

More than 1000 pioneers of Oregon have already registered their names at the headquarters of the Oregon Pioneer Association in the rooms of the Historical society on the fourth floor of the city hall, and many more are expected to arrive this afternoon to attend the musical program, banquet and "camp fire" to be held Wednesday.

The program for Wednesday will consist of literary and musical exercises at the Masonic Temple at 2 p. m. This meeting will be for pioneers only. At 4 o'clock the women's auxiliary will serve a banquet at the Armory, and in the evening a business meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple, followed by the annual camp fire.

All pioneers are requested to be at the Masonic Temple from 1 to 2 o'clock, where they will be welcomed by Grand Marshal Joseph Buchtel, ex-Governor E. F. Moody, ex-Governor T. T. Geer, Honorable M. C. George, Honorable Richard Williams, Judge William Gallows, Judge J. C. Moreland, J. C. Carson, James F. Failing, E. J. Jeffrey, H. L. Pitcock, George Harding, N. L. Curry, M. H. Bird, H. W. Prettyman and Penumbra Kelly, assisted by Mrs. T. T. Geer, Mrs. O. N. Denny, Mrs. G. L. Hubbard, Mrs. J. C. Moreland, Mrs. Josie D. Johnson and Mrs. Lillian Curry.

After the meeting the pioneers will be given a half hour's ride about the city by Portland automobile owners. E. Henry Wemme, who has taken charge of the automobile feature of the reunion, requests all owners of automobiles who can spare their machines to have them at the Masonic Temple at 2:15 tomorrow. The pioneers will be taken to the principal places of interest in the city and returned to the Armory in time for the banquet. At the Armory the pioneers will be received by the women's reception committee and places will be assigned for the banquet.

Camp Fire a Feature. After the business meeting at the Masonic Temple the pioneers will hold their annual "camp fire," which is always one of the big features of the reunion. One of the features of the meeting will be five minutes talks by pioneers, such as a Chinook chief, and a solo in Chinook by Cyrus H. Walker, 1858. Many of the old time fiddlers will be present and such beloved old time tunes as "The Arkansas Traveler," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Money Maker," and "Pop Goes the Weasel" will be played again by the premier fiddlers of 50 and 60 years ago. Among those who will delight the audience with their old time strains are: Mrs. J. Anderson, 1847; George C. Rider, 1852; N. L. Curry, 1851; and Henry M. Jackson, 1852. The "camp fire" meeting (Klonshe-tum-tum-hi-yu-wa-wa, Hy-as-ah-ku-tu-ll-ll-ll) will be open to everyone, and the pioneers have extended a cordial invitation to all.

Cyrus A. Walker, Oregon, who is in attendance at the reunion of the pioneers has the distinction of being the oldest living white man born west of the Rocky mountains. Mr. Walker was born at Whitman's mission, near Walla Walla, Wash., December 1, 1828. Mr. Walker's parents journeyed across the plains early in that year, and camped, and afterwards made their home at the mission founded by Whitman. In his younger days Walker attended the first school established in that section of the country, and which is now called Whitman college. "At that time there were very few white children in the territory," said Mr. Walker this morning. "Our principal pleasure was in running races with the Indian boys who lived around the mission. I can remember that every boy in school was able to speak the Chinook jargon which was originated by the traders of the time of Lewis and Clark. This jargon is nothing more than a combination of French and Indian, with a few English words thrown in. This language owes its origin to the traders who could not understand the many different languages spoken by the Indians. On Wednesday evening I am to sing a song in this jargon, and I can safely say that every pioneer will understand all or part of the selection."

Mr. Walker served in the Cayuse war as first lieutenant of company B, Oregon volunteers, infantry. The sword carried by Mr. Walker in the Indian wars is on exhibition at the Historical society rooms in the City Hall. "You can put me down as a prohibitionist and an insurgent," said Mr. Walker.

"The records of the Historical society show that Mrs. Eliza Spaulding Warren is the oldest living white person born in Oregon. Mrs. Warren's parents came across the plains with Dr. Whitman in 1828. Mrs. Warren was born at Lapwai, September 15, 1827. She is now living near Lake Chelan in eastern Washington. Of the number of pioneers in Oregon before 1842, the following are now living: Mrs. Eliza Spaulding Warren, Cyrus H. Walker, Mrs. Wiley Edwards, Abigail B. Karr, Mrs. Caroline Gray Kamm, Mrs. Maria Campbell Smith, Edwin Ellis and George Phelps Holman.

John Minto of Salem, father of Honorable John Minto, former postmaster of this city, and J. C. Nelson of Newberg, two of the oldest pioneers in attendance at the reunion, came to Oregon in 1844 with the Gilliam train. Mr. Minto contented upon the reception before 1842, done Roosevelt upon his arrival in America after his successful hunting trip in the wilds of Africa. "Roosevelt could not have found the game in Africa that could have been seen on the plains of the forties," he said. "When the Gilliam train passed through some of the valleys in the west in 1844 it would be a conservative estimate to say that we could see tens of thousands of buffaloes feeding in the river bottoms. To those who are not familiar with the situation this would appear to be a fable."

"Yes, I should not be afraid to make the estimate that high, if not higher, but it is different today," said Nelson. "Where there were tens of thousands of buffaloes, there are but few today, and they are kept in the different parks."

Mr. Minto brought to the rooms of the Oregon Historical society a slip of a rose bush that had been planted in 1845 by the Hudson Bay company. This rose is one of the interesting sights of the reunion. Mr. Nelson related a number of instances, telling of the sports of the young people of his day.

"We didn't have any baseball games in the forties, nor roller skating, football or tennis, but we did ride the wild horses, which was exciting enough, and I imagine just as rough as the present football game," he said. "I can remember when we thought nothing of riding over 30 miles to singing school, which used to be one of the important amusements of that day. It is good to meet the old friends again and talk over the times we used to have when Portland was in its infancy. The halls of the fourth floor of the city hall have met crowded with pioneers who have met old friends and talked over the times when they were young."

Mr. Holman has recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe and the eastern states. "The growth of Portland is remarkable, considering the fact that 30 years ago there was nothing but a forest on both sides of the river. Though we believed that Portland would be a great business center, we never realized until now how much Portland could expand."

RILEY CASE

Injured Wife Tells Weird Tale of Domestic Infelicity on Part of Husband.

Five new suits for divorce appeared in the circuit court today, and in all of them the wives are the plaintiffs. Heading the unhappy list is Mrs. Rose Riley, wife of Captain W. J. Riley, who went with the police to a room in the Drexel hotel on the night of June 14 and there found the captain with his affiant, Miss Mary F. Williams.

In an affidavit filed with her complaint Mrs. Riley says she has seen her husband in the street with his daughter, and in the discomfiture at the Drexel and sneered at his wife. She asks for $50 per month temporary alimony, $500 attorney fees, and an equitable share of her husband's property, worth, it is alleged, $50,000.

Played Detective. Mrs. Riley's complaint shows she played the part of sleuth after she suspected her husband was unfaithful. One night, she says, she stood on the street in front of the Belmont apartments, where Miss Williams resided, and saw her husband and his affiant hug and kiss for five minutes before Captain Riley took his departure. He passed his wife on the street soon after, she says.

Mrs. Riley gives a detailed story of her husband's movements on the nights of June 8, 9, 12, 13 and 14. Several of these times, she says, he told her he was going to lodge, but the history of his footsteps shows he usually wound up at the apartments of the affiant.

The wife further charges her husband with beating her repeatedly, although they were married only last October. She says she boasted to her of the other woman and bragged that he could not be punished.

Another Naughty Husband. Mrs. Mary J. Luce says Frank C. Luce cursed and reviled her and deserted her last March. They were married in John Day, Ore., in 1907. She wants custody of their child.

Mrs. Cella Surki alleges Joseph Surki has an affiant, named Freda Wise. She also charges that her husband deserted her three times and stayed away from three to 14 months each time. They were married in New York in 1892.

On charges of desertion, Virgie E. Baird is suing for separation from F. R. Baird and Jennie Langford from Joseph B. Langford. Mrs. Baird, who lived nearly three years with her husband in the circuit prison, was married to Mosely. The Langfords separated in 1909, having lived together only 11 months.

ents came across the plains with Dr. Whitman in 1828. Mrs. Warren was born at Lapwai, September 15, 1827. She is now living near Lake Chelan in eastern Washington. Of the number of pioneers in Oregon before 1842, the following are now living: Mrs. Eliza Spaulding Warren, Cyrus H. Walker, Mrs. Wiley Edwards, Abigail B. Karr, Mrs. Caroline Gray Kamm, Mrs. Maria Campbell Smith, Edwin Ellis and George Phelps Holman.

John Minto of Salem, father of Honorable John Minto, former postmaster of this city, and J. C. Nelson of Newberg, two of the oldest pioneers in attendance at the reunion, came to Oregon in 1844 with the Gilliam train. Mr. Minto contented upon the reception before 1842, done Roosevelt upon his arrival in America after his successful hunting trip in the wilds of Africa.

"Roosevelt could not have found the game in Africa that could have been seen on the plains of the forties," he said. "When the Gilliam train passed through some of the valleys in the west in 1844 it would be a conservative estimate to say that we could see tens of thousands of buffaloes feeding in the river bottoms. To those who are not familiar with the situation this would appear to be a fable."

"Yes, I should not be afraid to make the estimate that high, if not higher, but it is different today," said Nelson. "Where there were tens of thousands of buffaloes, there are but few today, and they are kept in the different parks."

Mr. Minto brought to the rooms of the Oregon Historical society a slip of a rose bush that had been planted in 1845 by the Hudson Bay company. This rose is one of the interesting sights of the reunion. Mr. Nelson related a number of instances, telling of the sports of the young people of his day.

"We didn't have any baseball games in the forties, nor roller skating, football or tennis, but we did ride the wild horses, which was exciting enough, and I imagine just as rough as the present football game," he said. "I can remember when we thought nothing of riding over 30 miles to singing school, which used to be one of the important amusements of that day. It is good to meet the old friends again and talk over the times we used to have when Portland was in its infancy. The halls of the fourth floor of the city hall have met crowded with pioneers who have met old friends and talked over the times when they were young."

Mr. Holman has recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe and the eastern states. "The growth of Portland is remarkable, considering the fact that 30 years ago there was nothing but a forest on both sides of the river. Though we believed that Portland would be a great business center, we never realized until now how much Portland could expand."

GRAND LODGE OF PYTHIAN KNIGHTS SESSIONS HERE

Election of Grand Officers Is Scheduled for This Afternoon; Grand Vice Chancellor Yoran May Be Elevated.

The twenty-ninth annual convention of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, for the domain of Oregon met in Ivanhoe lodge rooms, at Eleventh and Alder streets, at 10 o'clock today, and will continue in the city throughout Wednesday and Thursday.

The following grand officers, all of whom are present, and over 200 delegates representing the 70 subordinate lodges in the state, make up the personnel of the convention: Frank Menefee, G. C.; D. E. Yoran, G. V. C.; George Schumacher, G. P.; L. R. Stinson, G. K. of R. & S.; J. W. Maloney, G. M. E.; J. H. Rosenberg, G. M. of A.; George W. Knight, G. I. G.; F. K. White, G. O. G. Supreme Representatives, W. L. Bradshaw and L. M. Curl are also in attendance.

The entire forenoon session was spent in conferring the grand lodge rank on the past chancellors of subordinate lodges in the domain. Immediately before adjournment at noon the committee on credentials reported that about 175 delegates were present, representing 49 lodges. Other arrivals are expected this afternoon which will swell the convention roster to above 200 members.

This afternoon the election of grand officers will take place. It is conceded that Grand Vice Chancellor D. E. Yoran will be elected to the grand chancellorship to succeed Frank Menefee, the retiring grand chancellor. This is in accordance with a custom of long standing, and there is no reason, say prominent members of the order, for departing from that usage.

Frank R. Stinson of Salem seems to have a clear field for vice grand chancellor, as he is the only avowed candidate, although the friends of A. L. Clark of Rainier and Frank S. Grant of Portland have mentioned their names in connection with that office.

L. R. Stinson, grand keeper of the records and seal, and J. W. Maloney, grand master of the exchequer, will both be unanimously reelected, according to present program.

W. W. Perry of this city, who for many years has served as assistant keeper of the records and seal at state conventions, was again appointed this morning by Grand Chancellor Menefee.

The annual report of L. R. Stinson, grand keeper of the records and seal, which was submitted at today's session, shows that Pythianism in the domain of Oregon has grown from a total membership in 1881 to 4127 at the close of the calendar year of 1909. The finances of the order, which are in excellent condition, as shown by the report, show that Pythianism in the domain of Oregon has grown from a total membership in 1881 to 4127 at the close of the calendar year of 1909.

The Knights of Khorrassan will hold a ceremonial session at Ivanhoe lodge tonight, at which a class of 100 candidates will take the degree. Following this session the D. O. K. K.'s will repair to the Commercial club, where an elaborate banquet will be served.

The opening session of the state convention of Pythian Sisters was held in Foresters' hall, beginning at 10 o'clock this morning. The following is a list of the principal grand officers of the grand lodge of Pythian Sisters: Past grand chief, Margaret Slocum of Union; grand chief, Virgie E. Baird of Coquille; grand senior, Mrs. Gertrude Portland; grand junior, Elizabeth Stinson of Salem.

Hillsboro and Portland temples of the Pythian Sisters will tonight exemplify the degree work of the order at Foresters' hall.

BANQUET GIVEN TO INDIAN WAR VETERANS

The Sons and Daughters of the Indian War Veterans gave a banquet at noon today at the White Temple, in Union street. The veterans had just crossed the O. W. P. tracks on Water street and had gathered headway for their run up the block when the front wheels left the track and the car started for the Portland-Top Company's place.

At 2 o'clock a program was given in the auditorium of the White Temple. Ex-Mayor Harry Lane made a few remarks to the veterans and solos were rendered by Frank Hennessy, Miss Clara Howell, and Miss Maile Foster. Mrs. Lizzie Woodard pleased the crowd with an excellent recitation. Mrs. Mary Quigley's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion.

PREACHER AWARDED DAMAGES BY JURY

For injuries to himself, damage to his buggy and the death of the horse he was driving, Rev. S. D. Briggs was awarded $122 by a jury in the circuit court against the Lloyd Automobile company. He and his little son were run down on the Base Line road on day last November. Arthur Mitchell driving the machine.

Top row, left to right—J. W. Maloney, grand master of exchequer; Frank Menefee, grand chancellor; Bottom row—L. R. Stinson, grand keeper of records and seal; W. L. Bradshaw, supreme representative.

QUEER PRANK BY ELECTRIC TRAIN

Portland streetcars do not often run amuck and climb buildings and do other startling stunts, but an O. W. P. transfer car did that very thing a little after 10 o'clock this morning.

The scene was on East Morrison and Water streets. A heavy car, with a passing wagon and, jamming between the rail and the guardrail, started things, and the car did the rest. This consisted of smashing the front out of the building occupied by the Portland Top company at 308 East Morrison, and scaring the wits out of the occupants of the building.

The Portland Top company is owned by Holbrook and Crains and occupies a storeroom in a frame building. The proprietors were talking to L. B. Titworth, a traveling salesman, a little after 10 o'clock, when a sudden noise caused the three men to look toward the street. They saw an O. W. P. transfer train of two cars charging straight at the front door of the place.

William Kreckman, one of the workmen, had a narrow escape from injury. He had been sitting at a stitching machine several feet from the front window. Just as the car hit the front of the building he had risen from his place and gone to the other side of the room. His machine was struck by a long bench and jammed back against the wall. Had Kreckman been in his accustomed place he would have been crushed between his machine and the wall.

The damage to the building was slight, as the structure was old and the show windows were small.

The cars were in charge of Conductors C. Klinger and F. J. Fisher, and were driven by Motorman W. H. Battison. The heavy cars had just crossed the O. W. P. tracks on Water street and had gathered headway for their run up the block when the front wheels left the track and the car started for the Portland-Top Company's place.

Motorman Battison did what he could to stop his car, but the momentum of the two heavy vehicles smashed them into the building before they could be checked. The cars were scratched, but not damaged seriously. The accident blocked traffic on East Morrison for about half an hour.

HARMON CONSENTS TO BE INDORSED

Dayton, Ohio, June 21.—Governor Judson Harmon agreed today to allow a resolution to be passed by the convention indorsing him for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1912. The resolution will be presented to the convention.

BOURNE JUSTIFIES VALE APPOINTMENTS

Washington, June 21.—Senator Bourne today issued a statement giving reasons why he recommended Guild and Kester to be receiver and register of the land office at Vale. They are new men in Vale, but Bourne justifies recommending them on the ground that they would be more efficient if not tied up with local interests, being thereby more or less prejudiced. Kester was formerly clerk of Bourne's committee here.

HUMANE SOCIETY WANTS AMBULANCE

There is a movement on foot by the Oregon Humane society to raise $500 for an ambulance fund. The affair is in charge of Miss Lisette P. Harrison whose efforts have been untiring in behalf of humane affairs in the northwest.

Portland is the only city of prominence in the northwest that does not boast of an organized ambulance service for horses. Spokane has one, and Seattle supports two. In Los Angeles, there are several ambulances for this purpose, maintained by the Humane society, and it was through the enthusiasm of William Chamberlain, of the California society, who recently visited here, that the present project was started.

The idea is that horses, who fall upon the streets, or are otherwise injured, are not properly cared for under existing conditions. Even if a dray is at hand, it is impossible to lift the horse upon it, without much difficulty, and usually with unnecessary injury to the horse. It required a half hour to raise a fallen horse from the pavement to a dray in front of Coffman's Saturday.

The cause is apparently a worthy one, and already a number of prominent Portland business men have contributed generously toward the fund. Checks made payable to the Oregon Humane society, and addressed to Miss Lisette Harrison, Hotel Seaward, will be gratefully received. Among those who have interested themselves in the work are: Mayor Simon, $1; Jaeger Bros., $10; Julius Meier, $5; H. C. Wortman, $5; H. Weinhard Brewery, $25; Charles F. Adams, $5; Casp, $5.

DICKERSON KEEPS HANDS OFF FIGHT

Couldn't Stop It if He Wanted to—People Can Change Law if They Like.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 21.—Governor Denver A. Dickerson of Nevada will not interfere with the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The governor was here today, asked if he would take any action looking toward stopping the contest, he declared that he had no such intention. He intimated that the law would not permit him to interfere, even if he were so disposed, as it expressly provided for holding fights within certain restrictions.

Ogden, Utah, June 21.—Governor Dickerson of Nevada, who passed through here today, emphatically declared that he would not interfere with the Jeffries-Johnson fight. If it were held in Nevada as planned, the governor declared that no amount of protest by persons outside of Nevada would cause him to intervene to prevent the fight. He said that as long as the fighters complied with the Nevada law they would not be molested, and that if the law was not satisfactory to the people of Nevada it was in their power to change it.

Dickerson, who is on his way home from Ontario, Or., said: "I am without authority to stop the fight under the laws of Nevada, which license prize fighting. If there is any evidence of a frameup I shall certainly stop it. Tax Rickard is a friend of mine, and I know him to be on the square, and that he would not lend his name to a fake fight. Hence I do not see that the fight will be stopped if it is staged in Nevada."

Plums for Washington Men.

Washington, June 21.—President Taft today nominated Charles Deuk of Tacoma, Wash., to be second assistant commissioner of Indian affairs. The president also nominated William L. Lemmon to be postmaster at North Yakima, Wash.

OREGON TRUNK TO EXCEED RACK KIAMATH FALLS

Proceedings Against One Late Pence Fail to Produce Money. Dealings of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank with Life Pence and the Order of Washington are under minute scrutiny in the trial of Receiver Thomas C. Devlin's suit against the officers of the bank in Judge Gates' department of the circuit court.

In the Life Pence inquiry yesterday W. H. Fowler, an attorney, told how he had been able to collect only $4 on supplemental proceedings after obtaining a judgment for about $700 against Pence. United States Deputy District Attorney Walter H. Evans told of his futile efforts to collect from Pence for work done by various laborers on the Guild's lake scheme.

The attorneys for the defense, particularly C. W. Fulton and J. M. Long, objected to this testimony strenuously, saying the judgments were obtained long after the bank closed, and therefore could not show that Pence was financially unreliable at the time the bank deal with him. Fulton also sought to show that Pence was well regarded when he came here, and had not fallen into financial disrepute when the Oregon Trust took his notes. A. E. Clark, for the plaintiff, pointed out that this testimony was inadmissible to refute charges of the defense that Receiver Devlin has been negligent in collecting the assets of the bank.

Among the witnesses this morning in the investigation of the Order of Washington transactions were George W. Hayes, a lawyer of Harney county, and Dr. E. Tilzer, medical examiner for the order.

NAMES RECEIVER FOR TELEPHONE COMPANY

W. D. Tyler has been named receiver for the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company, which was yesterday declared insolvent by Judge R. S. Bean in federal court. Mr. Tyler's bond, in the sum of $10,000, provided by James M. Wood of the National Surety company, was recognized by Judge Bean this morning.

The Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company was named insolvent by petition of the Home Telephone company. The Home company claimed to have equipped the long distance company's line, and to have its notes in return, unpaid notes to the amount of $4,900. The outstanding obligations of the defunct concern are named at more than $1,250,000. It seems to be the plan of the Home Telephone company to merge the business of the two companies and continue it under one management.

INCORPORATE TO AID IN STUDY OF EASE

The Evolutionary Academy of Scientific Ease has been brought into existence by William H. Powell, Albert M. Newton, J. Baxter and August E. Lind, who have filed articles of incorporation for the new institution, with County Clerk Fields.

The betterment of mankind is the professed object of the founders. It is stated that the three first articles have given $100 to be devoted to establishing the new institution of learning in Portland, wherein shall be taught the principles of ease, with such departments of science, natural and technical museum, and apparatus for manual training as the trustees may determine. Another object is to diffuse practical knowledge of the art of chiropractic, particularly among the youth.

The exponents of the doctrine of ease do not enter into a full explanation of the kind and quality of ease, or whether they expect to teach the simplicity of work, but which will invite people to join, from which source the only revenue of the new academy is to be derived.

SCHOOL TEACHERS GET LAST OF ANNUAL SALARY

More than $70,000 was paid to 800 city school teachers this morning by the clerk of the board of education. It represents the last portion of their annual salary, as with the close of the school year they enter upon their summer vacation.

It was a scene of merriment mingled with sadness for the young women, as immediately after having received their check they parted, leaving for their homes in another city, many not to return here. Their vacation was besieged from early morning until late in the afternoon.

PETTY GRAFT PRACTISED BY PRIVATE SOLDIERS

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, July 17.—Petty graft was discovered today among certain mess attaches of the general hospital at the Presidio. Colonel Glennon says soldiers reported to him that at the hospital had meat and vegetables were served. Investigation shows that the mess attaches were authorized to purchase bought old meat and vegetables, charged up for prime stuff and pocketed the difference. No names have been made public but a court-martial is promised. The graft apparently is confined entirely to a small group at the hospital.

PORT ANGELES AND CLALLAM ARE WET

(United Press Leased Wire.) Port Angeles, Wash., June 21.—Completion of construction of a dam on election in Clallam county shows that Port Angeles and the entire county voted "wet." The result here was a decided victory for the liquor forces, who won 233 to 108. The vote was by a narrow majority in the county. Neah Bay cast 18 votes, all wet.

Miner Killed by Dynamite.

Angels Camp, Cal., June 21.—One foot and a few small parts of the body were all the corner had to conduct an inquest over in the case of John McMillen, a miner, who was blown to pieces when he stumbled and fell with an armful of dynamite. His foot happened to be found close to the scene and the coroner took charge of it and what few other pieces could be found. Searchers are looking today for other parts of the body within a radius of 100 yards of the spot where the miner fell.

Advertisement for Dr. Graves' Tooth Powder. Text: "Good Health Demands Good Teeth To keep your sound and white give them scrupulous daily care with a dentifrice that both polishes and preserves. Use Dr. Graves' Tooth Powder. Unequaled." Includes an image of the product box.

Advertisement for a Bold Holdup Game. Text: "FOUR YOUTHS ATTEMPT BOLD HOLDUP GAME. Four youths, somewhat under the influence of liquor, attempted to rob farmers, at 4 o'clock this morning near Anabel station on the Mount Scott car line. The young men who participated in the attempted robbery were Homer Warner, George E. Klund, W. H. Cook and Walter McKram. George E. Klund was fined $30 this morning by Judge Bennett. Walter McKram was sent to the detention home and the other three were fined $50 each. The officers who made the arrest were Sergeant Keller, Sheriff Stevens, Deputy Leonard and Officers Swanson and Litterland. When the young miscreants asked the two farmers to stop their horses they whipped them up instead, and the boys gave chase, but did not catch them. It apparently was a case of attempted robbery, but the culprits were too drunk to carry out their scheme."

Advertisement for a Banquet given to Indian War Veterans. Text: "The Sons and Daughters of the Indian War Veterans gave a banquet at noon today at the White Temple, in Union street. The veterans had just crossed the O. W. P. tracks on Water street and had gathered headway for their run up the block when the front wheels left the track and the car started for the Portland-Top Company's place. Motorman Battison did what he could to stop his car, but the momentum of the two heavy vehicles smashed them into the building before they could be checked. The cars were scratched, but not damaged seriously. The accident blocked traffic on East Morrison for about half an hour."

Advertisement for Dickerson Keeps Hands Off Fight. Text: "Couldn't Stop It if He Wanted to—People Can Change Law if They Like. Salt Lake City, Utah, June 21.—Governor Denver A. Dickerson of Nevada will not interfere with the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The governor was here today, asked if he would take any action looking toward stopping the contest, he declared that he had no such intention. He intimated that the law would not permit him to interfere, even if he were so disposed, as it expressly provided for holding fights within certain restrictions."

Advertisement for HARMON CONSENTS TO BE INDORSED. Text: "Dayton, Ohio, June 21.—Governor Judson Harmon agreed today to allow a resolution to be passed by the convention indorsing him for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1912. The resolution will be presented to the convention."

Advertisement for ELIXIR OF SENNA. Text: "TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS ALWAYS BUY THE GENUINE SYRUP OF FIGS AND ELIXIR OF SENNA. MANUFACTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS ONE SIZE ONLY, 50¢ A BOTTLE. Not in Milk Trust The Original and Genuine HORLICK'S MALTED MILK The Food-drink for All Ages. More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form. A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S. Others are imitations."