PAYS TRIBUTE TO OREGON COUNTRY

H. H. Carr, President of National Farmers' Assn., Is Pleased With Oregon.

H. H. Carr, president of the National Farmers' association, with headquarters in the Board of Trade at Chicago, is today paying Portland and Oregon a visit.

Mr. Carr has given his time to promoting the interests of the farmer, and especially the grain raising element.

The chief work done by the association is to help the farmer market his produce. This has been elaborately worked out in the grain raising districts by establishing company elevators and stores.

Mr. Carr has made an extensive tour of the Pacific coast, and is enthusiastic in his views of the wonderful possibilities afforded along the coast.

"The central west farmer should come to the coast," he said this morning. "First the farmer who has accumulated money can settle here with a few acres to occupy his time, and secondly, the young farmer just starting can find great chances. The coast agricultural districts are just beginning to bloom.

"There are no branches of the Farmers' association west of the Rocky mountains, but I have received sufficient encouragement to say that within a very short time there will be. The fruitgrowers of Oregon have invited me to speak to them on the subject of forming such a branch, and I shall meet them before returning home."

Mr. Carr is the guest of W. C. North of the assessor's office. They met last year while Mr. Carr was on a trip east. This morning the eastern man stepped into his office to look up his Portland friend, and was shown around the city hall and about the city.

F. W. Graham, western industrial and immigration agent of the Great Northern, is in Portland today to begin arranging the exhibit car which is to represent and advertise Oregon native products on a tour of the eastern and middle states next winter.

Mr. Graham was recently placed in charge of this work by President Louis W. Hill of the Great Northern, and during his stay in this city and the state Mr. Graham will have his headquarters in the offices of H. A. Jackson, assistant freight and passenger agent of the Great Northern.

The Great Northern has made arrangements to work in close harmony with the Chamber of Commerce, which is now busy installing an attractive permanent exhibit in its rooms in the Commercial Club building, and the expert who is putting up the Chamber's exhibit has been engaged to supervise the processing of the railroad company's specimens.

Mr. Graham will start on a tour of the state in a few days to gather specimens of fruit now in season and they will immediately be shipped to Portland to be preserved.

The intention is to have the Oregon exhibit car ready for its trip over the states by July after the last grains have been gathered.
