

IRRIGATION NEEDS OF STATE APPEAL TO ITS GOVERNOR

Executive Gives Notice of Appointment of Advisory Committee to Boost Big Delegation to the Congress.

Pueblo, Colo., July 8.—Governor F. W. Benson, of Oregon, has written Secretary Arthur Hooker, of the Eighteenth National Irrigation congress, saying: "I am directing a letter to each of the men I have named as your advisory committee for Oregon, informing him of his appointment and suggesting that the committee get together at an early date and perfect plans for an aggressive campaign in the hope of securing a large delegation from this state."

Governor Benson calls this advisory committee a "boosting committee," and heartily enters into the work of promoting the success of the eighteenth congress from an Oregon standpoint.

The members of this advisory committee, which Secretary Hooker has recently asked the governors of all states to appoint that the cooperation between the states and the congress organization may be close and effective, are: John H. Lewis, state engineer, Salem; W. H. Brooke, member of the legislature, Ontario; John T. Whitler, civil engineer, Portland; H. Beckwith, president Commercial club, Portland; E. C. Giltner, secretary chamber of commerce, Portland.

Oregon Appreciates Opportunity.
Oregon having had the honor heretofore of entertaining the National Irrigation congress, at Portland, the state and its energetic citizens appreciate the value to the state of active participation in the work and deliberations of the congress. No state in the extreme northwest has been more active or interested in following the work of preparation for the big Pueblo congress.

United States Senator George J. Chamberlain is honorary vice president of the congress for the state of Oregon.

ECHO BELT WILL HARVEST BANNER CROPS THIS YEAR

Stark gulch, has 800 acres of Turkey red and club that are expected to average around 18 bushels.

T. J. Hardin, who farms the old Prospect place, has one section sown to fall wheat that will average about 20 bushels, and another section of volunteer.

George Goodnight, a half section on the Stage Gulch road, seven miles out from Echo, sowed club and Dale, which are expected to run on the average of 30 bushels per acre.

New Variety Sown.
A new variety of wheat that resembles the bluestem has been sown on 200 acres by George Winder at his place eight miles out from town. The wheat was secured from the government several years ago, but this is the first time it has been planted on a somewhat extensive scale, so that a thorough test of its milling qualities can be secured. Mr. Winder likewise has 800 acres of Turkey red and club that will yield about 20 bushels per acre.

Mike Foster, nine miles out, has 900 acres of Dale and Turkey red that will average 18 bushels.

W. P. Benedict, 10 miles out, 400 acres, probably 15 bushels.

J. P. Reese, six miles from Echo, 800 acres of club and bluestem, 16 to 17 bushels.

W. B. and W. F. Staats have a section now to club and Dale that will average 18 bushels.

W. B. Galletta has 1200 acres of both spring and fall sowing that will average around 14 bushels.

Lack of Cultivation.
On the south side of the river the showing is not so good because of the lack of cultivation and the fact that the land is of more recent planting, but considering everything the showing is extremely good and is better than other seasons.

In this section A. Balcom has 700 acres of wheat and barley. The wheat will yield 18 bushels and the barley 25 bushels.

J. C. Williams has 450 acres of the same mixture that will yield a similar number of bushels, from present prospects.

O. P. Roberts, with his half section of club wheat, expects to secure a yield of 18 bushels.

This year's barley crop is expected to range from 15 to 20 bushels an acre in the Echo section. Most of the barley was sown in the fall and this will yield the greatest crop, while the showing of the spring sown will be about five bushels less per acre.

More spring wheat was sown in this section than for several years, owing to adverse sowing conditions during the fall months, which made the usual almost exclusive planting of fall wheat impossible. The total acreage, however, is greater than last season, and this is expected to make Echo one of the great primary shipping points in this section.

The harvesting of fall wheat is now going on and will soon be general. As the work of the combine progresses, the yields are shown to be better than first estimates.

No new wheat has been sold here because of the low prices in effect. Nothing over 55c is now being offered for the wheat crop.

Because of the excellence of the wheat growers believe they should get more money.

BEST PROSPECTS IN THREE YEARS IN MORROW COUNTY

By Hyman H. Cohen.

Heppner, Or., July 8.—Best prospects in three years is the present outlook for the wheat crop in the Ione and Heppner country.

The output of hay promises to be the heaviest ever in this section of the state. Not only is a very heavy yield in prospect, but indications are that the quality will be far above the average.

What was sown in the fall will produce from 15 to 20 bushels an acre in the section along the Heppner branch and in the Eight Mile and Black Horse country. While it is very likely that a number of fields will yield as high as 30 bushels an acre, the average for this section will scarcely run above 18 bushels, although some interests are prone to estimate it as high as 20 bushels.

The high figures are cut down by poor farming, and there never was a season where this character of work, or lack of it paid such nominal returns.

A very large percentage of this year's wheat acreage is what is commonly called "trubled." This is an attempt of the graingrowers to make their work lighter. Summer fallowed lands will harvest their heaviest output in this section, from present indications.

Dry Weather Affects.
Were all the wheat of Morrow planted during the past fall or winter, an entirely different story might be written of the crop prospects—but the outlook would be even better than at this time. As has been the case with other sections of the Pacific northwest this season, weather conditions during the period when fall seeding and other work should have been under full motion were so dry that operations were nigh impossible. Then came the very wet spell, which continued for an long period that operations in fall seeding were much curtailed as a result. More spring seeding followed.

In its hay crop—alfalfa, wheat and rye—Morrow county has complete satisfaction. Being largely a livestock country, all interests felt the pinch of a very small output during the past few seasons. Whenever livestock interests suffer, then the Heppner country mourns, for it was this industry that first gave Heppner its prominence.

Spring Wheat Underlain.
It has been again demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of all concerned that this section gets best results from fall sown grain, and therefore there was much disappointment early in the season when it became impossible to secure the results desired.

Just what the spring wheat crop will do this season it is too early to even make a guess. The heads are just forming and there's no telling what will happen between now and harvest. Spring wheat, however, in its present condition, is fully up to the average of former seasons, but, as has been heretofore stated, this is not a spring wheat country.

That great bugaboo of the wheat-grower—the hot winds of midsummer—always strike greater terror to the hearts of those who have spring grain than to sowers of fall wheat. It is when the wheat is just getting into the "dough" that the damage is done by the heat and the best of prospects can be ruined within a single day when the winds blow as from a furnace.

This should not be taken to indicate that the spring wheat crop of Morrow will not continue to meet the expectations of growers, because to date spring sown prospects are better than the average.

Rain Would Help.
Naturally a good rain would work wonders with the output of spring sown wheat, but fall wheat is too far advanced to take advantage of showers at this time, and there is always a chance of inflicting damage.

Down in the Lexington country William Stauffer has about 1300 acres of fall wheat that is estimated by various parties to yield from 15 to 20 bushels an acre, and Joe Eskalen, another prominent farmer of the same section, has expectations of the best crop in years. W. T. Campbell, still another of the big growers of Lexington, will have a very good output this season.

All of the growers south from Heppner to the Columbia river are very thankful for present prospects, for it is the first good outlook they have had for several seasons—and to give vent to a slang phrase, they need the money.

Over at Eight Mile, the prospects are similar to other sections of Morrow, inasmuch as this year's outlook is the best for a term of seasons. P. P. Vaughn with his 500 acres is expecting to harvest more than an average crop this season, and C. C. Jones of the same section with prospects to date, although more rains would have been quite welcome recently.

In the Hardman country similar conditions rule, and naturally there is cause for rejoicing after recent lean seasons.

Of the old crop there is very little wheat remaining unsold in the territory tributary to Heppner, although small lots are daily arriving in the city and are being sold at present low values.

The wheat is clean this season, and this alone is of considerable interest to the trade. No complaints of any kind have come from wheat growers. Last season much smut was shown, and this forced growers to sell at prices that were shaded from No. 1 values.

ROOSEVELT WOULD EXTEND WELCOME TO BOTH FACTIONS

It is believed that Roosevelt would extend a warm welcome to both factions of the Democratic party in Indiana.

The issue here this fall is the election of a legislature which will either return Beveridge or choose a Democratic successor to him. John W. Kern, the announced choice of the state Democratic convention for the senate, is looked upon as something of a chronic candidate, and is also said to be a close ally of Thomas Taggart, the erstwhile state boss, who has been practically unhorsed by Governor Marshall. Kern has repudiated this idea, and his statements will have weight added to them should Governor Marshall enter the lists in his behalf.

Indiana is undoubtedly in a state of political revolt. Even the regular Republican leaders admit this frankly. It is also said that a number of the old line Fairbanks organization men are out to knife Beveridge.

Whether the revolt will be capitalized by Beveridge under the insurgent banner or by Kern under the Democratic is a question admitted to hinge largely on the ability of Roosevelt as a political prestidigitator.

NO REASONS FOR EXCITEMENT OVER PICTURES OF FIGHT

consider what power lies within the province of any official to follow your suggestion. But if the law does not confer such power, I give you the solemn assurance that I shall not be exercised. I can see no reason to become excited.

VITAGRAPH GOVERNORS TO DISCUSS SHOWING OF FIGHT PICTURES
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, July 8.—A picture film that would please the public might be made if the man behind the camera would turn the crank when the governors of the American Vitagraph company meet in New York tomorrow to discuss the agitation against the display of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures. That the scene will be animated when the governors discuss the crusade against the exhibition and consider the enormous outlay they have made to obtain the films, is considered a surer bet than any that was laid at Reno.

The Vitagraph company, some of its officers announced before leaving for New York, will not attempt to oppose the law and it is already a certainty that the pictures will not be displayed in cities where the authorities have declared against them. The question the governors are expected to decide is whether they will show the pictures at all.

If the governors decide that public sentiment is against the films they will be stowed in the attic, together with a lot of other undesirable. Incidentally, if the pictures are discarded, a little item of about $200,000 will appear on the profit and loss account of the company's books.

Minneapolis Pictureless.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Minneapolis, July 8.—Mayor Haynes has notified the managers of local motion picture theatres that the display of pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will not be permitted.

Tallahassee, Fla., has only one labor union, that of the printers.
