

A. Mutt Does a Little Boxing With Jack Johnson--Very Little--By "Bud" Fisher

FLATTEN SEAMS ON SPHERE AND GATHER

Beavers Take Kindly to Willett While Tom Seaton Proves Puzzler.

Flattening the seams on the ball and grabbing everything that came their way, our oxygenated Beavers came back at the Vernon bunch and won a 3 to 0 game. "Tittering Tom" Seaton doing the shut out honors. Gus Fisher made the longest possible hit inside the boards, the ball rolling to the score board after eluding Jess Stovall, and the broad shouldered backstop hotfooted it clear around the circuit.

Roy Willett, the collegian, typhoid for the Beavers, and held the locals to four hits, but they were all of the hefty kind. Helling was the first to connect and he smashed the ball to right field for one base. Specs succeeded to help him on his way and after Seaton walked, Buddy Ryan, who has been doing some pinch hitting these days, detected a sort of alliteration between Willett and willow and he poked a sizzling two-bagger to center field that scored Gus. Buddy's tribbles just wouldn't behave and when he got caught between second and third, Seaton was forced off the last angle and captured at the home plate. Olson bunted down the third baseline but Willett prostrated himself after fielding the ball and Ryan scored while Olson reached first.

Fisher got a two-bagger in the fourth and was sacrificed to third by Casey, but Ort and Helling were out. In the sixth with two gone Fisher got his home run, making three for the home-ers.

Portland robbed Vernon of possible chances to score by three fast double plays, distributed through the second, third and ninth innings. In the seventh Vernon had two on and two out but Seaton caused Brown to sky to Olson.

GET $270,000 UNDER FALSEST PRETENSES

Views of Jack Grant and Dr. E. E. Loomis, as told in last night's Journal sport extra, combined with opinions that have been expressed by others who returned yesterday and today from Reno indicate that some $270,000 in cold coin was secured by false pretense.

Jack Grant says Johnson could have encased himself with a life sized barrel and then beaten Jeffries to a frazzle. Jack says it was evident that Johnson was cutting out his wicked punches to save Jeff unnecessary punishment and let the old fellow exhaust himself rather than knock him cold. Grant says he was surprised at Jeff's weakness, the big fellow having no more steam behind his punches than an invalid.

OLSON, RAPPS AND FISHER CATCH EYE

Scout Tom O'Brien, Visits Park in Interest of Connie Mack.

"Olson is a great minor league shortstop and Rapps is one of the most promising first basemen and Fisher one of the best catchers I have seen on this trip to the Pacific coast," said Tom O'Brien, the veteran major league scout, this morning, "but they are out of my reach."

Tom, who visited the coast two years ago as the official scout of the Cleveland club, is now bushwhacking for Connie Mack, the Philadelphia Athletic manager. Tom arrived in town yesterday and will leave tonight for Spokane, where he will look over the Northwestern players for a couple of weeks, after which he will travel eastward through Montana.

Classy Hitter Now.

"Of course, one can't tell what kind of a hitter Olson might be developed into, but he is a classy enough fielder for most any old league," remarked O'Brien. "He seems a little awkward, but I notice he gets the ball away fast and that is what counts. He also seems to handle himself well on the bases. Under some of the big league managers his batting might be improved a bit. But the trouble is this, there are plenty of finished fielders, but they can't bat. Take Blackburn of Chicago for example."

"I like the way Rapps comes in on bunts and his control of himself at all times. He seems to have his heart in the game all the time and that counts for a lot in a young player. He jakes a nice position at the plate and meets the ball nicely."

"Tenant of San Francisco is playing a corking game. They say he was troubled by ground balls last year, but he has overcome that difficulty and scoops up everything that comes his way. Being a left hander, also gives him a big advantage and he is hitting the ball hard, up near the 300 class, I understand. I saw him start a couple of beauty doubles last week."

"Fisher looks well at bat and showed me yesterday that he has a splendid arm. That throw to Rapps at first in the eighth inning was the hardest thing I've seen this trip. He meets the ball nicely, his strike being more of a chop than a swing, and his double and home run yesterday show that he has plenty of muscle."

"If I had my old job with Cleveland I'd grab that trio right now, but I guess I might just as well be on my way for Mr. McCracken. I tied up with the Naps that none of the other clubs has a chance at a player unless by draft, and that's mighty uncertain. Guess there's no use for me to stay here and watch Mack's pitchers, for I'd never get near any of them."

Tom will watch the game at Vaughn park again today and take a critical squint at some of the Vernon players.

Seals Break Losing Streak.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8.--The Seals finally broke their losing streak and beat the Angels in a 13 inning game. Claude Berry, the Seals' catcher, won the game when he stole home in the thirteenth inning. The Angels were ahead until the seventh inning, when Tozer weakened and the Seals scored five runs. Pete Daley, the Angels' center fielder, pulled a catch that prevented the Seals getting two runs.

Score: R. H. E. Los Angeles 6 13 4 San Francisco 7 16 1 Batteries--Tozer and Waring; Smith, Eastley, Stewart and Berry. Umpire--Van Halten.

Nelson Beats Hunt.

Oakland, Cal., July 8.--A pitcher's battle between Hunt and Nelson, with the latter coming out far the better, won yesterday's game for the Oaks from the Senators. The Oaks scored three runs in the second inning and the Senators gathered in one in the first and last innings. Score: R. H. E. Oakland 3 5 3 Sacramento 5 8 3 Batteries--Nelson and Mitze; Hunt and Lay Longe.

DICK BREEN, AN OLD PORTLANDER, SOLD TO CINCINNATIANS

Vancouver, B. C., July 8.--Dick Breen, the hard hitting third baseman of the Vancouver team, has been sold to Clark Griffiths of the Cincinnati Reds for $1500 cash, to be sent east at the end of the year. Breen played second last year for Portland's Coast and Northwest league teams and was sold to Brown at the opening of the present season.

Indians Win From Tigers.

Spokane, Wash., July 8.--The Spokane Indians defeated the Tigers in a featureless game yesterday by the score of 5 to 2. Jesse Baker held the Tigers safe until the seventh inning, when he weakened and the Tigers got four hits, which netted two runs. Butler was wild and the Tigers gave him poor support in the field. Score: R. H. E. Tacoma 2 3 4 Spokane 5 5 1 Batteries--Butler and Blankenship; Baker and Shea.

Adams Wins Game.

Vancouver, B. C., July 8.--Jimmy Adams won yesterday's game for the Turks from the Canucks when he slammed out a home run in the tenth inning. Jess, whom Dugdale sent to the Washington State league and later recalled, pitched good ball for the visitors. Score: R. H. E. Seattle 2 8 4 Vancouver 2 10 1 Batteries--Joos and Akin; Jensen and Lewis.

PORTLAND CHANCE IN JUNIORS GOOD

Local Oarsmen Appear Strong at Vancouver Rowing Regatta Today.

Vancouver, B. C., July 8.--The struggle in the junior four event in the big regatta, opening today, is conceded to lie between Portland and Vancouver. The James Bays from Victoria are not expected to be serious contenders in this event, the most important on the card for the opening day.

Vancouver has two crews in the junior fours but Portland will certainly beat No. 2, although No. 1 is expected to put up a very hard fight for the honors. The junior singles should bring out a mood-race between Gloss of Portland and Godfrey of Vancouver. Kennedy of the James Bays is also a strong man. The junior doubles will go to Portland, it is thought.

None of the visiting senior fours is conceded to have a chance against Vancouver in that event as the locals will have the same crew that won at Seattle last year. Should Portland take the junior fours they will enter the senior event but are not called to win.

Siemais of Vancouver should beat Allen of Portland in the intermediate singles but in the senior singles he will have a hard fight to win from E. O. Gloss, and the wise ones have the Portland man picked for the money.

One of the closest events of the regatta will be the senior doubles between Moore and E. O. Gloss of Portland and Tennant and Chaffer of Vancouver. It will be a toss up all the way.

The James Bays and Portland crews have entered all the events and the general competition is expected to be keen. Nelson, B. C., is not having any crews at the regatta this year. The events are to be rowed at Indian River park.
